2. NUG taking steps for safe return of Rohingya

29/08/2022

The Prime Minister of the National Unity Government held a meeting with Rohingya communities in Bangladesh. The Prime Minister informed community leaders that 3 actions are being taken to ensure the safe return of their communities to Myanmar. These are securing justice and accountability for the Rohingya communities, creating enabling conditions for their repatriation to Myanmar, and delivering equality to all persons in law and practice.

He went on to say that these actions are tied to the cementing of democracy, the ending of atrocities, and the inevitable defeat of the terrorist SAC, and that the NUG, out of respect for human rights, will implement the policies related to the Rohingya communities. <https://bit.ly/3TVcsl1>

3. NUG blacklists 177 staff from the SAC-controlled Ministry of Religious Affairs and Culture

01/09/2022

In total 177 staff from the SAC-controlled Ministry of Religious Affairs and Culture (Union Minister Office, Department of Art, Department of Archeology and National Museum, Department of Historical Research and National Library) who continue to serve under the military regime were blacklisted by the NUG on charges of harassing, intimidating, and dismissing CDM staff, and demanding the repayment of COVID assistance packages granted by the NLD government before the coup.

Ministry of Human Rights

4. NUG encourages civilians to report unlawful killings by SAC

29/08/2022

The Ministry of Human Rights encouraged civilians to report evidence related to the unlawful killing by the terrorist SAC to not only the ministry but also other reliable human rights organizations. The Ministry notes that the governments of other countries take every measure to protect the safety and lives of all civilians, while the military tyrants in Myanmar are committing ongoing crimes by murdering their own citizens in order to cling to power. <https://bit.ly/3Bggmh0>

Ministry of Labour

5. NUG condemns workplace discrimination aimed against those engaged in revolution

27/08/2022

The Ministry of Labour announced that discrimination and discriminatory practices against workers will be addressed effectively. Workers who are facing discrimination either in the hiring process or in the workplace can report the case via the Ministry's public reporting mechanism and actions will be taken against the employers who are found to be in violation of human rights and labour rights.

The Ministry strongly condemns the discriminatory practices taken against the workers who are joining the revolution and stated that such discrimination served to help establish military rule. <https://bit.ly/3eoVZoP>
