Gratitude owed to our forefathers

Because of the gratitude owed to our forefathers of the successive eras, who lived in unity with high vision, attaching themselves with bonds of amity, with the family spirit – love and friendship, helpfulness, sympathy, mutual reliance, understanding, forgiveness, and cooperation based on common interest – as the foundation, the national races of the Union have been able to live together and join hands for a long time.

Try to make movies of international standard

Improvement of movie standard is the lifeblood of Myanmar's film world. Film artistes, technicians and producers are to focus on meeting the standards of their movies. They have to try to improve more in all parts such as plot, acting and mode of dress.

In making and screening global movies, modern technologies and equipment and good sound effects are being used. It is found that their movies are penetrating the international market due to excellent performance in all sectors plus the efforts of film directors and stars.

With the assistance rendered by the State and the efforts made by those from the film world, Myanmar has been able to make movies with better picture, colour and sound system. So it is necessary to continue to improve the movie standard and produce movies of international standard till reaching the global market.

Throughout the successive eras, those from the Myanmar film industry were able to uplift national integrity with the might of arts. They have constantly been discharging national duties from the period of independence struggles to the present time of building a new nation.

With the advent of globalization among world countries, alien culture such as arts, music and dress style of some countries is infiltrating into Myanmar. Their ideology and character has wielded influence on us. Therefore, the people, including the youth, are to be vigilant against such alien culture.

A movie has great influence on us. So, film artistes and producers are to try to produce movies in which their acting and mode of dress are compatible with the Myanmar culture. All in all, Myanmar Motion Picture Asiayon and those from the film world are to make greater efforts to produce movies of international standard.

NAY PYI TAW, 7 Feb—Special Refresher Course No. 13 for faculty members concluded at the Central Institute of Civil Service (Upper Myanmar) in PyinOoLwin Township, Mandalay Division this morning. Faculty members were to try hard to have encyclopedic knowledge of their respective subjects, meanwhile, they were also to nurture their students as efficient human resources for future society based on

Iran opens production lines for two new missiles

TEHRAN, 7 Feb — Iran opened its production lines for two new missiles — the Toofan 5 anti-armour missile and the Qaem anti-helicopter missile — on Saturday, the Fars news agency reported.

"The Toufan 5 missile is one of the most advanced anti-armour missiles, which has two warheads and is capable of destroying armoured vehicles, tanks and personnel carriers due to its high penetration power," Iranian Defence Minister Ahmad Vahidi said at the inauguration ceremony.

The Qaem semi-heavy guided missile can destroy targets flying at low speeds and altitudes, specially the ag-

The Qaem missile is not prone to enemy's electronic warfare as it is laser-guided, he added.

Also on Saturday, Commander of Iran's Khatam ol-Anbia Air Defence Base Brigadier General Ahmad Miqani said Iran has reached full self-sufficiency in the production of different types of needed radars with different ranges and frequency bands, Fars reported.—Xinhua

Vietnam tackles US in first WTO case

HANOI, 7 Feb—Vietnam has filed its first case over anti-dumping measures under World Trade Organization rules since joining the body three years ago, official media reported.

Vietnam brought the case against anti-dumping tariffs imposed by the United States on frozen shrimp, the Vietnam News Agency said in a report late on Friday.

WTO is the only global international organization dealing with the rules of trade between nations.

Vietnam, whose shrimp exporters face US tariffs ranging from 4.13 percent to 25.76 percent, sent a request to the United States on Monday to discuss the anti-dumping measures, the Vietnam News Agency said.

If the two countries cannot reach an agreement on the issue within 60 days, Vietnam can propose that the WTO set up a committee to settle the dispute, the report said.

Vietnamese officials were not immediately able to comment.

A US diplomat, speaking in Hanoi on Saturday, said only that he had heard about Vietnam's complaint to the WTO.

Australia's Resourcehouse signs China coal deal

SYDNEY, 7 Feb—Australian miner Resourcehouse said on Saturday it had signed a 60-billion-US-dollar coal deal with energy-hungry China, calling it the country's "biggest-ever export contract".

Resourcehouse Chairman Clive Palmer said the company had negotiated a 20-year agreement to supply China Power International Development (CPI) with 30 million tonnes of coal a year from a proposed mine in Central Queensland.

"This deal with CPI is Australia's biggest ever export contract," Palmer said in a statement.

The latest in a string of major deals between China and resource-rich Australia, the project signals a thaw in diplomatic tensions surrounding the detention of Rio Tinto executive Stern Hu and freight iron ore price talks.

It also reflects China's gradual turn from being a major coal exporter to increasingly importing the fuel from countries such as Indonesia and Australia.

Palmer, Australia's fifth-richest man, said he had awarded the engineering and construction management contract for the eight-billion-US-dollar thermal coal mine, named "China First," to Metallurgical Corp of China (MCC).

Open skies, budget travel: Asian airlines soar

SINGAPORE, 7 Feb—The boom in low-cost travel and a growing web of open-skies agreements are expected to power long-term growth for Asian airlines after the global recession, industry bosses and analysts said.

Participants in the Singapore Airshow which ended on Sunday expressed optimism that the region, particularly China, will lead the rest of the world to recovery after the most harrowing year in global travel.

The world aviation industry lost an estimated 11 billion dollars in 2009 after a financial crisis that began in the United States grounded travellers and forced airlines to cancel or defer plane orders.

Organizers of the Singapore Airshow said 10 billion dollars' worth of contracts were done during the event, down from 13 billion dollars in 2008.

"We look forward to the market picking up further as the industry rides the upturn," said Jimmy Lau, managing director of the show, Asia's biggest civilian-military aerospace conference and exhibition.

Chin State in blossom with developments, peace and prosperity

Myanmar suffered miseries of over 40 years instability due to evil legacy of the colonialists that had enslaved Myanmar for over 100 years, and then it became backward and bankrupt in all aspects.

The Myanmar Tatmadaw that had saved the country and the people whenever there was a crisis in successive eras safeguarded the motherland. All the people are enjoying peace, stability and security.

Since its assumption of the State duties, the Tatmadaw Government has been striving for development of the nation day in, day out. The government has made peace with 17 major national race armed groups and many small armed groups. The government fulfilled the requirements of economic, education, health, transport and social sectors for the national brethren.

With a view to narrowing the development gap among the States and Divisions, the government designated 24 special development regions. Due to the five rural development tasks, equitable progress can be witnessed in all States and Divisions including rural and border areas.

Chin State is located in the northwest part of Myanmar, between north latitude 20°40' and 24° and between east longitude 92°36' and 94°09'. The region, with an area of 13,907 square miles, is home to Chin national races, Mro, Khami and Bamar national races.

Chin State has plentiful mountain ranges and a few plain regions. Mountain ranges are stretching from the north to the south. Chin State has valleys and basins among the mountain ranges. Manipura River is the artery of Chin State. Mount Victoria (or) Khornusum, 10,200 feet high, is the highest in Chin State.

Chin State is constituted with Falam and Mindat districts. Falam District is formed with Haka, Falam, Tiddim, Tonzang, Thantlang, Kyikha and Reed townships. Mindat, Kanpetlet, Paletwa, Matupi, Rezwa townships are located in the area of Mindat District. Over 540,000 people are residing together in 1389 villages of 471 village-tracts of Chin State.

Agriculture and Economy

In the geographical conditions, a lot of "V" shape valleys can be seen in Chin State. The local people grow crops on hillsides. The sown acreage of the State could extend to 312,923 as the Tatmadaw Government built Liva Dam to benefit 500 acres of farmlands in Falam Township on 6 April 1994, constructed small dams in villages and reclaimed highland farmlands. Therefore, the local farmers can cultivate paddy, beans, maize, edible oil crops and other various kinds of crops.

Chin State is blessed with fertile soil and favourable weather for growing tea. In accord with the guidance that Chin State must be tea state, the local growers focus on cultivation of tea. Up to 2009, the local farmers and departmental personnel have put 20,196 acres of land under tea plants. In compliance with the guidance of the Head of State, a total of 65,030 mythuns are being bred on a commercial scale in the state. Actually, the national people in Chin State are enjoying fruits of developing socio-economy.

Education

The government is implementing the short- and long-term plans in the education sector. The international standard human resources are being turned out in line with the 20-year plan by applying modern technology. The government is giving priority to creating the equitable learning opportunity for the hilly and plain regions of the State with the aim of enabling all the citizens to learn basic education and continuously turning out intellectuals and intelligentsia.

Due to an increase in the number of enthusiasts to pursue education, all Basic Education Primary, Middle and High Schools are extended with branches and post-primary schools. At present, Chin State opens 1590 basic education schools in all regions.

Universities in Kalay and Monywa Districts of Sagaing Division, included in the 24 special development regions for Chin State and other universities in Magway Division, are ready to provide higher education to those who have passed the matriculation examination. Students in Falam District are pursuing education at Kalay University, Technological University, University of Computer Studies and training schools of the Ministry of Science and Technology in Kalay District. Chin State is equipped with 24 hospitals and 14 station hospitals with the assignment of 83 specialists, 197 assistant surgeons and over 1300 nurses to provide health care services to the local people.

The whole state has one 100-bed general hospital in Haka, one 100-bed general hospital in Mindat, one 200-bed general hospital in Falam, township hospitals in Tiddim, Tonzang, Thantlang, Matupi, Kanpetlet and Paletwa townships in addition to 46 rural health centres.

As part of efforts to uplift the health standard of the region, the 100-bed Haka Hospital is being upgraded to the 200-bed facility and Tiddim 50-bed hospital to the 100-bed facility. These hospitals will be inaugurated soon. As such, it is obvious that the government is placing emphasis on health sector of of TV re-transmission stations, the local people can enjoy the programmes of TV Myanmar and Myawady TV.

Transport

Due to prevalence of peace and stability, roads and bridges have emerged one after another. Therefore, remarkable progress can be seen in education, health, economic and social sectors of the local people.

Special Bridge Construction Group of the Ministry of Construction built inter-district roads and inter-village roads in addition to bridges and Union Highways as the road networks.

Once, there were two bridges—the 270-foot Natzang Bridge in Tonzang Township and the 240-foot Lemyo Bridge in Matupi Township. Out of 757 miles long roads, most of the facilities were of earthen type.

At present, the Ministry for Progress of Border Areas and National Races and Development Affairs

mented to construct a 43 miles and seven furlongs long new road for Chin State dwellers to have easy access to other regions at anytime.

On his inspection tour of Shan State in April 2002, Head of State Senior General Than Shwe gave guidance, saying that being close relatives and brethren, the government was looking after the health and wealth of all the national people residing in 14 States and Divisions. The Government is making all-out efforts to serve the interests of the national races and to ensure a brighter future of them. All races living in the Union are Myanmar nationals. The Government has no will to discriminate against any national races and wants to lead them towards prosperity. Thanks to loving-kindness and genuine goodwill of the Head of State, the local people in Chin State are enjoying fruits of all-round development.

Hailing the 63rd Anniversary Union Day

Bounden duty of all national races of the Union

Shwe Ein Si

Perpetuation of independence and sovereignty is essential for every country. So, Union Spirit is at the heart of the nation. A union is a land formed with states and divisions under the administration of the central government. In other words, it is a land where all national people make their home through thick and thin. Union Spirit is nationalistic spirit (the spirit of national solidarity), with which the entire national people must equip themselves strongly.

The Union of Myanmar is located in Indochina Peninsula, Southeast Asia, and it has stood as a sovereign, independent nation for thousands of years. With an area of 261,228 square miles, the nation is 582 miles wide between east and west and 1275 miles long between south and north. It shares its borderline with its neighbours for 3808 miles. Its coast is 1385 miles long from the source of the Naff River in the northern part and Bayintnaung Bay in the southern part. It has over 14,000 square miles between the coast and beaches and the exclusive economic zone. Myanmar is blessed with the politically, economically and socially strategic location, temperate climate pattern, rich natural resources and human resources. Therefore, perpetuation of sovereignty is the most indispensable national policy of the nation.

More than 100 national races such as Kachin, Kayah, Kayin, Chin, Bamar, Mon, Rakhine, Shan, Jinhaw, Wa, Palaung, Leshu, Naga, Rawan, Akha, Danu, PaO, Kayan, Myo, and Taungyo have been living with amicable relationships in the Union of Myanmar for thousands of years. There is slight difference between their religious faiths, cultures, customs and traditions, but all national races have shared the common nature of leading a peaceful life and peaceful coexistence along with bravery, uprightness, honesty and hospitality from time immemorial. Our ancestors preserved and safeguarded their monarchy, sovereignty, law, literature and culture throughout Tagaung, Srikestra, Bagan, Innwa, Sagaing, Pinya, Toungoo, Konbaung and Yadanabon periods. In retrospect, King Anawrahta unified the whole country into the First Myanmar Empire in Bagan Period; King Bayintnaung, the Second Myanmar Empire in Toungoo Period; and King Alaungphaya, the Third Myanmar Empire in Konbaung Period. In the process, the visionary kings effectively mobilized the consolidated unity of all national races, as a fine tradition.

The history of the independence struggles revealed that only with the consolidated unity, did national races fight back the British troops to throw off the fetters of colonial rule. And only with the strong sense of Union Spirit, could all national races show significant resilience in grappling with the strategy the British exercised to prolong its colonial rule over the nation by stirring up problems designed to undermine the national unity, and sowing hatred and doubts between the mainland and hilly regions. Even at the last moment when the colonialists did not have any other choice except to grant independence to Myanmar, they plotted to set aside highlands. Therefore, national brethren made their unanimous demand to regain independence of the whole nation, by reaching an agreement in Panglong on 12 February 1947. Rekindling the vigour of the Union, the people managed to regain independence that had been lost to the colonialists for more than 100 years. The strong sense of national people's Union Spirit conceived in Panglong served as a driving force behind the struggle to achieve the independence. And with the consolidated unity, the entire brethren have been able to safeguard the motherland.

In his message to mark the 57th Anniversary Union Day, Head of State Senior General Than Shwe said that learning invaluable lessons that the nation was strong with high economic growth rate due to consolidated national unity and the nation became weak with less development due to disintegration of national solidarity, the State Peace and Development Council laid down the National Policy "Non-disintegration of the Union, Non-disintegration of national solidarity, and Perpetuation of sovereignty" in its bid to build national unity by ensuring national reconsolidation and flourishing of Union Spirit.

Since 18 September 1988 on which it took over State duties unavoidably, the Tatmadaw government has put national reconsolidation to the forefront. As a result, the government managed to settle the internal conflicts that persisted over 40 years, following the regaining of independence. In its time, the Tatmadaw government managed to make peace with 17 major national race armed groups and many other small groups, thereby improving the life quality of local people. With the aim of shaping the nation (See page 9) into a peaceful, modern one, the government is now working hard to introduce the Union system and the discipline-flourishing multiparty democracy system and strengthen the market economy.

Bounden duty of all national races of the Union

In order to implement such prudent plans for a prosperous future and development of the nation, the entire national people on their part have to do their bit. Only then will the Union be able to enjoy development.

The government formed the Ministry of Progress of Border Areas and National Races on 24 September 1992 with a view to expediting the tasks with Union Spirit for further progress of border areas and national racies. On 30 January 1994, the government reconstituted the ministry into the Ministry of Progress of Border Areas and National Races and Development Affairs. The Head of State chairs the Central Committee for Progress of Border Areas and National Races.

The Project for Development of Border Areas and National Races covers 22 regions of 68 townships with a total area of 83,415.34 square miles. Besides, the government has adopted the 24-region Special Development Project for equitable development of all parts of the Union, and has improved all infrastructures for all-round development of the Myanmar society.

The government put into action the 15-year plan

(1999-2000 to 2014) as a national duty to ward off the over-100-year evil legacy of narcotic drugs in border areas the colonialists left on purpose. The initial purpose of the plan is to enable local people to get alternative livelihoods. It is now trying its best to achieve the goal in order that the whole nation will be free from narcotic drugs by 2014.

Now, there have been signs of progress in exploiting natural resources, human resources and manmade resources for strengthening the national economy.

Today, the whole country has enjoyed development at the unprecedented level. In the agricultural sector, the major productivity of the nation, the total sown acreage has increased to 56.9 million; the number of river-water pumping stations, 322; that of number of dams, to 228; and underground water tapping stations, to 8001. So far, the government has established 18 industrial zones across the nation, and the number of State-owned factories has surged to 768, and that of private-owned factories, to over 118,000. There is a growing number of transport facilities in both rural and urban areas. Now, the total length of roads has gone up to 41,700 miles, that of the rural roads, to over 39,400 miles, and that of railroads, to 4338 miles. With 18 river-spanning bridges, 233 above-180-foot bridges, 55 rail bridges, and 37 airports, the nation has begun to enjoy smooth transport and swift commodity flow.

It gives top priority to national reconsolidation, community peace, and the rule of law in its bid to transform the nation into a peaceful, modern and developed one. It has been implementing the five rural development programmes for ensuring equitable development of all regions, and narrowing the development gap between rural and urban areas.

Furthermore, the government has brought the number of universities and colleges to 159; basic education schools, to 40,679; post-primary schools, to 6601; affiliated middle and high schools, to 1723; and affiliated high schools and branch high schools, to 1092 for human resource development that is crucial for boosting productivity of the nation.

It opened the University for Development of National Races in Ywathitkyi, Sagaing Division, on 10 June 1991; the Nationality Youths Development Degree College (Yangon)

63rd Anniversary Union Day Objectives

- * For all national races to uphold the national policy—non-disintegration of the Union, non-disintegration of national solidarity, and perpetuation of sovereignty
- * To boost the sense of Union Spirit of the national people
- * To defend and safeguard the Union with consolidated unity of all national races against dangers posed to disrupt State stability and development by internal and external subversives
- * For all national races to work harder to build a modern, developed, discipline-flourishing democratic nation in line with the State Constitution approved with the great majority of the ballot
- * For all national races to make concerted efforts for successful accomplishment of the seven-step Road Map on 15 June 2000; and the Nationality Youths Development Degree College (Mandalay) on 12 July 2000. As to the health sector, the government has set up 884 hospitals and 16 universities of paramedical science so as to provide better health care to national people.

It is therefore required of every national to cultivate a strong sense of Union Spirit wherever they live in the Union. Indeed, Union Spirit is exactly the patriotic spirit all national races must uphold forever.

Today, neo-colonialists are resorting to all possible ways and means and tactics and driving a wedge among national races to undermine national unity, and disrupt the nation's political, economic and social development.

Who will guard the Union for its perpetuity that we have built, except us?

Who will cope with internal and external subversives trying to jeopardize State stability and peace and development except us?

Who will preserve and safeguard national prestige and integrity of the Union except us?

Today, the entire people of the Union have to remain united with a strong sense of nationalistic fervour. If the people of all generations adhere to national solidarity and Union Spirit, the nation will be able to overcome any forms of internal and external destructive acts. Therefore, I would like to exhort all people to shoulder in concert the national duties to meet the national goal of the national bretheren—to build a discipline-flourishing modern, developed nation.

Mudslides sweep away cars, assault homes near LA

LA CANADA FLINTRIDGE, 7 Feb — Thunderous mudslides damaged dozens of homes, swept away cars and pushed furniture into the streets of the foothills north of Los Angeles on Saturday as intense winter rain poured down mountains denuded by a summer wildfire.

No injuries were reported but residents and emergency responders were caught off guard by the unpredicted ferocity of the storm, which damaged more than 40 homes and dozens of vehicles.

Some 540 homes were eventually evacuated at the foot of the San Gabriel Mountains after heavy rains overflowed debris basins, carried away cement barricades and filled houses with mud and rocks.

Another 300 homes to the east in Sierra Madre were evacuated for much of the day, but residents were told they could return home on Saturday night when another wave of rain proved tame. Flash flood warnings for foothill areas also were called off.—Internet

Six killed at bar in cartel-plagued Mexican state

CULIACAN, 7 Feb—Gunmen killed six people at a bar on Saturday in the northern state of Sinaloa, a drug-violence hotspot, state prosecutors said.

At least three gunmen walked into Las Herraduras bar in the resort city of Mazatlan early on Saturday and opened fire, killing a customer and two waiters, said Martin Gatelum, spokesman for the Sinaloa state prosecutor's office.

A taxi driver and a night watchman were killed outside the bar, where the assailants also shot to death a hostage who had led them to the bar, Gatelum said.

Sinaloa, Mexico's drug-smuggling heartland, is the birthplace of the leaders of four of the six major cartels.

In the border city of Ciudad Juarez, authorities on Saturday announced the arrest of a second suspect in last week's massacre of 15 people, many of them teenagers with no known criminal ties.

Century-old spirits found in Antarctic

A New Zealand restoration team said they discovered five crates of whisky and brandy buried in the Antarctic for more than a century.

The New Zealand Antarctic Heritage Trust team working to restore Sir Ernest Shackleton's 100-year-old hut at Cape Royds said they discovered three crates of whisky and two crates of brandy left behind by the explorer and his team when they left the Antarctic in 1909, The Times of London reported on Friday.

"The unexpected find of the brandy crates, one labelled Charles Mackinlay & Co and the other labelled The Hunter Valley Distillery Limited Allandale are a real bonus," trust official Al Fastier said. Mountain lions evade capture in Calif

California wildlife officials said two mountain lions spotted by hikers in a San Mateo county park were tracked by officials but evaded capture.

State Department of Fish and Game warden Patrick Foy said the hikers, two brothers in their early 50s, attempted to ward the mountain lions off with a stick when they encountered the animals on Sunday at Pescadero Creek County Park near La Honda, but the predators stalked them all the way back to their car, the San Francisco Chronicle reported on Friday.

Foy said trackers found signs of the mountain lions but were unable to capture them.

"We found actual tracks and our tracking dogs picked up on the scent right off," Foy said. "It was very obvious to us it was a credible story with real lions. We put the hounds on the ground and they struck a scent immediately.

"Unfortunately, the lions were successful in escaping," Foy said. "There's two aggressive lions ... out there."

County officials said another mountain lion sighting was reported Wednesday in La Honda. It is unknown whether it was one of the same animals.

Interest in Apple's iPad wanes after launch

SAN FRANCISCO, 7 Feb—The announcement of Apple's tablet iPad and related media hype helped raise the awareness of the new device, but failed to convince consumers to buy one, said a survey released on Friday.

The survey, by online technology shopping site Retrevo, showed that about 48 percent of consumers said they had heard of the Apple tablet before the company formerly unveiled the device. The percentage rose to 82 percent after Apple announced the long-anticipated iPad on 27 Jan and said shipping will begin from March.

According to Retrevo, the results were based on study of more than 1,000 randomly selected users.

The survey also found that the number of respondents saying they had heard about the tablet but were not interested in buying one doubled from 26 percent before the announcement to about 52 percent following the launch.—Xinhua

Egypt signs off on Apache oil deals

CAIRO, 7 Feb—Cairo announced it signed formal agreements with US oil and gas explorer Apache for prospecting rights in the deserts in the west of the country.

"Sameh Fahmi" Sameh Fahmi, Egypt's Petroleum Minister, said Apache plans to drill 13 oil wells in the Western Desert in a deal estimated at $39 million, the Egypt State Information Service reports.

Apache announced in January its latest discovery near the Libyan border tested at a rate of 5,085 barrels of oil and 130,000 cubic feet of natural gas per day.

The discovery is in line with a series of successful explorations for the company in the Faghur

Chinese sales boosts luxury goods market in 2009

PARIS, 7 Feb—Despite the economic crisis, 2009 ended better than it began for the French luxury goods sector, thanks largely to China's growing taste for high-end products, encouraging thoughts of a better 2010.

Following the trend set by other global luxury brands, Hermes and LVMH (Louis Vuitton Moet Hennessy) announced fourth quarter sales growth on Thursday and Friday, suggesting the worst of the crisis could be over for the sector.

12 pct of recent vets unemployed

WASHINGTON, 7 Feb—Veterans of the Afghan and Iraq Wars are more likely to be unemployed than non-veterans, while the foreign-born and disabled are more likely to be jobless than the general population.

These figures were included for the first time on Friday in the Labour Department's monthly employment report. Overall, the report included mildly positive news: the nation's jobless rate fell to 9.7 percent in January from 10 percent.

For veterans who have served since September 2001, joblessness is higher: 12.6 percent, compared to 10.4 percent for non-vets. Both groups have higher rates than the national total because the figures aren't seasonally adjusted.

When veterans from all other periods are included, the picture is brighter: the unemployment rate for all vets is 9.6 percent, below the non-vet rate.

Minivans drive up auto sales growth in China

BEIJING, 7 Feb—China's automobile market continued its robust growth in January, with sales surging 84 percent from a year earlier, heavily boosted by minivans, China Passenger Car Association said on Friday.

The sales boost was largely driven by the minivan segment, which jumped 88.9 percent year-on-year and 44.4 percent from the previous month. This was mainly a result of subsidies for trade-ins and tax cuts introduced as part of the government's stimulus programme.

India to work with other countries on Indian Ocean security

NEW DELHI, 7 Feb—Indian Navy Chief Admiral Nirmal Verma on Friday said India preferred to work together with other countries of the Indian Ocean region rather than assuming a leadership role, reported the local daily The Hindu on Saturday.

Verma said that India wanted to come together with other countries "on a constructive level" instead of "coming in as a headmaster," when he addressed a seminar at a multilateral naval exercise at the Indian Andaman and Nicobar Islands southeast off the Bay of Bengal, said the report.

He was responding to a question on how India would react to an assumption made by the US Defence Department recently that Indian Navy could have greater security role in the Indian Ocean region, according to the report. Nine foreign ships and delegations from 12 countries including Australia, Brunei, Bangladesh, Indonesia, Malaysia, Myanmar, New Zealand, the Philippines, Singapore, Sri Lanka, Thailand and Vietnam arrived in Andaman and Nicobar Islands on Wednesday for the seventh edition of the joint naval exercise.

Yemen tightens security at airports

SANAA, 7 Feb—Yemeni authorities have beefed up security measures at all the country's airports, military-run 26sep.net website reported on Friday.

The measures were taken in line with similar procedures taken by several countries around the world, according to the report.

As part of the new measures, the Yemeni authorities will use advanced inspection systems, the report added without giving further details.

The report noted that the country has recently been awarded a certificate by the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO), which assures that the procedures taken in the country's airports are in conformity to the international standards on aviation safety. —Xinhua

UNICEF condemns increase of child trafficking in Haiti

PORT-AU-PRINCE, 7 Feb—The United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) on Friday condemned the increase of child trafficking in Haiti at a time of grief and loss after the devastating earthquake on 12 Jan.

UNICEF Executive Director Ann Veneman said during a visit to Haiti that the Haitian judicial system should be in charge of the trial against the 10 Americans who attempted to take 33 Haitian children out of the country without proper documents on 29 Jan.

The increasing number of child trafficking incidents in Haiti at this disastrous time is worrying UNICEF, said Veneman.

LONDON, 7 Feb—Harry Redknapp insists the race to finish in the top four is wide open after Tottenham blew their chance of reclaiming fourth spot in a 0-0 draw with Aston Villa on Saturday. Redknapp's Spurs side had been pushed down to fifth spot following Liverpool's victory over Everton and their failure to overcome Aston Villa at White Hart Lane means they now sit one point behind Rafael Benitez's side.—Internet top of the table with a 5-0 victory over Portsmouth. The defender, 31, was watching from the stands just 24 hours after taking the England skipper's armband from John Terry, who was stripped of the captaincy by Capello on Friday following allegations about his private life.

Ferguson admits he is proud that a United player will captain England at the World Cup in South Africa later this year and hopes the accolade has a positive effect on Ferdinand's performances during the Premier League title run-in. He said: "We're pleased for him and it's great for Manchester United to have one of our players captaining his country. "Over the years we've had Gary, Bobby Charlton and Bryan Robson for 60-odd games or something so we're very proud of that." 9-man Barcelona secures vital home win against Getafe

MADRID, 7 Feb—FC Barcelona beat Getafe 2-1 in the Camp Nou Stadium after playing for 65 minutes with a player less. Goals from Leo Messi and Xavi Hernandez gave Barcelona the win, while Roberto Soldado scored a late penalty for the visitors. Barcelona ended with just nine players after defenders Gerard Pique and Rafael Marquez were sent off. Pique was sent off in the first half, while Marquez was shown a red card in virtually the last action of the game.

Barcelona coach Pep Guardiola welcomed midfielder Toure Yaya back into his starting line up following his return from the African Nations Cup. Brazilian full back Maxwell started at right back for Barca after Dani Alves suffered a recurrence of his muscle problem while warming up shortly before kick off, meanwhile recent Getafe signing Miku was in his side's starting 11. Barcelona got off to a perfect start when Leo Messi put them ahead with his 15th goal of the season after just six minutes.

Benitez expects win to kick-start Liverpool's season

LIVERPOOL, 7 Feb—Rafa Benitez expects 10-man Liverpool's battling 1-0 win over Merseyside rivals Everton to prove a defining moment in their bid to land a Champions League place. After a dismal run in the first half of the campaign threatened to wreck Liverpool's hopes of securing a top four finish, Benitez's team are now unbeaten in seven league matches and back in the hunt for a European spot. For much of the season, Benitez has been forced to find excuses for Liverpool's failings and at times he has looked in danger of losing his job.

But the spirit in Liverpool's dressing room remains strong judging by the way they recovered from Sotirios Kyrgiakos' first half dismissal to beat Everton thanks to Dirk Kuyt's second half header at Anfield. The game will be remembered as a bad tempered affair, Liverpool forced to play with 10 men for almost an hour after Greek defender Kyrgiakos was sent off for a two-footed challenge on Marouane Fellaini. Fellaini was fortunate not to be red-carded in the same incident after appearing to stamp on Kyrgiakos while Steven Pienaar, who was later dismissed in stoppage time after his second yellow card, escaped after a poor challenge on Javier Mascherano as tempers boiled over at Anfield.—Internet

Stricker takes big lead at Riviera

LOS ANGELES, 7 Feb—Steve Stricker had quite the Hollywood experience during a night out from the Northern Trust Open. He went to a Lakers game on Friday and spent more time watching the stars than players. Denzel Washington in the parking lot. Jack Nicholson courtside, along with George Lopez and one of the Kardashian sisters (he looked it up on the Internet—it was Khloe). In unexpected sunshine on Saturday afternoon at Riviera, Stricker was the star of his own show.

With an impeccable display of wedges and putting during a pivotal stretch in the middle of his round, Stricker turned a one-shot deficit into a five-shot lead in the Northern Trust Open before darkness halted the third round as he faced a 30-foot birdie putt on the 15th hole. "I did a lot of good things," said Stricker, who was at 14-under par. The clubhouse leaders were Luke Donald, who shot a bogey-free 66, and JB Holmes, who made one final birdie to finish his 67. They were at 9-under 204, tied with Andres Romero, who was 9 under and in the final group with Stricker.

command as Italy labour

PARIS, 7 Feb—Bethanie Mattek-Sands and Melanie Oudin gave the United States a dream start to their Fed Cup World Group first round match against France on Saturday - but holders Italy were finding Ukraine a tough nut to crack. Mattek-Sands and Oudin both won their singles rubbers to put Mary-Joe Fernandez's 17-time champions firmly in the driving seat in the northern French town of Lievin despite the absence of both Williams sisters.

Mattek-Sands, from Rochester, Minnesota and ranked 140th in the world, saw off 65th-ranked opponent Alice Cornet 7-6 (9/7), 7-5, to achieve her first Fed Cup match win before 53rd-ranked Oudin beat tournament debutante Pauline Parmentier, ranked 104, 6-4, 6-4. Cornet's loss left her tournament career mark at 0-6 and she blamed pre-match nerves which hung heavy on her throughout her loss to Mattek-Sands.—Internet

Real Madrid coach Pellegrini praises fit again Higuain

MADRID, 7 Feb—Real Madrid coach Manuel Pellegrini praised striker Gonzalo Higuain after the Argentinean marked his return from injury with a goal.

Higuain played the last 20 minutes of his side's comfortable 3-0 win against Espanyol and scored the last goal of the night in the final minute.

He collected Rafael Van der Vaart's pass, rounded Espanyol keeper Carlos Kameni and slotted the ball into the net.

It was the perfect way to celebrate his return following three weeks out with a muscle injury and answered the criticism of those who had been saying that either Raul or Karim Benzema should always play ahead of him Pellegrini, however, that Higuain would always be in his starting 11 if fit.

"He has never been out of my starting line up. He lost his place because of injury and today it was not convenient for him to have played more time."

"It's not a question of today he has earned a place in the side, he never stopped being first choice," said the Madrid coach in Sunday's edition of sports paper Diario AS.—Xinhua
