March towards the path of development preserving noble traditions

Today is the 62nd Anniversary Union Day. Our national races—Kachin, Kayah, Kayin, Chin, Bamar, Mon, Rakhine and Shan and other ethnic groups have been living in the land since time immemorial.

There exists unity and friendship as Myanmar has been a nation formed with the essence of a society based on families. The Union Spirit has forged in the minds of all the national races.

The country regained its independence and sovereignty after the national races had driven the imperialists and fascists out of the country with the strength of unity, noble traditions and patriotism. The younger generations are safeguarding the independence that our ancestors regained sacrificing their lives, blood and sweat.

Nowadays, the government is building a modern developed discipline-flourishing democratic nation with greater momentum after laying down the specific plans. This is why fruitful results have been achieved in political, economic, education, health and social sectors.

The government, the people and the Tatmadaw are striving for national development. At the same time, internal and external destructive elements are attempting to undermine peace and stability of the State in various ways. Therefore, the national races have to prevent such attempts through national solidarity.

All the national people have to march in unity on the path of peace and development in accord with the noble traditions that have existed for a long time so that there will be peace and prosperity in the whole country.

Senior General Than Shwe sends…

In conclusion, I would like to exhort the entire national people to work hard in harmony to be able to materialize the objectives of the 62nd Anniversary Union Day (2009):

- For all the national races to safeguard the national policy—non-disintegration of the Union, non-disintegration of national solidarity, and perpetuation of sovereignty
- For all the national races to keep Union Spirit ever alive and dynamic among the national people
- For all the national races to prevent, through national solidarity, the danger of internal and external destructive elements attempting to undermine peace and stability of the State and national development
- For all the national races to make endeavours for building of a new modern developed discipline-flourishing democratic nation in accordance with the State Constitution massively approved by the people
- For all the national races to make concerted efforts for successful implementation of the seven-step Road Map with firm determination and in harness to achieve the national goal of the emergence of a new peaceful, modern and developed nation.—MNA

Myanmar-Lao Township Border Committee meets

NAY PYI TAW, 11 Feb—A ceremony to open the first meeting of the Myanmar-Lao Township Border Committee was held in Tachileik, Shan State (East), on 8 February. Leaders of Myanmar-Lao Border Authorities at Central Level Deputy Minister for Foreign Affairs U Maung Myint of the Union of Myanmar and Deputy Minister of Foreign Affairs Mr Bounkeut Sangsomask of the Lao People’s Democratic Republic delivered speeches on the occasion. Also present on the occasion were Myanmar Ambassador to Lao PDR U Nyunt Hlaing, Lao Ambassador to Myanmar Mr Kously A Souphaket, the Chairmen of Myanmar-Lao Township Border Committee, officials from Ministry of Foreign Affairs, district and township level officials from local Administration, Immigration, Customs and border trade. The two delegations led by Chairmen of Myanmar-Lao Township Border Committee exchanged views on the matters relating to security along the border, promoting border trade and exchange of visits among local people.—MNA

Dr Reddy’s gift for MMA

YANGON, 11 Feb—Dr. Reddy’s Pharmaceutical Company based in the Republic of India donated medicines to the Myanmar Medical Association (Internal Medicine Society) for the 11th time at the Parkroyal Hotel here yesterday. It was attended by members of the MMA and officials of the Indian company.

Country Manager Mr S. Kumar of the Dr. Reddy’s Pharmaceutical Company explained the purpose of donation, saying that the company had been donating medicines to MMA annually since the 10th anniversary of its exporting Stamlo (Amlodipine 5mg & 10mg) to Myanmar. The country manager presented the donation worth K 2.3 million through Chairman of the MMA Professor U Chit Soe, who then expressed thanks.

Support for US operations in Afghanistan declining
WASHINGTON, 11 Feb—The support for US operations in Afghanistan is declining, with air strikes being a chief concern, according to a poll conducted by ABC News. A quarter of the Afghans polled said that attacks on American or allied forces are justifiable, double the proportion saying so in late 2006.

The poll, the fourth conducted in Afghanistan since 2005 by ABC News and its media partners, also shows plummeting support for President Hamid Karzai and the Afghan Government. The poll also pointed a sharp decline in the proportion of Afghans who think the nation is heading in the right direction, the Washington Post reported. The proportion of Afghans rating their security positively dipped to 55 percent, from 72 percent in 2005. Seventy percent of those who said the nation is on the wrong track cited security as a central concern, according to a poll conducted by ABC News.

US military deaths in Afghanistan region at 576
WASHINGTON, 11 Feb—As of Tuesday, 10 Feb, 2009, at least 576 members of the US military had died in Afghanistan, Pakistan and Uzbekistan as a result of the US invasion of Afghanistan in late 2001, according to the Defence Department. The department last updated its figures Tuesday at 10 am EST. Of those, the military reports 421 were killed by hostile action.

Outside the Afghan region, the Defence Department reports 67 more members of the US military died in support of Operation Enduring Freedom. Of those, three were the result of hostile action. The military lists these other locations as Guantanamo Bay Naval Base, Cuba; Djibouti; Eritrea; Ethiopia; Jordan; Kenya; Kyrgyzstan; Philippines; Seychelles; Sudan; Tajikistan; Turkey; and Yemen.

Southern Israel hit by Gazan rocket
JERUSALEM, 11 Feb—Southern Israel was hit by a rocket fired from the Gaza Strip on Tuesday night, just minutes before the Israeli general election ends, local daily Ha'aretz reported. The rocket landed in an open field near the southern city of Sderot, a target of frequent rocket fire during the past years, causing no damage or casualties, said the report.

If confirmed, the rocket is the first on Israel's election day when millions of Israelis went to vote to determine the next parliament and premiership.

Two soldiers killed in Afghan bomb attack
KABUL, 11 Feb—A bomb struck a NATO convoy in eastern Afghanistan on Tuesday, killing two soldiers and wounding one, a spokesman for the alliance said. Police spokesman Waizir Pacha said the attack in Khost Province was carried out by a suicide bomber in a vehicle.

But the NATO spokesman blamed the attack on a roadside bomb. The majority of NATO troops in Khost, which border Pakistan, are American, though the spokesman for NATO's International Security Assistance Force would not confirm the troops' nationalities. Taliban bomb attacks have risen sharply over the last three years as the militant force has intensified its insurgency campaign against US and NATO troops.

Ecuador’s President accuses expelled US diplomat of taking sensitive information
QUITO, 11 Feb—Ecuadorian President Rafael Correa on Tuesday accused US diplomat Armando Astorga, who was recently expelled, of taking sensitive information out of the country and announced an investigation into the matter.

Correa ordered Astorga to be expelled Saturday following the diplomat’s announcement of the suspension of 340,000 US dollars in annual aid to Ecuador’s anti-smuggling police in early January, allegedly because the US embassy was denied a say in appointments to the unit.

However, Astorga had already left Quito in January as part of a normal diplomatic rotation. Correa said when leaving the country, Astorga had taken “equipment, computers and information belonging to the Ecuadorian State.”

US dominance over Iraq has ended
BAGHDAD, 11 Feb—Prime Minister Nouri al-Maliki said on Tuesday that the era of US dominance in Iraq was over, in a broadside to Washington almost six years after the invasion that ousted Saddam Hussein.

The Shiite premier, boosted by the strong showing of his allies in provincial elections, said Iraq was now taking charge of its own destiny and was making good progress towards rebuilding the war-torn country. His remarks were a pointed rebuke to US Vice President Joe Biden, who last week said Washington would have to be “more aggressive” in pushing Baghdad towards faster political reform.

“The time for putting pressure on Iraq is over,” Maliki told reporters when asked about Biden’s comments.

“The Iraqi government knows what are its responsibilities. We are carrying out reform and we are in the last step of the reconciliation.”

Biden said the 31 Januray provincial elections—in which Maliki’s allies triumphed—had shown that progress was being made, but more needed to be done as Iraq’s leaders had not “gotten their political arrangements together yet.”
Chinese, Saudi Arabian leaders pledge to deepen ties, jointly tackle financial crisis

RIYADH, 11 Feb — China and Saudi Arabia on Tuesday vowed to deepen their strategic friendly ties, work together to tackle the global financial crisis and strengthen coordination in international and regional affairs.

The pledge came during the talks between Chilean President Michelle Bachelet and her Saudi counterpart Manuel Zelaya.

Bachelet said that a successful answer to the world's financial crisis depends on our ability to work together.

She also said there has been improvement in social conditions compared with previous times.

“China-Saudi Arabia ties have developed rapidly and reached an all-time high since the heads of states exchanged their visits in 2006,” Hu told King Abdullah.

Hu last traveled to Saudi Arabia in April 2006, three months after King Abdullah paid a historic visit to Beijing. The king’s visit was the first by a Saudi head of state to China since the two countries established diplomatic relations in 1990.

Hu said China values the important role Saudi Arabia has played in safeguarding regional peace and stability and ensuring international energy security.

China has always dealt with its relations with Saudi Arabia from a strategic point of view, he said.

“The international situation is undergoing complicated and profound changes. In particular, the global financial crisis has posed severe challenges to us,” Hu said.

South Africa targets 10 million tourists in 2010

LAGOS, 11 Feb — Organizers of the 2010 World Cup in South Africa have set a target of 10 million tourists visiting the country during and after the championship, reported the News Agency of Nigeria.

Danny Jordaan, Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of the 2010 World Cup, told members of the Nigeria/South Africa Chamber of Commerce at a breakfast meeting in Lagos on Tuesday that 55,000 hotel rooms in various parts of the country were available for the visitors.

Wal-Mart to cut 700 to 800 jobs at Arkansas headquarters

HOUSTON, 11 Feb — Walmart Stores will cut 700 to 800 jobs at its northwestern Arkansas headquarters in an effort to reduce costs, the world’s largest retailer announced on Tuesday.

The cuts are in the real estate, apparel and health and wellness departments, spokesman David Tovar said. He said the cuts will also include marketing and support administration jobs.

Walmart currently has no plans to eliminate store level jobs, he said. Instead, it plans to add jobs at its New York apparel office and expects “to add thousands of positions” at Walmart stores and Sam’s Club warehouses this year.

“We still plan to open between 125 and 140 new stores for which we plan to hire thousands of new associates,” Tovar said.

Last year, Walmart opened 166 new stores, leading to the cuts in the real estate unit.

“Obviously, we don’t need as many people to do the work to site a new store, to build a new store,” Tovar said.

The US retailing giant is one of a handful of merchants that posted sales gains in January, while most others suffered deep declines in the wake of global financial crisis.

Chinese President calls for unity in Latin America

MANAGUA, 11 Feb — Chilean President Michelle Bachelet on Tuesday called for the unity of Latin America in facing the world financial crisis.

According to reports from Tegucigalpa, Bachelet arrived in Honduras late on Monday for an official visit to sign agreements on trade, science, technology and the environment with her Honduran counterpart Manuel Zelaya.

“Our people are demanding answers convincing us, and the truth is that a successful answer to the crisis depends on our capacity to work together in the region,” Bachelet said.

The International Labour Organization estimates that 1.5 to 2.4 million jobs will be lost in Latin America due to the global financial crisis, which will affect economic growth in the region.

“In the last eight years we have had (in the region) important economic growth numbers,” Bachelet said.

She also said there has been improvement in social conditions compared with previous times.

“China-Saudi Arabia ties have developed rapidly and reached an all-time high since the heads of states exchanged their visits in 2006,” Hu told King Abdullah.

Hu last traveled to Saudi Arabia in April 2006, three months after King Abdullah paid a historic visit to Beijing. The king’s visit was the first by a Saudi head of state to China since the two countries established diplomatic relations in 1990.

Russia welcomes disarmament co-op with US

MOSCOW, 11 Feb— Russia welcomes the intention of United States President Barack Obama to cooperate in disarmament and other spheres, said a Kremlin spokesperson on Tuesday.

“The Kremlin responds positively to the latest comments of US administration members on the future of US-Russia relations,” said the spokesperson Natalia Timakova.

Russian President Dmitry Medvedev “is prepared for the most thorough joint work on the entire bilateral agenda, including disarmament,” Itar-Tass and Interfax quoted her as saying.

Obama vowed on Monday to prevent nuclear proliferation during his presidency and urged the United States and Russia to lead the way.

Netanyahu, Livni declare win in Israeli election

JERUSALEM, 11 Feb—Foreign Minister Tzipi Livni and hard-line rival Benjamin Netanyahu both claimed victory on Tuesday in Israel’s parliamentary election, but official results showed a race so close it could be decided by a third candidate — a rising power among the hawks.

Right-wing parties — including Netanyahu’s Likud Party — appear to have won a clear majority of 65 seats in the 120-seat parliament, which would give Netanyahu the upper hand in forming the next government.

However, with 99 percent of the votes counted, Livni’s centrist Kadima Party had 28 seats, while Likud had 27.

More troops not solution in Afghanistan

WASHINGTON, 11 Feb— Sending more troops to Afghanistan is not the answer to its problems and there has to be a greater emphasis on a political solution, Spain’s foreign minister said on Tuesday.

In Afghanistan, there is “a deficit on the political side and a surplus on the military side,” Miguel Angel Moratinos said, confirming that Madrid wouldn’t increase its 780-troop contingent there.

Spain’s troops serve alongside 70,000 from 40 countries under North Atlantic Treaty Organization auspices, with US forces the largest single contingent at 37,000.

Washington plans to deploy another 30,000 as it winds down operations in Iraq but their deployment is awaiting the green light from the White House which wants to get a better grip on overall strategy first. US defence officials said on Monday.

Sending more troops “is a bad solution. We need to have a global political vision and talk to all the local actors,” Moratinos told the foreign press, without specifying whether this included the Taliban.

Residents return to destroyed homes in Australia

KINGLAKE, 11 Feb—Residents of towns scorched off the map by Australia’s worst-ever wildfires on Wednesday returned to their homes for the first time and found scenes of utter devastation.

Police said they were looking into reports of suspicious people picking through the ruins of some destroyed houses, as rumors that looting was taking place in abandoned areas swirled.

“Where do you start? Where do you start?” said Peter Denson, standing blank-faced amid the ruins of his home in Kinglake, where at least 39 people were killed — and the town all but destroyed — in Saturday’s inferno.

Denson, a carpenter, has lived in Kinglake since 1977. He said he wants to rebuild, but his house, now a blackened pile of timber, bricks and twisted metal, was not insured because he could not afford it.

No talks without settlement freeze

JERUSALEM, 11 Feb— No matter who leads Israel’s new government, the Israelis will have to commit to a freeze on Jewish settlements in the West Bank before peace talks can resume, Palestinian officials said on Tuesday.

Tzipi Livni’s centrist Kadima Party had a one-seat edge on Benjamin Netanyahu’s hard-line Likud Party, 28 seats to 27, with 99 percent of the votes counted in Israel’s national election. But it wasn’t clear Livni would be able to put together a governing coalition, as right-wing parties appeared to have won a clear majority of 65 seats in the 120-seat parliament.

“Kadima winning doesn’t mean it will be able to form a government,” said Raziq Hussein, a senior aide to Palestinian President Mahmoud Abbas.

Netanyahu has said he would expand West Bank settlements. Livni, meanwhile, was Israel’s chief negotiator in a year of in-conclusive peace talks with the Palestinians that saw settlement construction continued and even accelerated under the outgoing Kadima-led government.

Abbas, whose administration has been confined to the West Bank since Hamas militants seized control of Gaza in June 2007, made the creation of a Palestinian state the cornerstone of his policies, but he has nothing to show for the year of talks.

Oklahoma tornado kills at least three

WASHINGTON, 11 Feb— Violent tornado killed at least three people and injured dozens in a southern Oklahoma town, local media reported on Tuesday.

Twenty to 50 people were injured by the tornado that ripped through Lone Grove late Tuesday evening, the Oklahoma Department of Emergency Management said. The town of about 4,600 people is about 160 miles (160 kilometers) south of Oklahoma City.

Two other tornadoes hit the state in the afternoon. One in the Oklahoma City metro area damaged homes and businesses.

Belgium faces “serious recession” in 2009

Brussels, 11 Feb—Belgium faces “a serious recession” this year, central bank governor Guy Quaden said on Wednesday after most economic indicators, apart from inflation, slumped in 2008.

“Unfortunately we are talking at the moment about a contraction of 1.9 percent of gross domestic product (GDP) in 2009. It’s not a depression, but it’s a serious recession,” he said.

Quaden had said in December the economy would shrink by at least 0.2 percent in 2009.

The drastic downward revision was due in large part to a decline in GDP of 1.3 percent in the final quarter of last year — a “real catastrophe” — and to the global downturn, Quaden said.

“What makes this recession stand out, compared to those of the eighties and nineties, is the speed of the deterioration,” the governor of the National Bank of Belgium said on Monday, in remarks to reporters that were kept under media embargo until Wednesday.

Belgium is expected to see its annual exports drop by one percent, which could deter investors from the kingdom’s companies. Consumer spending is also likely to drop.

Credit Suisse posts full year loss of 8.2 billion francs

Geneva, 11 Feb—Swiss banking giant Credit Suisse on Wednesday posted a full-year loss of 8.2 billion francs (7.07 billion dollars, 5.49 billion euros) for 2008, with most of the losses incurred in the last three months of the year.

Switzerland’s second biggest bank, which has suffered damages in the financial turmoil, said it lost 6.0 billion francs in the last quarter alone, but it added that it had made a “strong start to 2009.”

World record in cappuccino preparation set in Prague

Eighty Czech and foreign “baristas” set a world record in the preparation of cappuccino in Prague on Saturday, filling a giant cup with 2,117 liters of this drink, Stepanka Havrilikova, on behalf of the organizers, told the Czech News Agency CTK.

It took them almost three hours to prepare the cappuccino for which they used 300 liters of espresso and 1,700 liters of milk.

Their achievement will enter the Guinness Book of Records.

They beat the previous record of 1,250 liters of cappuccino by two Italians, Ettore Diana and Luca Braguti, in 2002.

Forty baristas, that are experts in the preparation of espresso-based coffee drinks, established the Czech record on Wednesday, making “only” 1,050 liters of cappuccino.

Mexican violence leaves one soldier, 20 others dead

Ciudad Juarez, 11 Feb—A drug gang kidnapped and killed six people near a town in the US-Mexican border region on Tuesday, prompting a series of gunbattles with soldiers that left 15 others dead.

The violence started when gunmen kidnapped nine alleged members of a rival drug gang in Villa Ahumada and later executed six of them along the Pan American highway outside of the town, 80 miles (130 kilometres) south of Ciudad Juarez, across the border from El Paso, Texas, said Enrique Torres, spokesman for a joint military-police operation in Chihuahua state.

Assailants later released three of the men, although their whereabouts was not immediately known, Torres said.

Soldiers later caught up with the gunmen and a series of shootouts ensued, leaving 14 alleged gunmen and one soldier dead on Tuesday, Torres said. Another soldier was wounded.

Police say Ohio woman set fires out of anger

Authorities say they have arrested an Ohio woman who told them she set fire to at least 10 homes and garages because she was angry. Hamilton fire and police officials arrested 42-year-old Gina Ann Gray on Tuesday. She is charged with seven counts of aggravated arson and three counts of arson.

Fire investigator Tom Angst said Gray told authorities she set the fires at homes and garages in Hamilton, about 30 miles north of Cincinnati.

The fires occurred between September 2007 and November 2008.

Firefighters rescue man stuck inside chimney

Firefighters had to get creative when faced with a man stuck inside a chimney. Assistant Fire Marshal Thomas Middleton said police were called early on Sunday by a woman who said she heard someone yelling for help near 144 Church Street.

They followed the voice — and footprints on a snowy roof — to find the unidentified man in a chimney. He told them he didn’t know how he got there. He was stuck in the chimney for about four hours.

First, they tried to pull him out with a rope, but it didn’t work.

Then they had to disassemble part of the chimney to get to the man, whose name isn’t being released.

He was taken to Fletcher Allen Health Care for evaluation.

$3 trillion! — Senate, Fed, Treasury attack crisis

Washington, 11 Feb—On a single day filled with staggering sums, the Obama administration, Federal Reserve and Senate attacked the deepening economic crisis on Tuesday with actions that could throw as much as $3 trillion more in government and private funds into the fight against frozen credit markets and rising joblessness.

“It’s gone deep. It’s gotten worse,” President Barack Obama said of the recession at a campaign-style appearance in Fort Myers, Fla., where unemployment has reached double digits. “The situation we face could not be more serious.”

If any more emphasis were needed, Wall Street investors sent stocks plunging, objecting that new rescue details from the government were too sparse. The Dow Jones industrials dropped 382 points.

The president spoke shortly after Senate passage of an $838 billion emergency economic stimulus bill cleared the way for talks with the House on a final compromise.

Memories fly with ashes, survivors shocked by fire site

Melbourne, 11 Feb—Australia’s deadliest bushfire in history started on Feb. 7 and ravaged a number of towns in the country’s southern part, killing more than 180 and leaving thousands homeless. Standing in front of his daughter’s house which was entirely burnt down, Graeme Chandler, a survivor of the catastrophic bushfire in Australia, told reporters with sadness that his good memories have gone with the ashes.

Chandler, who was in his sixties, said that his own house was fortunate enough to be passed over by the fire. However, his daughter’s home, which was in the vicinity of his, has been completely destroyed.

It was lucky that his daughter and grandchildren were able to escape from the site in time. But the place was no longer the one with all those happy moments he used to cherish, said the miserable old man.

With more than 20 burning points and over 300,000 hectares of land being devastated, the fierce bushfire was mainly due to the heat wave and dry weather, as well as the strong wind, according to local police.

On Wednesday, there were still some 10 burning points in the Victoria state, Australia. Many roads leading to the disastrous areas were blocked by the police to avoid further accidents.

Police explained to reporters that those areas seemed to be safe but there might be risks of trees collapse. Besides, if the temperature goes up again, huge fire could be triggered off.

“We are here to see if the residents are doing all right,” said senior sergeant Paul McBride of the Victoria Police who was patrolling around in Dixon creek with his colleagues.—Internet

Taleban suicide bombers target Afghan capital kill 20, wound 57

Kabul, 11 Feb—In the latest wave of violence, the Taleban insurgents targeted several government buildings including the Justice Ministry Wednesday morning, killing 20 people and wounding 57 others. Minister for Interior Mohammad Hanif Atmar said.

“As a result of terrorist attacks in Kabul today, 20 people were killed and 57 others sustained injuries, some of them in critical condition,” Atmar told journalists at a press conference here.

Seven out of those killed in the bloody are policemen while 29 more policemen are among the injured, he added. The NATO-led peacekeeping International Security Assistance Force (ISAF) in a statement released here described the attacks as barbaric against the civilians and condemned it.—Internet

Russia says no retaliation unless US builds shield

Moscow, 11 Feb—Russia will take no practical steps to retaliate against the planned U.S. missile defence shield unless it is physically deployed, Russian Foreign Minister Sergei Lavrov said on Wednesday.

“A retaliatory step will be made in the event, and only in the event, if the ... (missile defence installations in eastern Europe) are physically created. If it is not created then there will be no retaliatory measures from the Russian Federation,” Lavrov told a news conference.

Iran says US change would be “happy news”

Tehran, 11 Feb—A change in US foreign policy under President Barack Obama would be “happy news,” the foreign minister of Iran said on Wednesday.

“We look positively on the slogan that Obama raised in the elections. The world has really changed,” Foreign Minister Manouchehr Mottaki said through an Arabic interpreter at a news conference during a visit to neighbouring Iraq.

“If the American administration wants to keep up with the changes, this will be happy news.”

Mottaki’s remarks were the latest in a series of recent comments from Iranian leaders hinting at prospects of a thaw with a country that has been an arch enemy for nearly 30 years.

“We think these changes will provide good opportunities for the American administration in its relations with the countries of the world,” Mottaki added. “As diplomats, we are destined to be optimistic and we wish this would come true.”

22 Egyptian mummies found in ancient tomb

Beijing, 11 Feb—A storeroom housing about two dozen ancient Egyptian mummies has been unearthed inside a 2,600-year-old tomb at the vast necropolis of Saqqara south of Cairo, according to media reports on Tuesday quoting archaeologists.

The tomb was located at the bottom of a over 10-meter deep shaft, said Egypt’s top archaeologist, Zahi Hawass. Twenty-two mummies were found in niches along the tomb’s walls, he said.

Eight sarcophagi were also found in the tomb. Archaeologists so far have opened only one of the sarcophagi — and found a mummy inside of it, said Hawass’ assistant Abdel Hakim Karar.

The “storeroom for mummies” dates back to 2,600 B.C. during the 26th Dynasty, which was Egypt’s last independent kingdom before it was overthrown by a succession of foreign conquerors beginning with the Persians, Hawass said.

Most of the mummies are poorly preserved, and archaeologists have yet to determine their identities or why so many were put in one room.—Internet

Elements in India helped carrying out Mumbai attacks

BANGALORE, 11 Feb—Giving a new twist to probe into Mumbai attacks, Pakistan is now alleging that there were “elements in India” who helped in carrying out the strikes and wants its investigators to be provided access to them.

“Terrorists from the Pakistan side are helping the Mumbai attackers,” a Pakistani source said.

In what could further delay the prosecution of Mumbai attackers, the paper said Pakistan is also seeking DNA samples of the terrorists involved in the strikes and more information about contacts made by them through the Internet.

The Pakistani investigation into the Mumbai attacks, which was reviewed Monday at a meeting of the Defence Committee of the Cabinet chaired by Prime Minister Yousuf Raza Gilani, would be sent to New Delhi in a couple of days, the paper quoted these officials as saying.

In its report, Pakistan also made the allegations about the involvement of individuals from India in the strikes.

“Several terrorists from India may be involved in the strikes,” a Pakistani official said.

Pakistan has sought results of DNA tests on Ajmal Kasab and the nine other attackers killed by Indian security forces so that these could be matched with their family members, if any, in Pakistan, the sources said.

Study shows pregnancy doesn’t worsen breast cancer

BEIJING, 11 Feb — Pregnant women who develop breast cancer have no difference in odds of death compared to other young breast cancer patients, said a study published on Monday in the journal Cancer.

The study is one of the largest to examine whether breast cancer hits pregnant women harder than other women. It contradicted some smaller, earlier studies that suggested maternal factors might make things worse.

In the study, researchers analyzed data from 652 women ages 35 and younger who were treated for breast cancer at the University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center from 1973 through 2006. The result showed that rates of cancer recurrence, cancer spread and survival were normally the same for the women with pregnancy-associated breast cancers and other young women with the disease.

“Breast cancer in young women is a highly aggressive disease, and it’s important that we study it in hopes of making a difference in terms of treatment,” said the study’s lead author, Dr Beth Beadle of the center.

Bipolar disorder increases risk of disease

SEATTLE, 11 Feb — Bipolar disorder, like smoking, increases the risk of early death from medical illnesses, a US review found. The review of 17 studies, published in Psychiatric Services, involving more than 331,000 patients suggested that people with bipolar disorder have a higher mortality from natural causes compared with people in the general population of similar age and gender but without mental illness.

“The review of data gathered from large population studies suggests that having bipolar disorder is similar to being a smoker in terms of increasing a person’s risk of early death,” Dr Wayne Katon of the University of Washington in Seattle, co-author of the review, said in a statement.

People with bipolar disorder tend to have both manic phases that can include sleepless periods and depressed phases that can even leave them immobilized. There are many possible factors that may account for the higher risk of premature death.

Scientists hike carbon nanotube capacity

CHAMPAIGN, 11 Feb — US scientists say they’ve been able to increase the current-carrying capacity of carbon nanotubes to a level previously thought impossible to achieve. University of Illinois researchers said they used an avalanche process that carries more electrons down more paths, similar to the way a multilane highway carries more traffic than a one-lane road. “Single-wall carbon nanotubes are already known to carry current densities up to 100 times higher than the best metals like copper,” said Professor Eric Pop. “We now show that semiconducting nanotubes can carry nearly twice as much current as previously thought.”

The scientists said they discovered high electric fields of 10 volts per micron energetic electrons and holes can create additional electron-hole pairs, leading to the avalanche effect in which free carriers multiply and the current rapidly increases until the nanotube breaks down.

Overdrinking of soda pop increases women’s risk for early kidney disease

WASHINGTON, 11 Feb — Women who drink two or more cans of soda pop per day are nearly twice as likely to show early signs of kidney disease, a recent study has found. However, researchers did not find an elevated risk for men, or for people who drink diet soda, said lead researcher Dr David Shoham of Loyola University Health System. The study was published in PLoS ONE, a peer-reviewed journal of science and medical research published by the Public Library of Science. Researchers examined data from a representative sample of 9,358 US adults in the National Health and Nutrition Examination Survey. The survey included urine samples and a questionnaire about dietary habits.

Google develops software to save energy

SANFRANCISCO, 11 Feb — Google said on Tuesday its engineers have developed a software tool that can help consumers save energy and cut electricity bills. Called PowerMeter, the tool enables consumers to receive their home electricity consumption information almost in real time right from their computers. Consumers could use the information to figure out how much energy is used by different appliances or household activities and optimize their energy use.

The software is being tested by Google employees and not yet available to the public, “but we’re building partnerships with utilities and independent device manufacturers to gradually roll this out in pilot programmes,” the Internet search giant announced on its official blog.

Citing studies, the company said access to home energy information may result in savings between 5 to 15 percent on monthly electricity bills. It noted that if half of America’s households cut their energy demand by 10 percent, it would be the equivalent of taking eight million cars off the road.
Murray cruises past Ljubicic in Rotterdam

ROTTERDAM, 11 Feb – Briton Andy Murray regained his winning form as he eased past Croatia’s Ivan Ljubicic 6-3, 6-2 in the first round of the World Indoor Tournament on Tuesday.

Murray had an excellent start of the season, winning two warm-up events in the run-up to the Australian Open, but his hopes of winning a maiden grand slam title was stalled by Fernando Verdasco in the fourth round at Melbourne Park. On Tuesday, he was back to his best.

“Obviously this was a very good win as he (Ljubicic) normally plays very well indoors but today he didn’t play and serve his best tennis,” Murray told reporters.

Ljubicic, finalist in Rotterdam in 2005 and 2007, only kept up with Murray the first six games before he dropped his serve in the eighth game and lost eight games in a row. The second seed will be on guard in the first set in 20 minutes.

The Italian knocked out Lleyton Hewitt and Rafael Nadal from the tournament last year and also defeated the crowd at the Emirates in raptures with a brilliant solo goal.

Italy captain Fabio Cannavaro’s attempt to overlook headshot was cleared and his opposite number Kaka’s appearance to put on a record 32 unbeaten matches in charge as Brazil made light of Kaka’s absence to put on a performance which belied their coach Dunga’s reputation as a doy of tactics.

Elano added to the two goals he scored for Brazil against Argentina at the same stadium in 2006 with a fine opener in the 13th minute after laying the ball back to Manchester City team-mate Robinho and picking up the return pass to slot it past Gianluigi Buffon. Robinho then had the Brazilian section of the crowd at the Emirates in raptures with a brilliant solo goal.

Capello not sure if Beckham will play against Spain

SEVILLE, 11 Feb – England coach Fabio Capello has not decided whether David Beckham will play in Wednesday’s friendly against Spain.

The Los Angeles Galaxy midfielder, who turns 34 on May, has been on good form during his loan spell at AC Milan and could equal Bobby Moore’s record of 108 caps for an outfield player if he faces the European champions in Seville.

“David Beckham is here because he is playing well at Milan,” Capello told a news conference on Tuesday. “Perhaps he will play but I am not sure at all. He is a very typical Englishman.”—Internet

LONDON, 11 Feb – Chelsea captain John Terry has dropped a strong hint that a revolt by some of the club’s players triggered the dismissal of Luiz Felipe Scolari.

Although he insisted that he personally had been shocked by Scolari’s sacking and described the Brazilian as a “great man,” Terry made it clear Tuesday that not all of the fans.
Study: multivitamins does not lower cancer risks

BEIJING, 11 Feb—A new finding, published in the February issue of The Archives of Internal Medicine, said taking multivitamins do not lower the risks of various cancers, nor do they prevent cardiovascular disease.

“Consumers are bombarded with messages to use dietary supplements, from commercial broadcasts, from news media reports, even from their own health-care providers,” explained Marian L. Neuhouser, the lead author and a nutritional epidemiologist with the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center in Seattle.

But she stressed, for the postmenopausal women who want to lower their risks of cancer or heart disease through usage of multivitamins, “It’s a wash. Prime Minister General Thein Sein attends opening of Royal Myanmar Golf Range

NAY PYI TAW, 11 Feb—Prime Minister General Thein Sein attended the opening ceremony of the Royal Myanmar Golf Range in Nay Pyi Taw Hotel Zone, here, at 7.45 a.m., today.

It was also attended by Commander of Nay Pyi Taw Command Maj-Gen Wai Lwin, ministers, deputy ministers, senior military officers, directors-general of the State Peace and Development Council Office and the Government Office, departmental heads, members of the Nay Pyi Taw Development Committee, members of the BOD of Committee for Construction of Advanced Golf Courses in Nay Pyi Taw.

Commander Maj-Gen Wai Lwin, Chairman of Nay Pyi Taw Development Committee Mayor Col Thein Nyunt and Chairman of the BOD U Chit Khaing presented gifts to the Prime Minister. Afterwards, the Prime Minister opened the golf range by teeing off the golf ball. Next, the commander and the ministers teed off the golf balls at the opening ceremony.

Chairman of the BOD U Chit Khaing included in the Nay Pyi Taw Advanced Golf Course Project has one two-storey building where 72 players can take exercise at the same time and one practice putting green.

Nay Pyi Taw Advanced Golf Course will be on 800 acres of land and will have one club house building and a 36-hole golf course meeting the international standard.—MNA
