International organizations including United Nations have called for inclusiveness of all parties involved in the political transitional process and for national reconciliation through dialogue.

However, it is heard that authorities charged Daw Aung San Suu Kyi according to the article 22 of the 'State Protection Law', who is nearly due to be released although she has never committed any crime, and sent her into a residence near the Insein Jail. Hearing of the court will start on 18th May, 2009. As it is not an appropriate legal action to take against her, the National League for Democracy declares strong protest against it.
