Remain united forever to achieve national goal

At the heart of ensuring sovereignty of the State lies Union Spirit. It is, therefore, required of every citizen, whatever region he lives in the Union, to have a strong sense of Union Spirit.

In the course of the Myanmar history, the people remained cohesive and harmonious in the fight against a variety of alien threats, and the motherland stands tall as a sovereign nation in the international community.

All the national brethren are under a national duty to guard the nation, upholding Our Three Main National Causes namely non-disintegration of the Union, non-disintegration of national solidarity and perpetuation of sovereignty.

The government is in pursuance of the 12 objectives it has laid down to transform the mother country into a peaceful, modern and developed one. It has the Project for Progress of Border Areas and National Races, the Project for Development of Twenty-four Regions and the Rural Development Project on the go with the aim of bridging the development gap between one region and another and equitable development of all parts of the Union.

Now, the entire people are in a position to enjoy the fruits of the hard work the government has been exerting to improve all the infrastructures such as economic, transport, education and health across the nation in order to expedite the three long-term projects. That greatly impressive achievement is mainly due to the fact that the government, the people and the Tatmadaw work hard in harmony in carrying out nation-building tasks.

So, each and every citizen has to oppose all forms of subversive acts and join hands with the government to achieve the national goal of building a modern, developed democratic nation with flourishing discipline.

Evidences of bronze and iron ages discovered in Myaukle excavation research work

NAV Pyi Taw, 10 Sept—A field trip group comprising six officers and service personnel from Department of Archeology, National Museum and Library Department (North) Mandalay and Historical Research Department conducted excavation research work in Myaukle village, Mahlaing township, Mandalay Division from 10 June to 9 July.

Some foreign experts considered that Myanmar’s cultures did not develop in a normal way and that went on from stone age to iron age. Therefore, Nyaungkan (bronze age) region excavation in Budalin Township in 1998 filled the blank of bronze age culture in Myanmar history.

Myaukle excavation research group discovered 22 human skeletons and 44 bronze wares exclusive of 34 bronze spears including one spear with part of textile, 8 collections of copper wire, one bronze bracelet and one bronze bell in addition to four iron wares including three iron arms and an iron dagger, 153 colourful jewel beads, small earth pots, earth cups, cylinder shape earth cups and bones of animals.

These findings showed that a human society in bronze and iron periods existed for a long time in this region. Earth wares make it evident that there was the human society in late bronze age especially in iron age flourishing period because the evidences were very similar to those buried at the regions such as Ywahtin, Htonbo, Myohla, Ywahtin, Myaryawai, Uhrmin, etc.

Chavez visits Russia to discuss arms, energy deals

MOSCOW, 10 Sept — Venezuelan President Hugo Chavez praised Russian leader Vladimir Putin on Wednesday for standing up to the United States, kicking off a visit to Moscow that the Kremlin said will focus on major energy and military agreements.

Cooperation between Russia, the world’s No 2 oil exporter, and OPEC member Venezuela has been dismissed by the United States as mostly talk but is watched with concern by Colombia, which has stormy ties with its Latin American neighbour. Chavez began his visit with a 2 1/2 hour speech to Moscow students in which he berated the United States for seeking to control the world with a “terrorist” empire.

“The United States wants to dominate the entire world... The empire of the Yanks will fall this century and I am not talking about the end of the century but in the next decades,”

US to transfer fighter jet technology to Brazil for purchase deal

RIO DE JANEIRO, 10 Sept — The US administration has agreed to transfer the F-18 Super Hornet fighter jet technology to Brazil if the Brazilian government chooses to purchase US jets.

The US embassy in Brazil made the announcement on Wednesday, two days after the Brazilian government said it is in negotiations with France for the purchase of 36 fighter jets to renovate the Brazilian fleet. The main argument for choosing the French planes was the French government agrees to transfer the jet’s technology.

According to the US embassy, the US government thinks that Brazil has not yet finished its talks with France, and that the US proposal is competitive, so the Brazilian government might change its mind. Washington also agrees to let some of the jets be built in Brazil if its jets are chosen.

The US F-18 Super Hornet fighter jet is now competing with French Rafale jet and Sweden’s Gripenjet. According to the Brazilian government, the negotiations with France are very advanced, but it may still change its mind. The jets may cost four billion US dollars.

Fanatic hijacked Mexican plane after ‘revelation’

MEXICO CITY, 10 Sept — A Bolivian religious fanatic briefly hijacked a jetliner from the beach resort of Cancun as it landed in Mexico City on Wednesday, police said.

All passengers and the crew were released unharmed. The Bible-carrying hijacker used a juice can he said was a bomb to hold the 103 passengers and crew on the tarmac for more than an hour.

Masked police stormed the aircraft with guns drawn and escorted several handcuffed men away without firing a shot. Police later said there was only one hijacker, and the other men aboard were detained because the suspect had told a flight attendant he had three accomplices. The others were quickly released.

Flores hijacked Aeromexico Flight 576 after a divine revelation, according to Public Safety Secretary Genaro Garcia Luna. Flores said Wednesday’s date — 9-9-09 — is the satanic number 666 turned upside down. Flores, speaking to reporters after he was detained, said he took control of the aircraft with “a juice can... with some little lights I attached.”

Two die in Afghan raid to free seized reporter

KABUL, 10 Sept — British commandos freed a New York Times reporter on early Wednesday from Taleban captives who kidnapped him over the weekend in northern Afghanistan, but one of the commandos and a Times translator were killed in the rescue, officials said.

Israel reinitates settlement plan

JERUSALEM, 10 Sept — Israel says it is pushing ahead with delayed plans to build almost 500 more homes for Jewish settlers in Jerusalem. The project is for the Pisgat Zeev settlement in annexed East Jerusalem, captured by Israel in the 1967 war. The announcement comes two days after Israel said it would build 450 new homes for settlers in the West Bank.

The US has urged Israel to stop all settlement of occupied Palestinian land as part of efforts to re-start peace talks in the Middle East. The Palestinian leadership says any future agreement to freeze new building in settlements is now worthless.

Tenders were first issued for the Pisgat Zeev project in 2008, but it was put on ice when the authorities rejected bids from developers as too low. The land lies on Jerusalem’s north-east boundary close to Palestinian communities and Israel’s separation barrier.

Bomb kills at least eight in Iraq’s disputed Kirkuk

KIRKUK, 10 Sept — A car bomb killed eight members of a single family on Wednesday in Kirkuk, the city at the heart of a bitter feud between Iraq’s Arabs and minority Kurds.

The blast occurred near the home of an Arab leader of one of the pro-government local militia known as ‘Awakening’ councils, in the eastern part of the city, police said.

Major-General Jamal Taher Bakr, Kirkuk’s police chief, said a displaced family from Iraq’s Diyala province further south had been taking refuge in the house when it was hit.

The blast reduced to rubble at least one building, from which police and local residents pulled bodies after the blast. As distraught residents looked on, they wrapped corpses in bed sheets or mats and put them on the back of a pick-up truck. Police and hospital sources said at least two people were wounded in the attack in Kirkuk, Iraq’s northern oil hub, which lies 250 km (155 miles) north of Baghdad.

At least one woman and a child were among the dead, they said.

New businesses find life harder in crisis-hit Spain

MADRID, 10 Sept — With the financial crisis still battering Spain, it is becoming harder to start a new company in the country, studies published on Wednesday by the World Bank and the World Economic Forum show.

The country has slipped down 11 places to 62nd in the Doing Business league table, says a World Bank study, which aims to show the ease or difficulty of conducting business in 183 different countries.

This is not the only study which has highlighted the loss of competitiveness that the country is currently suffering in the economic crisis. Spain has also fallen four places, from 29th to 33rd, in the Global Competitiveness Report, which has been published by the World Economic Forum.

Japan’s machinery orders hit record lower in July

TOKYO, 10 Sept — Japan’s core private-sector machinery orders in July plunged 9.8 percent month-on-month to 664.7 billion yen (7.23 billion US dollars) on a seasonally adjusted basis, hitting the lowest level since record began in April 1987, the cabinet office said on Thursday. The decline of the orders, which exclude those for ships and from electric utilities, was attributed to weak demand from manufacturers.

Orders from manufacturers dived 20.4 percent to 223.7 billion yen (2.43 billion dollars), marking the first decline in three months. The statistics of the machinery orders, widely regarded as a key indicator of corporate capital spending about six months ahead, were produced on the basis of orders received by Japan’s 300 major machinery makers.

BEIJING, 10 Sept — China has announced plans to build 42 new high-speed railway lines over the next three years. In a breakthrough, China has developed trains that can run on both high-speed and normal lines, said railway official Zhang Shuguan.

A 500km/h train will be tested by the end of next year, Mr Zhang said. China will have added 13,000km of high-speed lines by 2012, shortening journey times considerably for the expected seven billion annual passengers.

Journey times from the capital Beijing to most provincial capitals will be as short as seven hours, said Mr Zhang, the Chief Engineer of the Chinese Academy of Railway Sciences. He revealed the plans at a science and technology conference in the city of Chongqing.

First Gulf Metro system to open

DUBAI 10 Sept — The first urban train network in the Gulf is due to open on Wednesday in Dubai.

The Dubai Metro will eventually become the world’s longest driverless train system with more than 70km (43 miles) of track.

It cost almost twice the original estimate and opens at a time when Dubai is suffering from economic troubles due to the global recession.

The metro’s challenge will be to persuade car drivers to get on board. The train system was conceived when traffic on the eight-lane Sheikh Zayed Highway, along which much of its track now runs, was bumper to bumper, morning and evening.

It was planned when the economy was booming and the population burgeoning. But, the opening of the first stations along 52km (32 miles) of the track comes when many of Dubai’s congestion problems have already been solved by the global economic crisis. Fewer tourists visiting and more migrant workers leaving, there is already less traffic on the roads.

OPEC maintains oil output quota

VIENNA, 10 Sept — The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) agreed here on Thursday to maintain its production quota for the time being. “Since the market remains oversupplied and given the downside risks associated with extremely fragile recovery, (OPEC) once again agreed to leave current production levels unchanged for the time being,” OPEC said in a statement after a general meeting among its 12 members.

The cartel’s current oil production quotas total 24.85 million barrels a day for its 11 members excluding Iraq. It was the third time for OPEC to keep the oil production level unchanged this year. OPEC Secretary General Abdalla Salem El-Badri said. He added that this was in the best interest of the consumer, the producer, the market and the global economy.

The OPEC Conference President for 2009, Angolan Minister of Petroleum Jose Maria Botelho de Vasconcelos, also commented on the decision by saying that the world economy was slowly recovering, and that the current oil prices were “on a good level.” Crude oil futures have recently been hovering around 70 US dollars a barrel. Over the past 14 months, international oil prices have experienced an unprecedented range of fluctuation. In early July 2008, they reached a record price of 140 US dollars a barrel. — Xinhua

BRUSSELS, 10 Sept — More than half of the web sites in Europe that sell electronic products mislead online consumers, a European Union official said on Wednesday. Consumer Commissioner Meglena Kuneva said that an investigation of 369 web sites selling electronic goods in 26 EU countries and Norway and Iceland indicated consumers were being badly misled.

The electronic goods market is worth about 7 billion euros (10.14 billion US dollar) in Europe. About 25 percent of Europe’s online consumers buy electronic products such as cameras and mobile phones. Fifty-five percent of the web sites investigated provided misleading information about consumer rights, total cost of the product, and incomplete contact details, she said. The investigation showed that 66 percent of the problematic websites did not provide key information or misled consumers. For instance, Kuneva said, consumers were not informed of their right to return goods within seven days without a reason. The second most common problem was misleading or incomplete information about the total cost of the transaction. That problem was found on 45 percent of the problematic web sites, the investigation found. — Xinhua

Half jewel heist taken from thieves?

One of the men involved in the biggest jewel robbery in British history has taken off with half the haul, gang sources say.

The Mirror, citing sources in the London underworld, reports the fugitive, nicknamed "Tim Slim but Dim," has to stay clear of the police and the man who organized the holdup at Graff Diamonds in fashionable Mayfair. He was described as a 52-year-old with ties to Russian mobsters. Two men held up Graff, making off with more than 40 million pounds ($65 million) in jewelry. The loot was in two bags, and the Mirror's sources said "Tim" has one of them.

"The gang have been betrayed by one of their own and the gang leader is furious," a source said. "He has told his crew the guy is bound to be hiding abroad and he is hissing his time to try to move on the jewelry and make millions."

The sources said the mastermind of the crime is angry because the Russian mob expects a cut and because he collects watches and had his eye on a diamond-encrusted Bulgari watch valued at close to $2 million.

Great white sharks tagged for first time off Mass

Massachusetts officials are using high-tech tags to track the movements of two great white sharks near Cape Cod — the first time the fearsome fish have ever been tagged in the Atlantic Ocean.

The electronic tags use satellite technology to record the travels of the sharks, allowing scientists to better understand their migratory patterns.

Sharks were spotted on Saturday by scientists investigating sightings off Monomoy Island in Chatham. Officials say a harpooner tagged them with help from a state shark expert.

State officials have warned area swimmers to be on the lookout for sharks this weekend, and state environmental police are patrolling the area as a precaution.

Pigeon transfers data faster than South Africa's TelkomPigeon

JOHANNESBURG, 10 Sept — A South African information technology company on Wednesday proved it was faster for them to transmit data with a carrier pigeon than to send it using Telkom, the country’s leading internet service provider.

Internet speed and connectivity in Africa’s largest economy are poor because of a bandwidth shortage. It is also expensive.

Local news agency SAPA reported the 11-month-old pigeon, Winston, took one hour and eight minutes to fly the 80 km (50 miles) from Unlimited IT’s offices near Pietermaritzburg to the coastal city of Durban with a data card was strapped to his leg.

Including down-loading, the transfer took two hours, six minutes and 57 seconds — the time it took for only four percent of the data to be transferred using a Telkom line.

I got up early on 8 September morning as I would have to go on an excursion to Laukkai. Despite the rainy season, Lashio was shrouded in mist in the morning as a sign of the run-up to the cold season. I felt fortunate to enjoy the dawn view of Lashio on the threshold to development due to stability and peace.

At daybreak, the team comprising ambassadors, military attaches and diplomats of foreign embassies in Yangon, members of the Myanmar Foreign Correspondents Club, chief editors and reporters from local journals, and departmental officials said goodbye to Lashio.

After we left Lashio, we first passed through Hsenwi, 32 miles from Lashio. The lake in the entrance to Hsenwi was found colonized by lotus flowers, thus adding to the beauty of the hilly town. Between Hsenwi and Kunlon is a mountain, and the section sometimes sees landslides in the rainy season. I noticed that the mountain road had been expanded. Many units of heavy machinery were at work to ensure regular stream of traffic as preparedness measures against possible landslides.

Lashio is 85 miles from Kunlon and the road between the two towns goes uphill and downhill in many sections. The highland crop plantations along the road and the creek between two mountains blended together, like a painting full of natural beauty.

The team stopped for a while in Kunlon, and then proceeded to Chinshwehaw at Myanmar-China border checkpoint in Laukkai District. Team members enjoyed the scene of Chinshwehaw from the car on the way to Laukkai.

Laukkai is 117 miles and seven furlongs from Lashio, and about 25 miles from Chinshwehaw. Along the road were thriving rubber and corn plantations.

Upon arrival at downtown Laukkai, I was amazed as well as delighted to see students with uniforms on their way to school. I thought that Laukkai would be somewhat quiet and deserted resulting from the recent incident. The objective conditions proved my speculation totally wrong.

A press conference on the recent incident that had occurred in Laukkai, Kokang Region, took place at the Baisheng Hotel in Laukkai, and members of the excursion team attended it.

After the press conference, we observed seized arms and ammunition, poppy seeds, drugs were seized; and Kokang headquarters (residence of Phon Kya Phu) in Si-aw Ward.

On a car trip around Laukkai, we witnessed that hotels, restaurants, mini-markets, personal goods shops and electronics shops were functioning as usual, and local people were in action and a large number of cars and motorcycles were on the road as if nothing had happened to them.

Laukkai, a border town, is in the process of urbanization with fine buildings, residences, roads, factories and workshops. Seasonal crops were grown at the foot of mountains and plateaus. The whole region was found pleasant and green with natural vegetation.

I was not content with enjoying the picturesque hilly town. Surely, it will be greatly thrilling if I am again favoured with a chance to pay a visit to the lovely border town which is on the path towards full urbanization.

Japan to launch new space freighter today

Tokyo, 10 Sept—Japan’s first-ever spacecraft to fly vital supplies to the International Space Station is poised to make its inaugural launch today. The H-2 Transfer Vehicle (HTV), a new unmanned spacecraft capable of hauling tons of food, experiments and other supplies to the space station, is slated to blast off at 1:01 p.m. EDT (1701 GMT) from Tanegashima Space Center in southern Japan. It will be 2:01 a.m. Local Time when Japan’s JAXA space agency launches the spacecraft on its maiden voyage.

“HTV-1 is opening up new horizons for JAXA’s undertaking of human spaceflight,” said Masazumi Miyake, deputy director of JAXA’s Houston office. “I like to say that JAXA is now entering a new era.”

The new HTV spacecraft is the latest in an international fleet of cargo ships to support the space station, which is the $100 billion product of 16 different countries and the largest structure ever built in space. Six astronauts currently live aboard: two Americans, two Russians, a Belgian and a Canadian.—INTERNET

Space shuttle may need to dodge debris on way home

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla, 10 Sept—NASA is considering whether the space shuttle Discovery needs to dodge a piece of space junk before heading for a scheduled landing back on Earth.

Mission Control says the debris apparently came off the linked shuttle and international space station during a spacewalk Saturday. Experts do not know what the piece is. The shuttle is scheduled to land Thursday evening but thunderstorms could keep it in orbit an extra day or two.

If Discovery skips Florida on Thursday, NASA will consider the backup touchdown site in California as early as Friday. Discovery spent more than a week at the space station. Returning astronaut Timothy Kopra lived there nearly two months, while Buzz Lightyear logged 15 months. The doll will head to Walt Disney World after the flight.—INTERNET

Australia considers sending women into combat

CANBERRA, 10 Sept—Australian women could serve in frontline combat units, including special forces, as the country’s military attempts to ease a recruiting crisis, the government said on Wednesday. Junior Defence Minister Greg Combet said all sections of the country’s small but advanced military should be open to women, including special forces units currently fighting Taliban insurgents in Afghanistan.

Australian women already serve in front-line roles flying helicopters and bombing aircraft, as well as on submarines and surface warships, but are excluded from front-line infantry units and special forces commandos. Removing gender restrictions would put Australia ahead of key allies including the United States and Britain in opening combat roles to females, and into line with several European countries, including Denmark and Germany, as well as Israel and New Zealand.

Iraq market bombs kill four, wound 29

BAGHDAD, 10 Sept—Two roadside bombs exploded in quick succession in a popular market south of Baghdad on Thursday, killing four people and wounding 29, Iraqi police said. The blasts struck the town of Mahmudiya, about 30 km (20 miles) south of Baghdad, which has been largely quiet for many months.

Mahmudiya was once in the heart of the so-called “Triangle of Death,” where radical Sunni and Shi’ite Islamist militants battled it out and settled sectarian scores in 2006 and 2007, killing hundreds of Iraqis. Violence has fallen sharply in Iraq since those days, but militants are still capable of carrying out frequent bombings.—INTERNET

Officials say truck bomb kills at least 19, injures 30 in northern Iraqi village

BAGHDAD, 10 Sept — A suicide truck bomber hit a residential area of a Kurdish village in northern Iraq before dawn Thursday, killing at least 19 people and injuring 30 others, officials said, in what appeared to be the latest in a string of ethnic attacks in the region.

No one immediately claimed responsibility for the bombing, but it bore the hallmarks of al-Qaida in Iraq and other Sunni insurgents who remain active in Mosul and surrounding areas.

A police officer and health official in Mosul said the bomb went off around 12:30 a.m. in the village of Wardek, about 35 miles southeast of the city — a region where U.S. commanders have warned that insurgents appear to be trying to stoke an Arab-Kurdish conflict.

The blast took down a number of houses and the casualty toll was expected to rise because many people are still missing in the rubble, the officials said. Local security forces intercepted a second suicide truck bomber, killing the driver and defusing the bomb before it could be detonated, they said.—INTERNET

Vical’s swine flu vaccine works in mice, rabbits

SAN DIEGO, 10 Sept—Biotechnology company Vical Inc. said Thursday its developing swine flu vaccine prompted “robust” immune responses in 100 percent of animals infected with distinct strains of the virus. Vical is developing its vaccine under an agreement with the U.S. Navy. It is currently working the U.S. Navy to secure funding in order to advance the vaccine candidate to human studies.

Shares rose 29 cents, or 5.7 percent, to $5.35 in morning trading. Earlier, shares reached $5.51, their highest point in more than two years.—INTERNET

The recent animal study results show the DNA-based vaccine prompted responses above the accepted protection threshold in mice and rabbits with strains from recent outbreaks in California, Texas, and Mexico.

New malaria ‘poses human threat’

KUALA LUMPUR, 10 Sept — An emerging new form of malaria poses a deadly threat to humans, research has shown. It had been thought the parasite Plasmodium knowlesi infected only monkeys. But it has recently been found to be widespread in humans in Malaysia, and the latest study confirms that it can kill if not treated quickly.

The work, by an international team, appears in the journal Clinical Infectious Diseases. Although the new form of the disease has so far been confined to Southeast Asia, researchers warn that tourism to the region could soon see cases appearing in Western countries too. Malaria kills more than a million people each year. It is caused by malaria parasites, which are injected into the bloodstream by infected mosquitoes.

NIH expands swine flu shot tests to pregnant women

WASHINGTON, 10 Sept—It’s time to test the new swine flu vaccine in pregnant women. Studies of adults and children are going so well that the National Institutes of Health announced Wednesday it is opening the research to 120 women in their second or third trimester of pregnancy.

The flu always is dangerous to pregnant women, and 6 percent of US swine flu deaths so far have been among pregnant women. The new swine flu vaccine is just a recipe change from the regular flu vaccine long given to pregnant women and thus shouldn’t cause new safety concerns. But the studies are key to learning what dose is required for protection.—Internet

Cosmic butterfly caught in the heavens

LONDON, 10 Sept—The refurbished Hubble space telescope has produced the sharpest photos yet of cosmic beauty, complete with heavenly glows. NASA yesterday unveiled the first deep-space photos taken by Hubble since its billion dollar repair mission earlier this year. That work included installing two new cameras, other science instruments and replacing broken parts.

The images of galaxies and nebulas including our top picture of a cosmic butterfly shaped nebula are sharper than previous photos taken of the same places by Hubble before the upgrade. Some of the colourful images have brilliant glows of light that give them halos that to some people can appear heavenly. Earlier this summer, Hubble took pictures of Jupiter when an asteroid or comet hit it.

Meanwhile, Hurricane Linda’s maximum sustained winds are near 80 mph (130 kph) but is expected to weaken Thursday night and Friday.—Internet
Oudin's magical US Open ends with loss in quarters

NEW YORK, 10 Sept — Maybe it was a little too much, a little too soon for Melanie Oudin.

The 17-year-old from Marietta, Ga, kept erasing her mistakes and raising her game levels in the second set, but too many unforced errors cost her the match.

Her gutsy play, aw-shucks approach and those pink-and-yellow sneakers with “BELIEVE” on the heels carried Oudin all the way to the quarterfinals at the American Grand Slam tournament. — Xinhua

Chinese taekwondo athlete Wu wins gold at National Games

HANGZHOU, 10 Sept — China's gold medal at the 11th Chinese National Games here on Wednesday, with 17-year-old Wu Liying making 10 consecutive kicks and winning the final with a straight-sets win before Argentina's Maradona, 4-0. She received a standing ovation from the cheering crowd.

The victory came after she successfully defended the champion Argentina in the semifinals, winning with 3-0. This was her third consecutive victory at the taekwondo arena.

Montevideo, 10 Sept — The chances of two-time World Cup champions Argentina failing to make the World Cup finals for the first time since 1970 shortened as they were beaten 1-0 by Paraguay in Assuncion, which saw the victors reach their eighth finals.

The defeat will irrevocably raise further questions over the stewardship of coach Diego Maradona — an Argentinian playing icon for his inspiring them to the 1986 trophy and to the 1990 final — as the Argentinians slipped to fifth in the table with just two matches remaining to seal one of the two remaining automatic qualifying places.

However, despite having individual talents on the pitch such as Lionel Messi, Maradona also either left out of the squad entirely or deigned not to put on the bench Lisandro Lopez, Esteban Cambiasso and Walter Samuel to name but three of several. — Internet

Olympic champion Wu Jingyu dominates national taekwondo arena

TEIZHOU, 10 Sept — Olympic champion Wu Jingyu easily won the women’s 49kg class taekwondo gold at the 11th Chinese National Games here on Wednesday.

Wu, also world champion in 2007, met few challenges during the one-day preliminary, quarterfinal and semifinal competitions. In the night’s top-sides final, Wu outscored Hebei’s Niu Xiaoxiao with an over-whelming 7-1 victory, giving her hometown Jiangxi province the first gold medal of the taekwondo event from 9 to 12 Sept.

With great explosive power and flexible body, the 1.66-metre-tall Wu scored the opening three points with a brilliant axe kick to the opponent’s head, cheering the hundreds of spectators into chaos.

In the second round, the confident Wu launched more aggressive attacks and added one more point by a side kick, then could nearly seal the victory after winning another direct three points. — Xinhua

China defeats Iran in Asian Women’s Volleyball Championship

HANOI, 10 Sept — China defeated Iran 3-0 here on Wednesday in the first match of the elite 1st-8th ranking round of the Asian women’s volleyball championship. In the first set, China quickly led the match in the first few minutes. Iran had to change players five times in an effort to improve their scores. However, this could not prevent China from winning the first set with 25-11.

In the second set, Iran showed their efforts to counter-attack China by taking two points first in the very early minutes. The team played better and followed Chinese players closely in scoring in the following minutes. — Xinhua

Federer to take on Djokovic in US Open semis

NEW YORK, 10 Sept — Roger Federer will play Novak Djokovic in the US Open semi-finals on Saturday, their third consecutive clash at Flushing Meadows after the final of the US Open 2007 and the semi-finals of last year. Top seed and defending champion Federer reached the last four for a record 22nd time in a Grand Slam tournament despite a stirring late show from Robin Soderling, winning 6-0, 6-3, 6-7 (6/8), 7-6 (8/6).

Fourth-seeded Djokovic won a dour, stamma-sapping encounter with Spain’s Fernando Verdasco 7-6(7), 6-7, 6-2 to reach the semi-finals for the third consecutive year. Federer, who is bidding to win a record-equalling sixth straight US Open title here, looked to be cruising toward a comfortable straight-sets win before Swede Soderling, with nothing to lose, opened his shoulders and blasted away with his huge forehand. — Internet

Italy on brink of qualification after Bulgaria win

TURIN, 10 Sept — Defending champions Italy took a huge step towards qualifying for next year’s World Cup with a 2-0 Group Eight victory over Bulgaria here on Wednesday.
