Five-Point Road Map of the State Administration Council

1. The Union Election Commission will be reconstituted and its mandated tasks, including the scrutiny of voter lists, shall be implemented in accordance with the law.
2. Effective measures will be taken with added momentum to prevent and manage the COVID-19 pandemic.
3. Actions will be taken to ensure the speedy recovery of businesses from the impact of COVID-19.
4. Emphasis will be placed on achieving enduring peace for the entire nation in line with the agreements set out in the Nationwide Ceasefire Agreement.
5. Upon accomplishing the provisions of the state of emergency, free and fair multiparty democratic elections will be held in line with the 2008 Constitution, and further work will be undertaken to hand over State duties to the winning party in accordance with democratic standards.

Only when infection rate actually declines can health restrictions be eased: Senior General

OFFICIALS at different levels need to supervise necessary medical examination and protection for returnees from foreign countries in order to plummet the infection rate of COVID-19 in border areas as well as the whole country, said Chairman of the State Administration Council Prime Minister of the Provisional Government of the Republic of the Union of Myanmar Senior General Min Aung Hlaing at the 10th coordination meeting on COVID-19 prevention, control and treatment activities yesterday in Nay Pyi Taw.

In his opening address, the Senior General stressed that the infection rate of COVID-19 accounted for 40.82 per cent on 23 July and 40.67 per cent on 25 July. Efforts were made to decline a half down of the infection rate in August for the first stage. On 29 August, 3,166 persons of 29,127 persons were approved as the positive patients in medical examination, accounting for just 10.87 per cent. It was satisfactory for plunging the infection rate into less than 20 per cent the government expected. Such success was based on the cooperation of the people and management of organizations. Local ethnic people from Kachin, Shan, Kayin and Mon States and Taninthayi Region who did not present reports to authorities about their return to home from China, Laos and Thailand were infected in their native lands. Officials at different levels need to supervise necessary medical examinations and protection for the returnees from foreign countries in order to plunge the infection rate of COVID-19 in border areas as well as the whole country.

Due to the current situation, it is necessary to continue controlling the spread of the COVID-19 virus. Thus, all basic education schools, (including private schools and monastic schools,) will be temporarily closed from 1-9-2021 to 10-9-2021.

3,583 new cases of COVID-19 reported on 30 August, total figure rises to 395,883

MYANMAR’S COVID-19 positive cases rose to 395,883 after 3,583 new cases were reported on 30 August 2021 according to the Ministry of Health. Among these confirmed cases, 348,682 have been discharged from hospitals. Death toll reached 15,287 after 194 died.

Preventive measures taken for damage and overflow of water from the dams

LAST year’s drought caused shortages of drinking water in the country. This year’s rainfalls can remove such worries of water scarcity. However, it is necessary to take preventive measures of damage and overflow of water from the dams.

With regard to the arrival of COVID-19 vaccines and the vaccination process, the Senior General said: “A total of 6.5 million units of vaccine have arrived in Myanmar from China till yesterday. Of them, 2.5 million units were donated and we bought 4 million units, totalling 6.5 million units. India donated 1.7 million units of vaccine and we bought 2 million units. So vaccine units totalled 10.2 million units. I ordered the Ministry of Transport and Communications and the Ministry of Defence to transport these vaccines which arrived yesterday to regions and states as quickly as possible, depending on the climatic conditions. Primarily, when the vaccines arrive, regions and states need to arrange the distribution of vaccines in real-time. I'd like to note that one day earlier vaccination will benefit the people better. According to the statements of global countries, vaccinated persons have better immunity than non-vaccinated persons. It is not totally said that vaccinated persons will never be infected. But they have lesser potential for suffering from the disease. Otherwise, they may suffer from the least impact of the disease. For example, even severe diseases may affect them with lesser impacts. They will have more convenience with oxygen and medicine supplies.”

Not only China and India but other friendship countries Cambodia, Thailand and Vietnam donated COVID-19 vaccines, related medicines and accessories, sending of telephone message on health awareness, broadcasting of information and educative programmes on prevention, control and treatment activities for COVID-19, distribution of masks, hand gel and disposable needles from Tatmadaw factories and workshops, supply of household medicines from State-owned and private pharmaceutical factories, vaccine, control and treatment of the disease on WHO website, and sales of medicines from pharmacy shops across the nation, vaccination at IDP camps.

The Senior General stressed the need for chief ministers in regions and states to encourage the farming tasks of the people. Successful agricultural tasks can produce agricultural products for enabling the people to have a better process of food supplies and increased income, contributing much to the battling the COVID-19.

MRTV should make efforts to show modern broadcasting programmes: Union Information Minister

UNION Minister for Information U Maung Maung Ohn inspected the broadcasting programmes, studios, newsrooms and national symphony orchestra at MRTV (Myanmar Radio and Television) on Pyay Road of Yangon yesterday.

The Union Minister first met the MRTV staff officers. At the meeting, he highlighted the department role that dutifully serves its historical responsibilities and holds the motto: to inform, educate and entertain the public for the State amid changing political landscapes of the country.

He also said the ministry is working hard via the media sector in implementing the five-point roadmap and nine objectives of SAC. It cannot be applied to the traditional ways. It should change political landscapes of the country.

In the 21st century, the media and television broadcasting industries are constantly innovating based on digital technologies, and the MRTV reaches its diamond jubilee.

He then excerpted some words of the Prime Minister of the State made at the 45th anniversary of the diamond jubilee of MRTV, “MRTV could not only inform, educate and entertain but also to motivate the people. As the fourth estate, the media industry plays an important role, so it must act correctly. It should be a reliable MRTV eternally for the country and people.”

The Union Minister continued that cooperation works are required in media like broadcasting programmes that can create a peaceful community lack of any hate or anxiety. Such doings the public can have the correct knowledge and thoughts, and it can benefit the government and interests of the country.

He also urged the staff to cooperate with the ministry in easing the difficulties of people from various media sectors during the outbreak of COVID-19.

The MoI Union Minister views around the broadcasting news studio.

Then, MRTV Director-General U Ye Naing reported on the work programmes of the station. The Union Minister inspected the practice section of the national symphony orchestra and modern music bands, storage of medical examination and fee percentage. It is because it is necessary to take care of leaving the fields. Such a process was included in the discussions of the Union Minister for Health. They are contact persons and some of the persons who were related to the patients. Some of them return home. So, I have told earlier. For example, some people return to their villages in regions and states without reporting to the authorities. When the infection rate was higher, findings of medical examination showed that some of the people did not report to the authorities for their returning and officials did not check them. So, it is necessary to closely supervise inspection tasks. It is important that inspection areas should not be left. Only when we know the correct results from medical checkups, will the control of the disease be benefited. So, we need to check many persons.

Health staff need to have patience in performing medical checkups on people in a systematic manner. Health awareness must be raised to avoid careless travelling as the current variant virus causes high and speedy infection with a high death rate. Symptoms of the disease must be disseminated to the people. Only when the infection rate actually declines can the health restrictions be eased. At present, factories and workplaces are allowed to systematically operate production under the disciplines. The infection of the disease must be monitored and checked. Not only the Tatmadaw and Myanmar Police Force but the people must carry out the security of the health staff. As oxygen can be produced at home, it is necessary to import oxygen as a reserve if necessary. — MNA

In his response to the reports, the Senior General said that relevant ministries need to bring back Myanmar citizens from Malaysia by relief flight. It is necessary to supervise the vaccination process with the use of a newly-arrived vaccine at one unit for five doses. Research and tests must be conducted for the production of the COVID-19 vaccine. Relevant departments need to cooperate among them in the prevention of malpractice in the import of medicines under the FDA approval, and import-substitute foodstuffs must be sold at fair prices to the people.

In his concluding speech related to sales of basic medicines at fair prices and vaccination process, the Senior General said: “Myanmar Chamber of Commerce for Pharmaceutical & Medical Device (MCCPMD) and some companies directly sell the medicines. Pharmacy shops are allotted at a site to sell the medicines in Yangon. Price list of important medicines is expressed in daily newspapers. So, people are convenient to some extent in buying the medicines. So, I thank the association for its arrangement. Those from the association arrange the sales of medicines with goodwill for the people, rather than their interests. Everybody wishes to do business for having benefit. But the association focuses on sales of medicines at correct prices to the people without focusing on the benefit. They do it with goodwill. So, I thank them for their efforts.

It was reported that infection of the disease declines. We check the figure of infection, the number of people under medical examination and infection percentage. It is because it is necessary to take care of leaving the fields. Such a process was included in the discussions of the Union Minister for Health. They are contact persons and some of the persons who were related to the patients. Some of them return home. So, I have told earlier. ASEAN launches youth development index phase II

UNION Minister for Social Welfare, Relief and Resettlement Dr Thet Thet Khine attended the online launching ceremony of ASEAN Youth Development Index Phase II yesterday.

ASEAN Secretary-General Dato Lim Jock Hoi said, in his greeting speech, the youths are the new generations having differences and similarities according to the regional location. Currently, all are facing the challenges of the COVID-19 pandemic.

The ASEAN YDI Phase I was launched in 2017 while the ASEAN YDI Phase II measured in three major domains for all youths, and the youth development programmes will be also implemented in the future. Then, the Ministers for Youth Affairs in ASEAN countries respectively made remarks on ASEAN Youth Development Index Phase II.

Afterwards, UNION Minister Dr Thet Thet Khine appreciated the efforts in launching the ASEAN YDI Phase II, adding Myanmar participated in programmes for ASEAN YDI Phase I.

The expert team conducted the systematic survey of the opinions of university students on ASEAN for ASEAN YDI Phase II.

The report will benefit the youth development in ASEAN countries. The ASEAN YDI Phase I looked at four domains of education, health and well-being, employment, participation and engagement while the ASEAN YDI Phase II studied awareness, values and identity.

A total of 1,582 students from 10 universities from ASEAN countries, 627 students from 4 universities in ASEAN regions and 151 Myanmar experts and students participated in data collection programmes of ASEAN YDI Phase II. — MNA

International flight restrictions extended until 30 September

THE Ministry of Health has issued a directive on the temporary restriction of international commercial passenger flights to Myanmar since it is crucial to control the spread of COVID-19 disease in Myanmar.

With the permission of the Central Committee on Prevention, Control and Treatment of the Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19), “Temporary Measures to Prevent Importation of COVID-19 to Myanmar through Air Travel” was revised as “Temporary Measures to Prevent Importation of COVID-19 to Myanmar through Air Travel Issue-2” on (31-12-2020) till 23:59 hours on (31-8-2021) of Myanmar Standard Time.

Until now, the prevalence of the COVID-19 epidemic has risen in most parts of the world. With the permission of the Central Committee on Prevention, Control and Treatment of the Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19), the effective period of the above directive has been extended to 23:56 hours of Myanmar Standard Time on 30 September 2021 to further prevent the risk of COVID-19 transmission via international air passengers into Myanmar.

The Sixth Month of the State Administration Council

By Kanaung

JULY marks the sixth month of the State Administration Council and the month when the country was hit by the third wave of the COVID-19 pandemic. The government, together with public health service personnel, is making strenuous efforts to prevent, manage the pandemic, and provide medical treatment. Myanmar starts another round of vaccination against COVID-19 from the end of July. Those over the age of 65, health workers, COVID volunteers, monks, nuns and others on the priority list are scheduled to be vaccinated. The Tatmadaw medical corps and volunteers are also working on the frontline of the pandemic as there continues to be a shortage of health workers due to the civil disobedience movement.

National and subnational coordination meetings were held on COVID-19 prevention, control and treatment activities. These led to policy decisions, such as those on the systematic implementation of lock-down measures, such as the closure of offices and schools, the provision of medical oxygen to meet the needs of the country, the establishment and expansion of quarantine centres for medical treatment, and vaccination programmes to control the transmission of infection.

Policy guidance by the Head of State
Chairman of the State Administration Council Senior General Min Aung Hlaing has taken the key role of leading the country’s efforts to respond to the COVID-19 pandemic through mechanisms set up for this purpose. Various structures and entities have been set up from community level up to State and Region, and at the national level. COVID-19 committees involving both government representatives and civil society actors have also been set up in large cities. These are all overseen and coordinated by mechanisms in each State and Region, which take their policy guidance from the national level coordination body.

At the first national coordination meeting on the COVID-19 emergency held on 9 July, the State Administration Council Chairman emphasized health education of the public, provision of treatment and health care, and cooperation with social welfare organizations and volunteers. He also underscored that no limits would be placed on budget. The meeting also discussed effective actions to provide the required oxygen, transport patients to facilities and conduct COVID-19 vaccination.

The second national coordination meeting on the COVID-19 emergency held on 12 July focused on systematic planning and preparation for the large numbers of quarantined cases, the preparation of isolation facilities, the provision of medical oxygen and other health care system needs for the public.

At the third national coordination meeting on the COVID-19 emergency on 18 July, the State Administration Council Chairman highlighted his appreciation of the high level of preparedness of the systems for coping with the surge of COVID-19. There were now 1,934 facilities for more than 69,000 people at military and public hospitals, and another 1,114 facilities for 46,000 positive patients. The efforts by the public to follow COVID-19 public health rules and regulations were also appreciated since participation by the public is needed to combat the third wave of COVID-19 and reduce infection rates. The meeting also discussed the prevention of infections among health workers and government employees, and the provision of medical services, oxygen and other medical supplies in the remote areas of the country.

At the fourth national coordination meeting on the COVID-19 emergency on 23 July, the State Administration Council Chairman spoke about health personnel who had joined the civil disobedience movement. He noted that these doctors and nurses had not returned to their positions although he had invited them and requested them to help in the country’s response to combat the pandemic and that this should cut across all political divides. Some had taken up the government’s offer and returned to public service, but others had not. He again issued a request to all doctors and nurses to cooperate with the government. He also urged the social welfare organizations to cooperate in the acceleration of vaccination programmes.

The fifth national coordination meeting on the COVID-19 emergency on 26 July took up the issue of rolling out vaccination programmes systematically according to the pre-defined priority groups, the opening of new COVID-19 centres, treatment centres, and provision of medical oxygen supplies. At another meeting held on 27 July, the SAC Chairman discussed measures to accelerate the COVID-19 prevention, control and treatment efforts, the preparations for the arrivals of vaccines, and messages to the public to maintain good health and nutrition throughout this period.

International relations
On 6 July, Union Minister U Wunna Maung Lwin attended the Special ASEAN-Russia Foreign Ministers’ Meeting. He presented Myanmar’s efforts to make progress towards the sustainable development goals, the work undertaken in cooperation with partners to revive the economy, notably through the development of the tourism industry, and other future plans.

Myanmar media interviewed Associate Professor and expert on Myanmar Affairs Ms Kseniya Alexandrovna Efremova from the Moscow State Institute of International Relations (MGIMO), one of the top universities in Russia, Central and Eastern Europe, and Vice-Chairman Mr Bulochnikov Anatoly Mikhailovich of the Russia-Myanmar Friendship Association. They spoke about the current political affairs of Myanmar, good bilateral relations with the Russian Federation, and potential socio-economic cooperation on Myanmar state media.

The government has also been active in all ASEAN-led initiatives. The Union Minister for Foreign Affairs joined the ASEAN-US Foreign Ministers’ Meeting held through virtual channels on 14 July. During the meeting, the Union Ministry expressed appreciation for the support of the United States in the fight against the COVID-19 pandemic. He urged all parties to continue to support the Initiative for ASEAN Integration (IAI).

The Union Minister for International Cooperation attended the 11th Mekong-Ganga Cooperation Foreign Ministers’ Meeting held on 21 July and pledged to fully cooperate under the Mekong-Ganga Cooperation Framework. Government officials from the concerned ministries attended the 54th ASEAN Tourism Authority Meeting and relevant meetings, the ASEAN Supreme Audit Institution Senior Officials’ Meeting, and the 21st ASEAN Senior Officials’ Meeting on Transna-
Rejection of attempts to intervene in domestic affairs

Over the past few months, the government has been setting out in public the evidence of the NUG’s support for the bombing, maiming and killing of innocent civilians. Nonetheless, the UN and some western embassies have ignored government statements and continue using fake news on social media and promoting the NUG terrorist group.

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs released a statement pertaining to the baseless remarks made by Mr Stephane Dujarric, Spokesperson for the United Nations. It rejected the statement made by Mr Stephane Dujarric, Spokesperson for the United Nations. It made by Mr Stephane Dujarric, Spokesperson for the United Nations on social media. The Ministry of Foreign Affairs also objected to the issuance of the statement released on 29 June 2021. These remarks were apparently based on the UN Country Team in Myanmar, who have not even verified the real facts and take as their source the unsubstantiated accusations and fake news on social media. The Ministry of Foreign Affairs also objected to the recognition of the website of the terrorist group NUG. Myanmar strongly condemned these remarks.

Moreover, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs released another press statement on 9 July that objected to the proceedings in the Interactive Dialogue concerning the internal affairs of a sovereign state.

Myanmar also issued a press release on 13 July, which again categorically stated that U Kyaw Moe Tun had been terminated from his position as Ambassador/Permanent Representative of the Republic of the Union of Myanmar to the United Nations since February 2021. Therefore, any statement or participation by U Kyaw Moe Tun at the various forums of the United Nations is neither official nor representing the Republic of the UN. The Union of Myanmar. He has been charged with high treason and official letters to this effect have been sent to the relevant countries and organizations not to recognize him as the Permanent Representative of Myanmar.

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs also issued a statement to reject the resolution A/HRC/47/L.11 tabled by the States Members of the United Nations that are members of the Organization of Islamic Cooperation (OIC), entitled “The situation of human rights of Rohingya Muslims and other minorities in Myanmar.” The Myanmar government disagrees with this resolution, which was adopted by the 47th Session of Human Rights Council in Geneva on 12 July.

On 7 July, the Myanmar Ministry of Foreign Affairs strongly condemned the assertions made by Zaw Wai Soe from the terrorist group NUG in an interview with France 24.

Peace and the Rule of Law

The Tatmadaw extended its unilateral declaration on the suspension of military operations across the country from 1 to 31 July, and again from 1 August to 30 September. The suspension of military operations across the nation will apply to cases where the security and administrative machinery of the government and national defence measures are being threatened or sabotaged.

The Special Appeals Court, together with the Chief Justice making such remarks, and trying to instigate farther violence, since the NUG-supported terrorists are currently targeting civilians in killings, bombings and attacks. Zaw Wai Soe will be prosecuted in accordance with the laws on terrorism. France 24 TV should not promote such attempts to solicit funding for NUG.

On 30 July, the ministry released a statement condemning the efforts to sow divisiveness and attempts to interfere in the internal affairs of Myanmar while the country is fighting against the COVID-19 pandemic together with the people like other international countries. At the Arria formula meeting on Myanmar held at the initiative of the United Kingdom on 29 July, participants engaged in discussions with members of the terrorist group NUG. Myanmar strongly condemned these discussions based on one-sided information.

COVID-19 prevention and response

As Myanmar struggled with skyrocketing new infections, the State Administration Council advanced a raft of new coronavirus prevention measures in July, including acceleration of immediate response, preparations for COVID-19 centres, implementation of stay-at-home measures in respective regions and states, granting import licence exemptions for COVID-19 medical supplies and facilitating their import at border trade points daily.

Throughout the month of July, responding to disease patterns, the government issued stay-at-home orders progressively for the residents of 85 townships in regions and states as well as in Nay Pyi Taw Union Territory, in order to break the chain of COVID-19 transmissions. Public announcements were broadcast throughout neighbourhoods to urge the people to abide by the health guidelines issued by the Ministry of Health.
Consider things how to improve Myanmar’s agricultural arena

Myanmar possesses an abundance of land, water and human resources as well as the strength of entire farmers in the agriculture sector which has crucial development of the State. It is because the agricultural sector fulfills the basic needs such as food, clothing and shelter of the people and creates job opportunities.

The successive governments have been striving for transform- ing the traditional mechanization process into modern mechanization. So far, the country has partially transformed the agricultural farming system with the use of modern agricultural machinery being skillfully operated by Myanmar farmers. On the other hand, distribution not only of the quality crops but also of the modern agricultural techniques contributes a great deal to mechanized farming. Utilizing the agricultural machinery benefits the farmers to cut time of soil preparations, sowing, weeding, transferring and threshing and milling.

As such, the authorities and farmers should always consider things how to improve the agricultural sector, how to uplift their living standard through benefits of the sector and how to completely implement mechanized farming not only for the State but for the new generations.

Delta variant doubles hospitalization risk in comparison to Alpha: study

Researchers analyzed data from 43,388 COVID cases in England from 29 March to 23 May of this year, including vaccination status, emergency care, hospital admission

People who became infected with the virus in hospital were six times more likely to become hospitalised with severe illness if they had been infected with the Delta variant compared to the Alpha variant, the study found.

The Delta variant of the virus that causes Covid-19 doubles the risk of hospitalisation compared to the Alpha variant it has supplanted as the dominant strain worldwide, researchers reported Saturday in The Lancet. Only 1.2 per cent of the more than 43,000 Covid cases assessed in comparing the two variants were in patients who had been fully vaccinated.

Three-quarters were completely unvaccinated, and 24 per cent had only received one jab of a two-dose vaccine.

The results from this study therefore provide some reassurance of the risk of hospital admission for those who are unvaccinated or partially vaccinated,” said co-author Anne Preston, a Senior Statistician at the University of Cambridge’s MRC Biostatistics Unit.

The manufacturing roads must be constructed between the paddy and crop fields to emerge drains on both sides along the roads. So, farmers can use the manufacturing roads to transport crops by truck or any barriers and the drains to irrigate their farmlands in an easier manner. Moreover, the systematic measurement of farmlands and croplands can be shaped thanks to the construction of the manufacturing roads.

Only when the agricultural sector improves, will the vast amount of agricultural products be exported and the local people consume food sufficiently. Hence, mechanized farming should be implemented together with systematic agricultural systems so as to boost the per-acre yield of crops. In the modern agricultural techniques and intensive efforts of farmers combine, it is sure that Myanmar can see a large volume of agricultural products and increased income from agricultural exportation.

As such, the authorities and farmers should always consider things how to improve the agricultural sector, how to uplift their living standard through benefits of the sector and how to completely implement mechanized farming not only for the State but for the new generations.

THE Ministry of Commerce is making efforts to ensure people have access to the essential medical supplies that are critical to the COVID-19 prevention, control and treatment activities, including liquid oxygen and oxygen cylinders, arranging continuous importation on public holidays.

On 30 August (Yesterday), anti-COVID-19 equipment, medical products including oxygen plants and concentrators were imported by 18 companies and transported by 28 vehicles, including three bowser vehicles.

A total of 59 tonnes of oxygen (liquid) carried by three bowser, four tonnes of liquid oxygen, 4,900 empty oxygen cylinders, six oxygen plants, one oxygen generator, 388 home oxygen concentrators, 3,000 sets of Covid-19 test kits, 2,500 sets of PPE suits, and 13 tonnes of masks were imported via Muse, Chinshwehaw, Myawady and Tachilek trading posts and Yangon International Airport.

Three vehicles carrying liquid oxygen plus six oxygen plants to Yangon and one oxygen plant to Mawlamyine were transported respectively.

YGEA urges members to manage gold market volatility

YANGON Region Gold Entrepreneurs Association (YGEA) urged its members to regulate trade in order to deal with market volatility.

Last 28 August, YGEA made five decisions, including the strategic trade control, at the monthly meeting.

At present, along with the Nt rate depreciation and the gold price gain in the international market, the precious pure gold metal stands at K1,688,000 per tical (0.578 ounce, or 0.016 kilogram).

The global gold price stood at only US$1,185 per ounce at present, while the US dollar exchange rate is worth above K1,700.

Despite the domestic gold price staying in the upward trend, the market is pretty sluggish, according to the YGEA.

Earlier, about 50 viss (a viss equals 1.6 kg) were daily traded. At present, the market sees sales of only 5-10 viss.

On 12 May, the gold hit an all-time high of K1,709,000 per tical in history.

In January 2021, the gold price was ranged between the highest of K1,391,000 (25 March) and the lowest of K1,302,000 (4 March). The price was registered the highest of K1,455,000 (30 April) and the lowest of K1,389,000 (1 April). The price reached an all-time highest of K1,709,000 (12 May) and the lowest of K1,447,000 in May. The price moved in the range of K1,317,000 (11 June) and the minimum of K1,543,000 (19 June). Last month, it fluctuated between K1,562,300 (26 July) and K1,587,000 (1,587,000), the gold traders said.

According to gold traders, the local gold reached the lowest level of K1,310,500 (2 September) and the highest level of K1,314,000 (1 September). In October, the rate ranged between K1,307,000 (30 October) and K1,316,500 (21 October). The rate fluctuated between the highest of K1,317,000 (9 November) and the lowest of K1,270,000 (30 November).

In December, the pure yellow metal priced moved in the range of K1,280,000 (1 December) and K1,322,000 (28 December).

With global gold prices on the uptick, the domestic price hit fresh highs in 2019, reaching K1,410,000 per tical between 17 January and 21 February, crossing K1,100,000 (22 June to 5 August), climbing to over K1,200,000 (7 August-4 September), and then reaching a record high of K1,308,000 on 5 September 2019.

MYANMAR’s corn exports to foreign countries generated revenue of more than US$100 million in the past nine months (October-June) of the current financial year 2020-2021, Myanmar Customs Department’s statistics showed.

The prices of Myanmar’s corn are climbing up in the Mandalay market on the back of strong demand by Thailand, coupled with the growing demand in the domestic market, local traders from Mandalay depot said.

Prior to Thingyan Festival in April, the corn fetched only K28,000 per three-basket bag. Both the foreign demand and domestic demand prompted the sellers to raise the prices starting from the first week of May. Following a gradual upward trend, the corn was priced above K32,900 per bag in early June and the price surged to above K36,700 per bag in August, the Soe Win Myint depot from Mandalay said.

Myanmar has been delivering corns to the neighbouring countries Thailand and China via the land borders. According to gold traders, the market volatility.

Myanmar corn export exceeds $490 million in Oct-June period

Myanmar has been delivering corns to the neighbouring countries Thailand and China via the land borders. The ship-ment to Singapore, Malaysia and Viet Nam abruptly stopped owing to zero demand, he added.

At present, Myanmar is conveying corn to Thailand through land borders, with a tone of corn fetching up to about 8,000 Thai baht.

Thailand gives the green light to corn imports through Mae Soe under zero tariff (with Form-D), between 1 February and 31 August.

Thailand has granted tax exemption on corn imports between February and August. However, Thailand imposed a maximum tax rate of 73 per cent on corn import to protect the rights of their growers if the corn is imported during the corn season of Thailand, as per the notification of the World Trade Organization regarding corn import of Thailand, said a corn exporter.

With the local corn consumption growing, Myanmar’s corn export to foreign markets is expected to reach 1.6 million tonnes this year, the association stated.

Myanmar is the second-largest exporter of corn among regional countries. At present, corn is cultivated in Shan, Kayah and Kayin states and Mandalay, Sagaing and Magway regions.

The corn crop is mostly demanded by the feedstuff processing business. Therefore, it is a potential business for both domestic and external markets, said an official of the Ministry of Commerce.

Last fiscal 2019-2020 ended 30 September, the country exported 2.2 million tonnes of corn to the external market, with an estimated value of $360 million, the Ministry of Commerce’s data showed.

As per data from the Ministry of Commerce, Myanmar exported 1.5 million tonnes valued at $370 million in the 2018-2019FY, 1.4 million tonnes of corn worth $290 million in the 2017-2018FY, 1.2 million tonnes of corn worth $250 million in the 2016-2017FY, and, 1.1 million tonnes of corn worth $300 million in the 2015-2016FY.

SINGAPORE is the second-largest importer of Myanmar with an estimated value of $2.14 billion, the Ministry of Commerce data showed.

Between 1 October and 30 June of the current financial year, the value of Myanmar’s bilateral trade with Singapore in maritime trade and border trade topped $2.5 billion.

The Ministry of Commerce reported that imports surpassed exports in trade with Singapore, with exports reaching $186.9 million and imports valued at only $2.14 billion. Myanmar trade deficit in goods with Singapore was estimated at US$1.97 billion in the past nine months (October-June) of the current financial year 2020-2021, the statistics issued by the Central Statistical Organization under the Ministry of Planning and Finance indicated.

Singapore is Myanmar’s second-largest trading partner in the region, after Thailand.

Myanmar exports agricultural products, foodstuffs, textiles and clothing, minerals, and animal products to Singapore. It imports plastics, fuel oil, capital goods, intermediate goods, consumer products, metals, and chemicals.

Myanmar’s bilateral trade with Singapore has registered $3.5 billion in the last financial year 2018-2019, $1.99 billion in the 2018 mini-budget period, $3.83 billion in the 2017-2018FY, $2.96 billion in the 2016-2017FY, and $3.69 billion in the 2015-2016FY.
China bans exams for six-year-olds as Beijing retools education system

BEIJING on Monday banned written exams for six- and seven-year-olds, as part of a sweeping education reforms aimed at relieving pressure on pupils and parents in China’s hyper-competitive school system.

China’s exam-oriented system previously required students to take exams from first grade onwards, culminating in the feared university entrance exam at age 18 known as the gaokao, where a single score can determine a child’s life trajectory.

“Avoid frequent exams... which cause students to be overburdened and under huge exam pressure,” have been axed by the Ministry of Education, according to new guidelines released Monday.

The measures are part of a wider government reforms of China’s education sector, which include a crackdown on cram schools — seen by parents as a way to inflate their children’s educational fortunes.

In late July, China ordered all private tutoring firms to turn non-profit, and barred tutoring agencies from giving lessons in core subjects at weekends and holidays, effectively crippling a $100 billion sector.

The aim is to reduce China’s education inequality, where some middle-class parents willingly fork out 100,000 yuan ($15,400) or more per year on private tutoring to get their children into top schools.

Many also snub property in schools’ catchment areas, driving up house prices.

“There is no other country that has such a strong tutoring culture (as China),” said Claudia Wang, partner and Asia education lead at Shanghai-based consulting firm Oliver Wyman.

With population growth at its slowest in decades, Chinese authorities lifted a two-child birth limit earlier this year and wish to increase incentives for parents to have more children.

Beijing city authorities last week announced that teachers must rotate schools every six years, to prevent a concentration of top talent at some schools. Education officials on Monday reiterated a ban on schools setting up “priority” classes for gifted students.

“The Ministry of Education also banned written homework for first- and second-graders earlier this year, and limited homework for junior high students to no more than 1.5 hours per night. —AFP ■

“3-D” crosswalk debuts near Kyoto school to prompt cars to slow down

A specially-painted crosswalk made to appear as if it is three-dimensional to catch the attention of drivers and get them to slow down was declared open near an elementary school in Kyoto Prefecture on Monday as the school restarted after the summer vacation.

The stripes of the crosswalk, at which there are no traffic lights, are painted not just in white but also dark red and appear to the eye to be floating in the air. It was the brainchild of Kyoto Sangyo University students.

In a ceremony to mark the opening, a police officer explained how the “3-D” crosswalk was developed to pupils at Chiyokawa Elementary School in Kameoka city. The pupils traversed the crosswalk greeting officials who held up placards warning drivers against speeding.

Kohei Yamashita, 21, one of the university students who devised the unique crosswalk, said, “We used examples from overseas as a reference. Seeing the children actually crossing at the crosswalk, I think it will be quite effective.”

Hiroki Matsuda, head of the traffic section at the Kameoka Police Station, said, “This is a fresh idea that only students can come up with,” adding he hopes it will help raise awareness among drivers that pedestrians should take priority.

Many cars do not stop at crosswalks in Japan, although they are required by law to do so and can be fined.

According to a 2020 survey conducted by the Japan Automobile Federation, the average rate of cars stopping at crosswalks without traffic lights was 21.3 per cent nationwide, while the figure stood at 19.9 per cent in Kyoto Prefecture. —Kyodo News ■

Ukraine pins hopes on Gulf visitors for pandemic-hit tourism

SARUDDI tourists ride horse-drawn carriages, pose for portraits by street artists and play chess on benches with locals in Lviv, a city in Ukraine more accustomed to hosting European guests. But with strict Covid-19 travel restrictions still in place across Europe, travellers from the Middle East — especially Saudi Arabia — top the ranks among the top visitors to the ex-Soviet state.

The trend has given hope to the country’s pandemic-hit tourism industry.

“We need to seize the moment,” says Bogdan Gets, a tour guide on a sightseeing train that ferries tourists along cobbled streets in central Lviv, a city in western Ukraine known for its Renaissance architecture.

“We get tourists from the Middle East is a chance to recover after a string of lockdowns that put pressure on Ukraine’s struggling economy.”

European stocks steady after reassurance from US Fed

EUROPEAN stocks nudged higher at the open Monday following US Federal Reserve chief Jerome Powell’s cautious comments on potential withdrawal of its massive stimulus programme later this year.

Germany’s DAX index of leading shares was close to flat soon after 9:00 am (0700 GMT), at 15,856.71 points, while the Paris-based CAC 40 index added 0.1 per cent to 6,690.28.

Trading was closed in London due to a public holiday.

On Friday, Powell had said that “it could be appropriate to start reducing the pace of asset purchases this year” from the current $120 billion per month pace at the US central bank.

But any move to slow asset purchases would still leave a large amount of stimulus in place, and would not be a signal that an increase in the benchmark lending rate would soon follow, he added.

“Powell kept his much- awaited remarks in Jackson Hole to a minimum... he went on tip-toes” which has reassured markets, said analyst Veronique Riches-Flores of Riches Flores research.

Later Monday, eyes will turn to August inflation data for Germany, the eurozone’s largest economy, ahead of a next week’s meeting of European Central Bank policymakers.

ECB chief Christine Lagarde last month promised sustained support for the single currency zone, saying that the impact of the Delta variant on the economy justifed keeping stimulus in place until at least early next year. — AFP

Asian markets track Wall St record as Powell soothes taper fears

ASIAN markets mostly rose Monday following a record-breaking close on Wall Street after Federal Reserve boss Jerome Powell indicated the central bank would be cautious in winding down its ultra- loose monetary policy and was in no hurry to lift interest rates.

In a closely watched speech Friday, Powell said the world’s top economy was well on the road to recovery from last year’s pandemic-induced collapse, with millions of jobs recovered and growth at its strongest in decades.

The Fed’s bond-buying programme — and colossal government spending worth trillions of dollars — provided crucial support and helped drive an equity market rally for more than a year. But traders have for months been debating when the crunch will be removed in order to prevent inflation from spiralling out of control and the economy overheating.

And Powell, in a speech to the Jackson Hole symposium of central bankers, soothed concerns about the bank’s approach, saying “it could be appropriate to start reducing the pace of asset purchases this year”.

But he added that would not be a signal for an increase in borrowing costs to follow soon after, instead taking into account the impact of the Delta variant on the recovery. “As widely expected, Fed Chair Powell’s Jackson Hole speech did not provide a definitive answer to the... tapering decision,” said National Australia Bank’s Rodrigo Catril.

“But his dovish undertones on his views on inflation as well as the emphasis on decoupling the rate hike decision from... tapering resulted in a risk positive market reaction.” — AFP

France’s Covid relief spending hits 240 bn euros: minister

“The bill for whatever the cost stands at 80 billion euros in subsidies, and 160 billion euros in loans,” Le Maire told France Inter radio.

The aid will now be limited to only the hardest-hit sectors such as tourism and leisure, whose representatives are to meet with Le Maire and other officials later Monday.

The government expects economic growth to hit six percent this year after France and other countries plunged into recession last year.

France’s recovery “is going to continue,” Le Maire said, in large part thanks to higher consumer spending that is helping the economy operate “at 99 per cent of its capacities.” — AFP

Hurricane Ida pummels Louisiana, knocks out power in New Orleans

A truck is seen in heavy winds and rain from hurricane Ida in Bourg, Louisiana on 29 August 2021. Hurricane Ida struck the coast of Louisiana Sunday as a powerful Category 4 storm, 16 years to the day after deadly Hurricane Katrina devastated the southern US city of New Orleans. — Mark Felix / AFP

POWERSLUNCE. Hurricane Ida battered the southern US state of Louisiana and plunged New Orleans into darkness Sunday, leaving at least one person dead 16 years to the day after Hurricane Katrina devastated the city.

Ida slammed into the Louisi ana coast as a Category 4 storm but had weakened to a Category 1 early Monday.

The storm knocked out pow er for all of New Orleans, with more than a million customers across Louisiana without pow er, according to outage tracker PowerOutage.US.

“Unbelievable. I have no last power, cit ywide! This is the time to continue to remain in your safe places. It isn’t a time to venture out!,” New Orleans mayor LaToya Cantrell said on Twitter.

But current and former off icials slammed government fail ings, suggesting many Af ghans could have been rescued.

Foreign Minister Dominic Raab has already been strongly criticized for not immediately leaving a beach holiday when the Taliban took control. The Observer said it saw evidence that an official email account set up by the Foreign Office to receive such pleas regularly had 5,000 unopened emails last week. — AFP

UK government blasted over Afghan exit as hundreds left behind

THE UK government on Sun day faced a torrent of criticism after its hurried withdrawal from Afghanistan ended, leaving hundreds eligible for relo cation behind. Prime Minister Boris Johnson hailed a mission of “unlike anything we have seen in our lifetimes” after the UK airlift ed over 15,000 people in the last two weeks. Troops landed back at Brize Norton airbase in southern England on Sunday after Britain was forced to withdraw following the decision of its ally the United States to end its 20-year presence.

Johnson praised the evacua tion efforts in “harrowing condi tions” and assured the military that decades of deployment “were not in vain” after the Tal iban retook control.

The Observer leftwing broadsheet cited a whistleblow er as saying thousands of emails from MPs and charities to the foreign ministry highlighting specific Afghans at risk from the Taliban takeover went unopened.

Aid groups and engineers are racing to complete their withdrawal from Afghani stan and evacuate allies under the threat of Islamic State group attacks. President Joe Biden has set a deadline of Tuesday to withdraw all US forces from Af ghanistan, drawing to a close his nation’s longest military conflict, which began in retaliation for the 11 September attacks.

The return of the hardline Is lamist Taliban movement, which was toppled in 2001 but took back power a fortnight ago, triggered an exodus of terrified people aboard US-led evacuation flights.

Those flights, which have taken more than 120,000 people out of Kabul airport, will officially end on Tuesday when the last of the thousands of American troops pull out. But US forces are now focused chiefly on flying them selves and American diplomats out safely.

The Islamic State group, rivals of the Taliban, pose the biggest threat to the withdrawal after carrying out a suicide bomb attack at the perimeter of the air port late last week that claimed more than 100 lives, including those of 13 US troops.

ROCKETS were fired at Kabul’s airport on Monday where US troops were racing to complete their withdrawal from Afghanistan, leaving some American and other diplomats under threat.

Instead, much closer to the water’s edge, Khammees and neighbours were busy planting corn and beans in the water’s edge, Khamees said. “It’s drying up. Our water sources have been dried up. President Joe Biden, who de scribed Ida as “a life-threatening storm,” declared a major disaster for Louisiana, which gives it ac cess to federal aid.

Aid groups and engineers are racing to complete their withdrawal from Afghani stan and evacuate allies under the threat of Islamic State group attacks. President Joe Biden has set a deadline of Tuesday to withdraw all US forces from Af ghanistan, drawing to a close his nation’s longest military conflict, which began in retaliation for the 11 September attacks.

The return of the hardline Is lamist Taliban movement, which was toppled in 2001 but took back power a fortnight ago, triggered an exodus of terrified people aboard US-led evacuation flights.

Those flights, which have taken more than 120,000 people out of Kabul airport, will officially end on Tuesday when the last of the thousands of American troops pull out. But US forces are now focused chiefly on flying them selves and American diplomats out safely.

The Islamic State group, rivals of the Taliban, pose the biggest threat to the withdrawal after carrying out a suicide bomb attack at the perimeter of the air port late last week that claimed more than 100 lives, including those of 13 US troops.

Biden had warned more at tacks were highly likely and the United States said it carried out an air strike on Sunday night in Kabul on an IS-prepared car bomb. — AFP

‘Desert’: drying Euphrates threatens disaster in Syria

SYRIAS longest river used to flow by olive grove, but today Khaled al-Khamees says it has receded into the distance, parching his trees and leaving his family with hardly a drop to drink. “It’s as if we were in the desert,” said the 50-year-old farmer, standing on what last year was the Euphrates riverbed.

Aquifers and enlightened warning of a looming human itarian disaster in northeast Syria, where waning river flow is compounding woes after a decade of war. They say plummeting water levels at hydroelectric dams since January are threatening wa ter and power cutoffs for up to five million Syrians, in the middle of a coronavirus pan demic and economic crisis.

As drought grips the Mediterranean region, many in the Kurdish-held area are accusing neighbour and arch foe Turkey of weaponry water by tightening the tap upstream, though a Turkish source denied this. Outside the village of Rumayleh where Khammees lives, black irrigation hoses lie in dusty coils after the riv er receded so far it became too expensive to operate the water pumps.

Instead, much closer to the water’s edge, Khammees and neighbours were busy planting corn and beans in the soil just last year submerged under the current. The father of 12 said he had not seen the river so far away from the village in decades. “The women have to walk seven kilometres (four miles) just to get a bucket of water for their children to drink,” he said.

Teachers should be priority group for Covid jabs: WHO

TEACHERS and school staff should be among the groups prioritized for Covid-19 vaccinations so that schools in Europe and Central Asia can stay open, the World Health Organization (WHO) and Unicef said on Monday.

Measures to ensure that schools can stay open throughout the pandemic “include offering teachers and other school staff the Covid-19 vaccine as part of target population groups in national vaccination plans,” the UN agencies wrote in a statement.

The recommendation, already made by a group of WHO experts in November 2020 before the vaccination roll-out, should be done “while ensuring vaccination of vulnerable populations,” the statement said.

As schools reopen after the summer holidays, the agencies said it was “vital that classroom-based learning continues uninterrupted,” despite the spread of the more contagious Delta variant of the virus.

“This is of paramount importance for children’s education, mental health and social skills, for schools to help equip our children to be happy and productive members of society,” the director of the WHO European region, Hans Kluge, said in the statement.

“The pandemic has caused the most catastrophic disruption to education in history,” he added.

The agencies urged countries to vaccinate children over the age of 12 who have underlying medical conditions that put them at greater risk of severe Covid-19 disease.

It also recalled the importance of measures to improve the school environment during the pandemic, including better ventilation, smaller class sizes, social distancing and regular Covid testing for children and staff.

According to the WHO’s recommendations published in early July, testing of children in risk groups who display Covid-19 symptoms should be a priority — AFP

North Korea appears to have restarted nuclear reactor: UN agency

NUCLEAR-ARMED North Korea appears to have restarted its plutonium-producing reprocessing reactor in a “deeply troubling” development, the UN atomic agency has said.

The development on the 5-megawatt reactor in Yongbyon — North Korea’s main nuclear complex — comes with nuclear talks between Pyongyang and Washington at a standstill.

North Korean leader Kim Jong Un offered to dismantle part of the Yongbyon complex at a second summit with then US President Donald Trump but not other sites, in exchange for sanctions relief, and his offer was rejected.

North Korea is under multiple sets of international sanctions over its nuclear weapons and ballistic missile programmes, which have seen rapid progress under Kim.

“Since early July there have been indications, including the discharge of cooling water, consistent with the operation of the reactor,” the International Atomic Energy Agency said in its annual report.

The Yongbyon reactor appeared to have been inactive from December 2018 until then, added the report dated Friday.

IAEA inspectors were kicked out of North Korea in 2009, and the agency has since monitored it from outside. — AFP

Palestinian president, Israeli defence minister hold rare talks

ISRAELIS defence minister has met Palestinian president Mahmoud Abbas for a rare high-level meeting, but a source close to Prime Minister Naftali Bennett insisted Monday his government had no plans to reboot peace talks.

Defence Minister Benny Gantz met Abbas in Ramallah for what were reportedly the first direct talks between an Israeli cabinet member and the 86-year-old Palestinian leader in several years. The meeting, which Gantz’s office said focused on “security policy, civilian and economic issues”, came just hours after Bennett returned from Washington where he met US President Joe Biden. Biden said he would urge Bennett to find ways “to advance peace and security and prosperity for Israelis and Palestinians.”

According to a defence ministry statement, Gantz told Abbas that Israel “seeks to take measures that will strengthen the PAs economy”.

“They also discussed shaping the security and economic situations in the West Bank and in Gaza,” and agreed to “continue communicating further,” it added.

A source close to Bennett said the meeting that he had approved focused on “issues between the defence establishment and the Palestinian Authority”. “There is no peace process with the Palestinians nor will there be,” under Bennett’s leadership, said the source who requested anonymity.

The Gantz-Abbas meeting included the head of the Israeli military branch responsible for civil affairs in the Palestinian territories, Ghasan Alyan, senior PA official Hussein Al Sheikh and Palestinian intelligence chief Majid Faraj. — AFP

Russia calls on US to release Afghan reserves

RUSSIA on Monday called on the United States to release Afghan central bank reserves that Washington blocked after the Taliban’s takeover of Kabul earlier this month. “If our Western colleagues are actually worried about the fate of the Afghan people, then we must not create additional problems for them by freezing gold and foreign exchange reserves,” said the Kremlin’s envoy to Afghanistan Zamir Kabulov.

The United States must urgently unfreeze these assets, he said on the state-run Rossiya 24 network, “to bolster the rate of the collapsing national currency”.

Kabulov added that without doing so the new Afghan authorities will turn to “the trafficking of illegal opiates” and “sell on the black market the weapons” abandoned by the Afghan army and the United States. The Afghan central bank’s gross reserves totalled $4.9 billion at the end of April, according to the IMF. The majority of these funds are held outside of Afghanistan. Washington has indicated that the Taliban will not have access to assets held in the United States, without specifying the total amount there. IPC chief says Tokyo Paralympics exceeding expectations amid pandemic

THE president of the International Paralympic Committee said Monday the ongoing sporting event for athletes with disabilities in Tokyo has exceeded his expectations since starting about a week ago despite being held amid the coronavirus pandemic. “It’s been really fantastic so far; we are providing a safe environment to the athletes; we are also protecting the Japanese population at the same time,” Andrew Parsons said at a press conference to mark the halfway point of the 13-day Paralympics.

While some COVID-19 cases have been reported among participants and workers related to the games, Parsons said the organizers have been taking adequate measures to prevent the virus from spreading, adding that the “key” is to track infections and isolate those who test positive from others. Toshiro Muto, CEO of the organizing committee, also said the Paralympics have been “generally going smoothly” since they opened on 24 August following a one-year postponement. — Kyodo News

Europe’s top 30 clubs account for half of global transfer spend

FOOTBALL clubs worldwide splashed out $48.5 billion (41.1 billion euros) on international transfer fees over the past decade, almost half of which was spent by the top 30 clubs, FIFA revealed in a report published Monday.

The report charted the number of international transfers and loans concluded between FIFA’s 200 member associations, totaling 133,225 such moves over the period from 2011 to 2020. Transfer market activity rose to a peak of 18,079 in 2019. However, the 30 top-spending clubs all came from Europe, led by England with 12, Spain and Italy had five each with Germany (three), France and Portugal (both two) and Russia (one) completing the list.

This group of clubs alone forked out $22.8 billion on transfer fees, representing 47 per cent of the global total over the decade.

FIFA also highlighted the growing commissions paid to agents, which soared from 131.1 million in 2011 to $640.5 million two years ago. Agents pocketed $3.5 billion in commission on overseas deals over the course of the decade.
