Pyithu Hluttaw second regular session continues for 16th day

One proposal recorded, nine questions asked, two proposals discussed, two new proposals submitted

Speaker of Pyithu Hluttaw Thura U Shwe Mann attends 16th day second regular session of first Pyithu Hluttaw.—MNA

NAY PYI TAW, 12 Sept—The second regular session of the First Pyithu Hluttaw continued for the sixteenth day at Pyithu Hluttaw Hall of Hluttaw Building here today, attended by Speaker of Pyithu Hluttaw Thura U Shwe Mann and 387 Hluttaw representatives.

One proposal was recorded, nine questions were answered two proposals discussed and two new proposals submitted at today's session.

U Thein Tun Oo of Amarapura

Constituency submitted the proposal that Pyithu Hluttaw welcomes preliminary peace agreements between Shan State government and groups of "Wa" Special Region (2), and Shan State government and groups of Mongla Special Region (4) and signing of preliminary agreements to work in collaboration for peace and progresses of the regions concerned and environs. The Hluttaw accepted the proposal and confirmed it as honourable achievement.

Union Minister for Transport U Nyan Tun Aung replied to queries raised by five representatives.

In his reply to question of U Aung Kyaw Oo of YeU Constituency about government's measures for resolution of erosion of Aungmingala Ward of YeU in the west of Mu River as it has been about 30 years that Mu River has worn away the ward, causing about 300 households homeless yearly and the remaining households are at the brink of destruction in coming years for no efforts have still been made for conservation of waterways of Mu River, the Union Minister said that Kindat Diversion Weir constructed in 1997 could somehow control the flow of Mu River; that after construction of Thanphaseik Dam in 2001, the flow of Mu River has been totally under control; that bank erosion in YeU is not attributable to massive inflow of water from upstream of Mu River, but heavy rainfall in the region and inflow of water from canals and streams flowing between YeU and Kaboe Dam, 15 miles upstream the town; that according to records of Directorate of Water Resources and Improvement of River Systems, wooden weirs were constructed in 1985-1986 to reduce the erosion of Aungmingala Ward and similar measures were taken in 2001 and that later on, no report was made to the ministry from the region and thus no preventive measure was taken against erosion of Aungmingala Ward of YeU.

He continued that his ministry has instructed the directorate to immediately contact with local authorities concerned and provide necessary assistance in case of bank erosion to ensure fewer damages; that in case of severe conditions, it is needed to immediately report to region/state governments concerned and to cooperate with Ministry of Transport for repair works and added that Hluttaw representatives may seek help from local authorities in case of bank erosion in own regions.

U Soe Naing of Pyapon Constituency asked government's measure for maintaining of Pyapon bank for long-existence of Pyapon as bank erosion occurs yearly on Pyapon side due to sand banks at its opposite side, and as a result three wards were moved in 1968, retaining walls were eroded in 1975, and the market and residential wards are being affected by erosion which recently has worn away 100 feet of the garden along 7000-ft long bank and prayer hall at Thazi Pagoda, and the bank erosion is still in critical condition despite the efforts of local residents for prevention against erosion.

Practise good habits of public ethics

In striving for modernizing the nation, education-centred human society is to be built. While gathering development momentum, efforts are to be made for ensuring peace and stability of the nation. Sound foundations are to be built for unity and amity of the people.

Constantly turning out highly-qualified human resources plays a key role in strengthening the nation with political, economic and defence might. Strenuous efforts are to be made for development of human resources across the nation including new generation youths. It is necessary not only to develop modern science technologies but also to improve arts subjects in the education sector.

Basic education plays a crucial role in the education sector. In addition to academic matters, students are to be equipped with the spirit of adoring the nation and true patriotic spirit. We must also develop them into intellectuals and intelligentsia with high reasoning power.

In building the continuous learning society in line with the Myanmar education goal, the role of teachers is the most important. They are to set sight on nurturing their pupils equipped with high morality, thinking power and good habits.

Educational staff members are to abide by code of conduct for teachers. Emphasizing successful realization of education policies and effective academic tasks, public ethics are to be provided to all students.

Youths, the one-fourth of population of the nation, are invaluable strength of the nation. As the government is implementing the plan for all-round development of the youths, all the teachers are to broaden the horizons of the new generation youths equipped with literature and knowledge capabilities for enabling them to enjoy glittering future.

Shark savages French diplomat in PNG

PORT MORESBY, 12 Sept—A French diplomat working for the European Union in Papua New Guinea was airlifted to Australia on Monday after a shark attacked him when he was kite-surfing off Port Moresby.

Thomas Viot, 30, was bitten by what he believed was a two-metre (6.5 feet) tiger shark at a reef off the PNG capital on Sunday afternoon.

"I managed to ride back with my kite-surf, it was bleeding very badly and I don't know how but I managed to ride back," Viot told AFP from hospital in Port Moresby ahead of being evacuated to Brisbane.

"I lost a lot of blood and the leg needs to have surgery."

The EU economist has been in PNG for two-and-a-half years and said there were always "plenty" of sharks at the reef, but he did not see the creature before it struck. He vowed to return to kite-surfing once he had recovered.

"It's not my first surfing accident... I got attacked by a stingray at the beginning of the year, and I always go back," he said. "By a shark, this was the first (attack) and I hope the last."—Internet

Texas fire destroys 1,554 homes, 17 people missing

BASTROP, 12 Sept—Drawn to the quaint Central Texas town of Bastrop by the promise of life in a quiet, wooded area, Frank Davis moved into his new home two Saturdays ago. The next day, he and his wife evacuated when a monster wildfire moved in.

Now, there's nothing left. "The fire was so hot, there are even panes of glass that melted," said Davis, a 47-year-old home remodeler who came to Bastrop from Austin, about 30 miles away. "It's all gone."

The number of homes destroyed by a still-raging wildfire here rose on Sunday to 1,554 and will increase further as emergency crews enter areas where the blaze has been extinguished. Seventeen people remain unaccounted for, but officials believe they could simply be out of town. Bastrop County officials joined by Democratic US Rep Lloyd Doggett sought to provide new information to hundreds of residents evacuated a week ago, when blustering wind whipped up by Tropical Storm Lee swept across parched, drought-stricken Texas — helping to spark more than 190 wildfires statewide that killed four people.

The worst of the fires is the one in Bastrop that has consumed more than 34,000 acres. Crews have now contained more than 50 percent of the blaze, paving the way for people to begin returning home and trying to rebuild their lives from the remains of the smoldering rubble.—Internet

TOKYO, 12 Sept—Asian stock markets fell sharply Monday, with sentiment soured by renewed anxiety about Europe's debt problems and heavy Wall Street losses before the weekend. Japan's Nikkei 225 stock average lost 2 percent at 8,562.47 as the index hit fresh six-month intraday lows.

Hong Kong's Hang Seng index shed 3.2 percent to 19,231.69. In Australia, the S&P/ASX 200 plunged 3.5 percent to 4,048.60. Benchmarks in New Zealand and Singapore also retreated. Financial markets in South Korea, China and Taipei were closed Monday for national holidays.

Worries about Europe battered Wall Street on Friday, sending the Dow Jones down 2.7 percent to close at 10,992.13. Seeking safer havens, investors sent the yield on the 10-year Treasury note to the lowest level in five decades. Investors were rattled by the surprise resignation of Juergen Stark, a key official at the European Central Bank. HSBC launches sale of non-Life insurance business

Business

HONG KONG, 12 Sept—HSBC Holdings Plc <0005.HK> has launched the sale of its non-life insurance business, sources told Reuters on Monday, a global division worth about $1 billion and now part of the bank's plan to strip away non-core units. HSBC, Europe's biggest bank with a large presence across Asia, had sent out an information memorandum to potential buyers, with first round bids due by mid-October, a source said.

of about $1 billion in 2010, according to a presentation made by HSBC in June.

"We do not comment on market rumors or speculation," a Hong Kong-based HSBC spokeswoman said.

The sources declined to be identified as the sale process was not public.

HSBC's 16 percent stake in Ping An Insurance (Group) Co of China Ltd <2318.HK><601318.SS> and 18 percent stake in Bao Vietnam, a domestic financial institution, were not part of the sale, the source said.

Israeli development enhances memory in Alzheimer patients

Health

JERUSALEM, 12 Sept—A new electromagnetic system developed by an Israeli firm helps patients suffering from mild to moderate Alzheimer regain part of their cognitive skills through brain stimulation, proving to be more effective than drugs. Developed by Neuronix, the NeuroAD system stimulates the area in the brain responsible for memory and learning, giving patients the same levels of memory they had two years before.

NeuroAD is uses a technology called NICE (Non-Invasive Cortical Enhancer) developed by Neuronix, that makes the memory area in the brain receptive to cognitive training.

Once the brain is stimulated, researchers expect an LTP (Long-Term Potentiation) in the patient, that usually degrades in Alzheimer patients causing cognitive skills to fade.

"The NeuroAD works with electromagnetic stimulation of the brain regions affected by the Alzheimer," Neuronix CEO Eyal Baror told Xinhua on Sunday, "and in parallel with this stimulation we give the patients cognitive tasks like remembering something from the past or language exercises."

The patient then uses the same brain region that is being stimulated to do those tasks, therefore making the effects longer, Baror said.—Xinhua

One, two drinks a day good for heart

Health

ROCHESTER, (NY) 12 Sept—How and when a person drinks may be a more significant factor than how much one drinks in how alcohol affects the body, US researchers say.

Study author John Cullen, a research associate professor at the University of Rochester Medical Centre in New York, says population studies support an association between alcohol and cardiovascular disease, but this research relied on self-reported data, which is not always accurate or reliable. The study, published in the journal Atherosclerosis, found daily moderate drinking — two drinks per day, seven days a week — decreased atherosclerosis in mice. Binge drinking — seven drinks a day over the weekend — increased development of the disease. Atherosclerosis, or the hardening and narrowing of arteries, is a serious condition that can lead to a heart attack or stroke.

"People need to consider not only how much alcohol they drink, but the way in which they are drinking it," Cullen says in a statement. "Research shows that people have yet to be convinced of the dangers of binge drinking to their health; we're hoping our work changes that."

However, scientists don't yet understand how moderate alcohol consumption benefits cardiovascular health or how binge drinking episodes hurt it, Cullen says.

The Union Minister replied that bank erosion can easily occur in Pyapon as it is situated outside the river bend and it has silt-like soil being located in Delta Region, especially bank erosion are more likely to occur on weak earth foundation on which heavy buildings are built; that it is studied that bank erosion mostly occur around Thazi Pagoda which is situated at the centre of the river bend, the narrowest part of the river between Pyapon River and Pyapon Bridge.

Preventive measures and designs were developed based on the survey of the Directorate of Water Resources and Improvement of Water Systems and 210-ft wide retaining wall based on bored pile was built; that the directorate has provide close technical support starting from 17-3-2011 in constructing of the retaining wall and all the works were completed on 5-6-2011 and the bank at the front of Pylon Chantha Thazi Pagoda is in firm condition.

U Maung Maung Tin of Yekyi Constituency asked the Union Minister if the ministry has a plan to change the waterway of Ngawun River and reinforce Ngawun dike because despite the fact that the Irrigation Department has constructed 6800-long front-dyke in April of 2011 to prevent further damages of the Ngawun dyke due to sandbanks along the waterway of the Ngawun River in Ngathaingyoung Sub-township of Yekyi, the Ngawun dyke is still in critical condition for the newly-constructed dyke still cannot fill the bill and the location of Ngawun dyke is like holding water, and townships in Patheingyi District and Hinthada District may suffer losses if the deficiencies lead to loopholes, and the residents along Ngawun bank have been concerned for the aged dyke and bank erosion.

The Union Minister replied that Ngathaingyoung Sub-township lies at the east bank of the Ngawun River, 68 miles from the mouth of Ngawun River (Nyaungkyo) and 77 miles from Patheingyi; that floods usually occur in time of large amount of water as there are river bends at the upstream and downstream of Ngathaingyoung; that according to records of Irrigation Department at Ngathaingyoung, the highest water level of Ngawun River at Ngathaingyoung is 31.35 feet on 17-8-1974 and the lowest water level is -1.90 foot on 3-3-1974; that dykes in Ngathaingyoung were constructed by the Irrigation Department and Ngathaingyoung has not informed the Directorate of Water Resources and Improvement of Water System about the bank erosion.

The Union Minister added that the directorate has taken preventive measures against erosion of Htupayon Pagoda bank and for retaining of Shwekyetkya Pagoda bank in Laymyethna, improvement of waterway of Hainggyigyun, development of waterway of the Ngawun River, maintaining of bank of Ngawun river-crossing river (Patheingyi), maintaining of the bank of Patheingyi Port from 1999-2000 fiscal year to 2010-2011 fiscal year, spending K 811.96 million; that the directorate usually construct new waterway through the water bends as one of its measures against erosion; that such doing usually have great impacts either positive or negative on the downstream of the river and that it needs thorough survey and consideration of all possible effects.

U Aye Myint of Insein Constituency said that Department of Marine Administration can turn out between 1000 and 2000 sailors yearly, relatively lower than other sailor markets around the world and projected production of sailors is advisable as increased production of sailors would benefit the nation and the people much and asked if there is any plan to turn out more sailors than current production rate.

The Union Minister in his reply said that his ministry has established Myanmar Maritime University and Myanmar Mercantile Marine College in order to turn out seafarers; that the university allows annual admittance of 400 Students and confer B.E and B.Sc degrees which last five years; and the college allows annual admittance of 300 trainees and confer diplomas that last two years, producing around 700 cadets yearly.

There are, the Union Minister went on that also two government schools and seven private schools totaling nine for sailors at other level to be able to pursue maritime and navigation knowledge; that seven private schools were permitted to conduct seafarers' courses commencing 5-9-2011 and the ministry has instructed to train trainees by subject specialists and test with simple questioning and grading system.

He added that in addition to establishment of nine schools, two run by the government and seven by the private sector, and the simple exam system, the ministry holds talks with agents of respective shipping lines for job creation.

U G Phon Sar of Nagmon Constituency asked the Union Minister if his ministry has any plan to reuse short-range airports as other airport built on self-reliant basis in Nagmon in 1979 that had provided conveniences for staff and the local people till 1984 and since then the airport has been out of use but other regions still possess such short-range airports.

The Union Minister replied that Myanmar Airways had run flights to Nagmon Airport with Twin Otter crafts; that to land on the ground, current planes of Myanmar Airways need at least 4000 feet long runway; that the current runway of Nagmon Airport is of earthen type with 2461 feet in length and 90 feet in width; that the airport is surrounded by mountains with height from 3000 feet to 6000 feet, and covered with clouds in rainy season and mists in cold season, which stands barrier to view of the ground and thus it is not suitable for planes to land and take off and it could be used by small planes only in dry season according to weather and geographical conditions.

The Union Minister concluded that currently there is no plan to run flights to Nagmon because current Nagmon Airport has been out of maintenance for decades with its runway's surface damaged and there are no small planes that can land on Nagmon Airport, and running of flights to the airport is not economically beneficial but his ministry does has a plan to purchase and run small planes that can land on short-range airports for development of villages and towns in rural regions.

In response to the question of U Khin Maung Toe of Minhla Constituency asking how budgets were checked and what were found after the six-month period of the term of the Union Auditor-General who was nominated by the President and appointed under the approval of Pyidaungsu Hluttaw, Union Auditor-General U Lun Maung said that national budgets covering the 2011-2012 fiscal year have been drawn with 2011 national budget law; that the meeting No. 1/ 2011 of Financial Commission on 7-4-2011 passed a resolution to use the national budgets for the first half of the 2010-2011 fiscal year and Union budgets and region/state budgets from 1-10-2011 onwards.

The Union Auditor-General's Office and regional audit departments will check the national budget of the first half of the 2011-2012 fiscal year and report unusual situations to respective Hluttaws; that in the future, balance sheets of the Union and region/state funds will be checked and reported to respective Hluttaws and no checks could be made as there have been no monthly balance sheets during the period mentioned in question.

Regarding the question raised by U Ba Htay of Mogok Constituency who asked whether there is a plan to allow local people of Mogok to engage in gems mining on a managerial scale in accord with the law like in 2004 with the aim of improving livelihood of locals residing in Mogok Township of Pyin Oo Lwin District in Mandalay Region and creating job opportunities, thereby contributing towards poverty alleviation, Union Minister for Mines U Thein Htaik replied that gem mining sites in Mogok gems land were advertised in the papers in 2004. Permits to engage in gems mining in 119 sites out of 134 which were free from restrictions were issued in three times. Later, no applications for gems mining were allowed and permits were issued for designated sites under the arrangement of Myanmar Gems Enterprise through competitive biddings. As there remained vacant permission-granted sites, there is no recent advertisements for new gems mining sites in Mogok gems land.

According to guidance given by the President on a report of Mandalay Region Chief Minister's Office to grant the permission in accord with rules and regulations, permission to engage in gems mining on a managerial scale and to pan gem-bearing earths of large sites by the local people of Mogok Township is under scrutiny. If permissions are granted, there will be more cases of one's invasion of the site owned by the other one through tunnel likes disputes occurred in 2004. So arrangements are being made to be settled and taken action against the cases in accord with Myanmar Gems Law.

Myanma Gems Enterprise puts ads for unlicensed designated sites, unlicensed newly-reclaimed sites, vacant designated sites and vacant newly-reclaimed sites in the papers once two months. Opportunities are available for those who are willing to engage in gems mining are to apply the permits in accord with specifications for gems mining companies, cooperative societies and organizations. Plans are underway to allow local people of Mogok to engage in gems mining on a managerial scale and to pan gems-bearing earths of large sites in accord with rules and regulations of currently-exercised market economic system with the aim of economic development of local people.

Regarding the questions raised by U Kyaw Myint of Nawngkhio Constituency who asked whether there is a plan to grow summer paddy in townships which are suitable for summer paddy cultivation after removing the name of summer paddy out of the list of project crops as cultivation of summer paddy is not successful in many townships, except a few townships, of Shan state with unique topography and climate patterns and to allow some townships where summer paddy are not thrived to grow other crops that can benefit the State and farmers, and to upgrade Innngyi natural lake in Nawngkhio Township as a dam as 20000 local people of nearby villages are heavily relying on the lake for drinking water and for agricultural purpose and local people are facing water scarcity when the lake is dry up due to intense heat of summer, Deputy Minister for Agriculture and Irrigation U Ohn Than replied that the government is encouraging farmers in cultivation of monsoon and summer paddy in order to fulfill requirements of food sufficiency, availability of surplus rice and exportation of surplus rice for foreign exchange and to meet regional rice sufficiency.

Arrangements are being made for use of good quality strains to boost rice production. Assistance is being rendered by the Union government and state/region governments to farmers to grow suitable summer paddy strains in suitable regions. Encouragements are not given in growing of summer paddy in the regions where topographical conditions and weather patterns are not suitable for summer paddy cultivation. Necessary agricultural methods including selection of quality strains are being given for growing of other crops that can benefit farmers and are suitable for their regions.

Regarding the second question, a total of 20000 people of 35 nearby villages are relying on Innngyi Lake not only for drinking water but also for agricultural purpose. Upgrading of Innngyi Lake as a dam should be carried out as it can contribute adequate water supply and regional development. It is necessary to carry out feasibility study as a first phase. So land survey, hydrological study and geological study will be carried out.

Pyithu Hluttaw received Private School Registration Bill approved in Amyotha Hluttaw on 9 September and it will be discussed during coming week. Pyithu Hluttaw Bill Committee has to scrutinize the bill and submit the committee's report to the Hluttaw to be discussed. Representatives have to enlist their names, clearly describing para, sub para, points and facts they want to discuss not later than 14 September (Wednesday).

Five representatives held discussions on the proposal to set a policy for paddy cultivated areas (monsoon, summer).

U Nyi Nyi Myint of Ottwin Constituency seconded the proposal that protection of paddy cultivated area can lead to stability of socio-economic status of paddy growers and domestic rice sufficiency.

U Kyi Tint of Danu Constituency seconded the proposal that there are works to be done for setting town areas for possible increasing population and use of lands for development of the nation.

U Htay Myint of Myeik Constituency seconded the proposal that paddy can be produced 150 baskets per acre on average and paddy can be produced two tons per acre for one crop in the world.

U Aung Myint of Gangaw Constituency seconded the proposal that it is required to set a policy to protect farmlands essential for paddy cultivation from being used for other purpose.

U Kyaw Myint (a) U Po Toke of Momeik Constituency seconded the proposal that measures should be taken to draw a plan for paddy cultivated farmlands in states and regions by the government.

Regarding the proposal, the deputy minister said that Section 23 of 2008 State Constitution stated "the Union shall (a) enact necessary laws to protect the rights of the peasants; (b) assist peasants to obtain equitable value of their agricultural produce. It is required to implement the ways for boosting incomes of farmers.

To enjoy more benefit from per acre yield of paddy than that of other crops, it is necessary to make arrangements for boosting per acre yield, minimizing cost of production and correct supervision in setting paddy price for the sake of farmers.

While the government is trying hard to strengthen the market economic system, it is necessary to take measures for earning more income from paddy cultivation so that paddy sown acreage will be increased. If a law to set paddy sown acreage is promulgated, it is difficult for the business with lack of interest to exist long and there will be hindrances for implementation of boosting production and quality in paddy sector.

Regarding the proposal, making a practical way to organize farmers to grow single or double paddy on their own volition for boosting paddy output growth that can make more earnings compared with other crops will be appropriated.

As the proposal of U Lun Thi is not needed to continue to do and Hluttaw approved to put it in record, Hluttaw decided to record it.

Five representatives discussed proposal submitted by U Maung Oo of Tatkon Constituency on 1 September to permit public companies in accord with the law.

Dr Sai Kyaw Ohn of Namhkam Constituency supported the proposal because larger number of public companies can contribute a great deal to the State.

U Win Oo of Yebyu Constituency supported the proposal that as there are only 21 public companies at present in the nation, it should scrutinize and allow registration of new public companies under the law.

U Htay Myint of Myeik Constituency supported the opinion that time has come for the State to systematically protect the public companies for their emergence on a wider scale under the law and allot responsibilities to them so as to stand strong firms.

U Than Myint of Salingyi Constituency firmly supported that public companies are to be scrutinized and allowed for their establishments under the law like private companies in realizing the market economy.

Daw Tin Nwe Oo of Dagon Myothit (North) Constituency participated in the discussions that public companies are to show off their constant operations of works abiding by the rules, and she supported the proposal.

With regard to the proposal, Union Minister for National Planning and Economic Development U Tin Naing Thein said that the Union government initiates reformation of monetary and financial policies for effectively realizing the market economy. To do so, only when the government establishes monetary market and stock exchange, will private share exchange market of private sector emerge. At present, progress of monetary and stock exchange market reaches initial status only. As emergence of the investment market is based on establishment of public companies and sales of shares, public companies and investment market are interrelated.

When the ASEAN Economic Community comes into existence, commodities of ASEAN and the globe will flow into the nation. Therefore, companies in Myanmar are to enlarge their work establishments like economic corporations of Korea and Japan so as to keep abreast with those of ASEAN countries.

As such, emergence of public companies is playing an important role.

Although some public companies were allowed in the past, later some of them did not officially declare benefits from the shares and commit abuse of benefit. Therefore, the formation of public companies was not allowed temporarily. Due to lesser investments of private companies, the State is nurturing public companies to be able to save the investments. Paddy and bean companies comprising 50 members were allowed to hold share-holder meeting and declare amount of benefit.

At present, the Union government has planned to develop monetary market and investment market for economic growth of the State by forming public companies and establishing monetary market with the participation of people. As such, he supported the proposal of U Maung Oo and now the task is in process to allow the public companies under the law.

The Hluttaw agreed to put the proposal of U Maung Oo on record, and decided to encourage implementation of the proposal and its related matters.

U Thein Swe of An Constituency submitted a proposal calling for adopting a plan to maintain the water courses in Ayeyawady and Chindwin Rivers; and Daw Dwe Bu of Ingyanyan Constituency, accelerating illicit trafficking of narcotic drugs and psychotropic substances and providing drug addicts with necessary assistance to be healthy and fit persons.

The proposals will be discussed on 14 September (Wednesday), and the representatives wishing to participate in the discussions are to enlist this evening.

The 16th-day second regular session was adjourned at 3.15 pm, and the 17th-day session continues tomorrow at 10 am.

Arrangements are being made to submit the propose for upgrading of Kyauikto Township Hospital to a 25-bed hospital with 55 health staff members including five doctors, one dentist and 16 nurses, and upgrade 16-bed Theinzayat Station Hospital to a 16-bed hospital with 17 health staff members including two doctors and six nurses.

U Steven Thabeik of Chin State Constituency No. 4 in his question said that "trainees from Chin State have to go to far-flung Yangon only to attend midwifery training school. Due to long travel and increasing high cost, it becomes hard to recruit trainees. Also, it is difficult for female nurses from lower Myanmar to work in Chin State, asking whether there is a plan to open a midwifery training school in Haka of Chin State. In response, the Union Minister said that since 1993-1994, Medical Science Department has extended to open two midwifery training schools each in many regions and states as planned. One midwifery training school each was opened in Kayah, Kayin, Chin, Mon and Rakhine states and Sagaing and Taninthayi regions. According to the instruction, Falam nursing training school was opened in Falam, heart of the state, in 1993-1994. The nature of a midwifery training school calls for practical support with maternity patients. But, there are no enough maternity patients in Chin State for trainees. The State selects and sends trainees from Chin State to Central Midwifery Training School (Yangon) providing accommodation for them. Nurses from Falam nursing training school and Chin national nurses from Yangon Central Midwifery Training School are assigned duties in Chin State.

Entry system to nursing and midwifery trainings was set in 2003-2004. Those who passed matriculation exam are selected to attend midwifery training schools in their own regions and states in order of the marks of Myanmar, English and Mathematics subjects. That system is still being applied. Considering tour instructions of VIPs, recommendation of social organizations from related regions and states, proposals of remote areas, Border Areas and National Races Development Affairs Committee and organizations from related states, some persons are allowed to attend with limitation.

As it is found that applicants from Chin State to attend the trainings are more than necessary, there is no difficulty to get trainees. Those from Chin State eligible for Falam nursing training school and Yangon Central Midwifery Training School numbered 329 nurses and 218 midwives from 2004-2005 to 2010-2011. Number of nurses and midwives are enough for present situation. So, there is no plan to open midwifery training school in Haka.

Afterwards, Union Minister for Construction U Khin Maung Myint answered the questions of six representatives.

U Soe Han Lin of Ayeyawady Region constituency No.1 asked the Union minister whether the ministry had a plan to continue the construction of the Patheingyi-Ngathay Road which was helpful for governmental employees and students and transportation.

The Union Minister said after the Nargis storm, the road was designated as the 11th road including the road network in Ayeyawady Region and Ministry of Construction had upgraded the road and bridges in the 2008-2009 fiscal year after the Nargis. Development Affairs Department had constructed the five miles long road section of the road while the Ministry of Construction had constructed the 16 miles long road section.

He continued to say that spending the ministry's budget for the 2011-2012 fiscal year, Patheingyi District construction group and two special groups for bridge construction projects had upgraded the road to the gravel one, and the 45 ft long Salu Bridge, the 40 ft long Waegy Bridge and the 75 ft long Phyan Yegyaw Bridge, the 700 ft long Paepin Bridge and the 1820 ft long Thetkae Bridge were under construction.

The Ministry also was carrying out roadwork on the 16 miles long road section and was constructing the 15 ft long conduit in the 2011-2012 fiscal year, he added.

At the end of the 2011-2012 fiscal year, the Patheingyi-Ngathay Road would be the gravel one after upgrading the remaining 7 miles and seven furlongs long road section, he said.

If the ministry got the full funds for the two river crossing bridges in the upcoming fiscal year, Patheingyi could be accessible from Ngathay in all seasons by the end of 2012.

U Nyan Lin of Ayeyawady Region Constituency No.3 asked the Union Minister for Construction U Khin Maung Myint whether the ministry could upgrade the 44 miles and 3 furlongs long earth road which linked Thabaung, Yekyi, Yenantha, Gwa and Ngathay through 34 village-tracts.

The Union minister said still the ministry had no plan to upgrade the earth road as it had not been constructed by the Ministry of Construction, and to upgrade the road, it would be required to upgrade the full distance of 43 miles and 3 furlongs from Thabaung to Yenantha in Yekyi Township.

U Myint Hlaing of Rakhine State constituency No.12 asked the Union Minister whether the ministry had a plan to upgrade the over 10 miles long Thandwe-Ngathay Road as the Ngathay Beach was famous, attracting State guests, diplomats and tourists.

The Union minister said to upgrade the Thandwe-Ngapali-Mazin-Lontha Road Section, Nay La Thitsar private company was undertaking necessary measures under the BOT system.

Meanwhile, the company had carried out the roadwork to upgrade the Pyay-Taungup-Thandwe Road Section which linked Rakhine State and other regions and bridges on it under the BOT system.

The company had started roadwork to upgrade the 102 miles long Pyay-Taungup Road section as the road was given priority as from 13 February, 2010, and to upgrade the 56 miles and 7 furlongs long Taungup-Ngapali-Mazin-Lontha as from 4 May, 2010. The company had planned to upgrade the 56 miles and 7 furlongs long Taungup-Thandwe-Ngapali-Mazin-Lontha Road in the 2011-2012 fiscal year.

He continued to say that the 54 employees of the company were supervising the the roadwork to upgrade the Thandwe-Ngapali-Lontha Road Section and the Ngapali-Mazin Road Section with the use of heavy machinery.

A tarred road in the Ngapali Beach Hotel Zone in Thandwe would be extended four miles more in the 2011-2012 fiscal year and the remaining road sections would be upgraded to the asphalt road in the 2012-2013 fiscal year. The Ministry of Construction would closely supervise the roadwork so that the upgraded roads could meet the set standard.

Regarding the question raised by U Wilson Moe of Shan State Constituency (7) "whether there is plan to upgrade 18-mile road linking Tachilek and Wan Pon port into all-weather one as it is difficult to use road in rainy season", the Union minister answered that Tachilek is sharing border with Laos on the other bank of Mekong River; the road linked to Wan Pon International Domestic Port is Malyan-Pasa-Sanphu road; the road join Malyan village on Kengtung-Tachilek road section of Meiktila-Taunggyi-Kengtung-Tachilek Road (Union Highway) and Sanphu village on Mekong river bank on the border with Laos; the road is under maintenance of Tachilek District Group of the Ministry of Construction; using the fund allotted for normal repair for 2011-2012 tax year, two miles and seven furlongs long earthen section was upgraded to 18 feet wide hard road; one mile long damaged road was repaired with sand and gravels; new RC bridge No (1/14) was built; and in 2012-2013 fiscal year, the ordinary repair fund and huge investment would be requested for continuing repair works.

Regarding the question raised by U Phone Myint Aung of Yangon Region Constituency (3) "whether there is plan to prescribe laws regarding condominiums to prevent loss of public interest as there are disputes between the construction entrepreneurs and residents in apartments because the reality of car parking, water and electricity supply and elevator in condominiums in Yangon are not as advertised", the Union minister answered that the problems related to the public buildings on the land managed by the Ministry of Construction are fixed by the ministry; those on other private lands are dealt by Yangon City Development Committee; in 1997, complaints about a public housing on the ministry's land in Dagon Township were lodged against the construction entrepreneurs; the ministry settled the dispute between entrepreneurs and residents; no other complaint was made; Public Housing Law (Draft) was compiled in cooperation with related ministries, and organizations including Union Attorney-General's Office in public interest; the law (draft) was amended as it was found incommensurate with current reality and submitted to the Union Attorney-General's Office for remarks; after the comments from Union Attorney-General's Office are obtained, it would continue to prescribe the Public Housing Law.

NEW DELHI, 12 Sept—Nineteen children have died of suspected encephalitis in Bihar northern India, reported the Indo-Asian News Service on Monday.

The children reported high fever, followed by bouts of unconsciousness and convulsions, said the report quoting hospital sources.

Nearly 50 children with suspected encephalitis had been admitted to hospital for treatment, most of them from rural areas, with more than a dozen children battling for life.

British kids carry knives to school

LONDON, 12 Sept—British children now carry knives in some of the schools across the country because they feel unsafe both in school and on their journey to and from the premises, says a shocking new report prepared by a think tank.

Many students have stopped attending because they feel unsafe, says the report titled "No Excuses: A Review of Educational Exclusion" by Work and Pensions Secretary Iain Duncan Smith's think tank Centre for Social Justice.

At one primary school, gang culture was so endemic that children aged nine to 11 arrived wearing the colours of their local street gang, the Daily Express reported.

At another school, the head revealed how pupils aged seven to 11 admitted bringing knives after being bullied by older children, or in one case, by someone's father on their way home from school. Schools also try to hide their gang problems because of fear of damage to their reputation, the report said.

Many school heads are also breaking the law by continuing to take money from the government for pupils who never actually come to school.

Gavin Poole, executive director of the think tank, said: "It is vital that unscrupulous and sometimes illegal practices indulged in are confronted head on. The money for these 'ghost pupils' is retained by the school, but they don't attend, with some schools failing to provide any suitable education or support."

The report identified many factors that caused disruptive behaviour.

Family breakdown and domestic abuse are among the causes. A child not growing up in a two-parent family is 75 percent more likely to fail at school, it said.—Internet

"When it was scanned, it appeared that something suspicious was in his carry-on luggage," FBI spokeswoman Bridget Patton said.

The action was taken about 9:30 am after the Southwest Airlines passenger refused to cooperate, the newspaper said. The terminal's operations returned to normal about 3 pm but the unidentified man was detained by authorities.

New Zealand, UK agree to closer science, innovation links

WELLINGTON, 12 Sept—New Zealand and the United Kingdom are to step up cooperation in science and innovation under an agreement signed Monday. A New Zealand-United Kingdom Science and Innovation Working Group is to be established under the agreement signed by New Zealand Science and Innovation Minister Wayne Mapp and UK Secretary of State Jeremy Browne.

“The United Kingdom has always been one of New Zealand’s most significant science and innovation partners,” said Mapp. “Both countries share an interest in driving economic growth through investment in science and research.”

Mapp said about 30 percent of New Zealand researchers already had a UK partner with particularly strong cooperation in the biological sciences, biotechnology and the physical sciences.

Browne said the Working Group would add value and structure to the relationship between the UK and New Zealand, and allow a stronger focus on scientific opportunities.

The working group, to be set up by the UK Department of Business Innovation and Skills, and New Zealand’s Ministry of Science and Innovation and Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade, would meet up to four times over the coming year and report directly to the two governments by September next year.—Xinhua

Australia still attractive for foreign retailers

Despite negativity in the retail sector, Australia’s Harvey Norman, Woolworths, Wesfarmers and JB Hi-fi all reported higher profits in 2010-11.

IBISWorld analysts expect Australia’s retail spending to be three percent higher in 2011-12 financial year than the previous year, while interest rates and unemployment remain low and disposable incomes increase.

“This will make Australia an attractive location for international brands, with both Costco and IKEA planning further stores and UK mega fashion store Topshop opening its first Australian outlet by 2012,” IBISWorld general manager Karen Dobie said.

89 beauty queens vying for Miss Universe crown

SAO PAULO, 12 Sept—A group of 89 beauty queens will don swimsuits, evening gowns and test their interview skills in the hopes of winning the 2011 Miss Universe crown on Monday. Contestants from six continents spent the last three weeks in South America’s largest city, trying to learn samba dance steps, visiting impoverished children and kicking a football around for cameras as the globe’s biggest beauty contest is held in Brazil for the first time.

“It’s our 60th anniversary, it’s a very big show, we’re anticipating close to a billion viewers from around the world,” said Paula Shugart, president of the Miss Universe organization.

Shugart said it was fitting the globe’s biggest beauty pageant be held in Brazil at this time, as the nation prepares to host some major events in the coming years.

“I don’t think there is any doubt in the rest of the world’s mind that Brazil is the place, between hosting the Olympics and hosting the World Cup,” she said. “I love fact we’re going to kick it off. I always say we’re the ‘World Cup’ of beauty.”

The contestants, who must never have been married or had children and who must be at least 18 years of age and under 27 years of age by 1 Feb of the competition year, are competing to take the place of Mexico’s Jimena Navarrete, who won the crown last year in Las Vegas.

There have been no headline-grabbing gaffes going into this year’s competition, as opposed to past years that have seen controversies of various stripes.

Some of the contestants have complained to the local press about the size of bikinis used in some photo shoots, with Miss Mexico Karin Ontiveros saying they were “very small.”—Internet

High blood pressure genetic clues

LONDON, 12 Sept — More than 20 new sections of genetic code have been linked to blood pressure by an international team of scientists. Almost everyone will carry at least one of the genetic variants, according to studies published in Nature and Nature Genetics. Researchers believe their findings could be used to develop new treatments. The British Heart Foundation said lifestyle was still key to a healthy blood pressure.

High blood pressure — or hypertension — can run in families as well as being influenced by obesity, exercise and the amount of salt in the diet. While the lifestyle risks are well known, the genetic element of hypertension has been poorly understood. Researchers now say they have made a "major advance" in understanding the role of genes. In the first study, scientists from 24 countries around the world analysed data from more than 200,000 people. They identified 16 new points on the genome which were linked to blood pressure. One of the lead researchers, Prof Mark Caulfield, from Barts and The London Medical School, said each genetic variant was in at least 5% of people, while some of the more common ones were present in up to 14% of people. — Internet

The boy watched a calf nurse from its mother, and began to do the same thing, feeding directly from the cow each day, Um Oeung added. When he pulled him away, the boy cried, so he let him continue, Um Oeung said on yesterday.

New opera tells story of 11 Sept heroism

SAN FRANCISCO, 12 Sept—A continent away from where the towers fell, the horror of that September morning 10 years ago is being recreated on the stage of the War Memorial Opera House.

The attack on the World Trade Centre comes in the climactic scene of "Heart of a Soldier," an earnest and at times compelling work that was given its world premiere by the San Francisco Opera on Saturday night.

Adapted from a nonfiction book of the same name by journalist James Stewart, "Heart" tells the story of Rick Rescorla, a native of Cornwall, England, who made a career as a soldier — first in Rhodesia, then fighting for the Americans in Vietnam.

Blackburn stay bottom after Zamora earns point

Blackburn Rovers' Ruben Rochina (C) celebrates after scoring a goal against Fulham during their Premiership match at Craven Cottage in London.

INTERNET

LONDON, 12 Sept — Blackburn remain rooted to the bottom of the Premier League table after Bobby Zamora's equalizer gave Fulham a 1-1 draw against Rovers at Craven Cottage on Sunday. Steve Kean's struggling side had taken the lead through a fine strike from Ruben Rochina in the first half, but Zamora equalised soon after to leave Blackburn still waiting for their first league win this season.

There was more bad news for Kean as midfielder David Hoilett was stretched off in stoppage time wearing a neck brace after a nasty collision with Fulham goalkeeper Mark Schwarzer. Fulham are also without a victory in their first four league games and, like Blackburn, they were unable to climb out of the bottom three after a scrappy encounter in west London. — Internet

"Mertesacker was calm and composed - he just needs to adapt to the pace of the game," said Wenger.

Spurs' Van der Vaart hopes for early return

LONDON, 12 Sept — Tottenham midfielder Rafael van der Vaart hopes to return from a hamstring injury ahead of schedule and has targeted a comeback in his club's Premier League match against Liverpool next weekend. Liverpool and could even return against PAOK Salonika in the Europa League on Thursday.

Ferguson hails 'fantastic' and 'mature' Rooney

MANCHESTER, 12 Sept—Manchester United manager Alex Ferguson believes Wayne Rooney's new-found maturity has been key to the striker's lightning start to the season.

Rooney has become only the fourth player in Premier League history to score hat-tricks in back-to-back games when he netted a treble in Saturday's 5-0 win at Bolton. The England striker has now taken his tally to eight goals in four matches, more than 18 Premier League clubs have so far managed, and drawn level with Bobby Charlton on seven three-timers for the club.

It is a far cry from Rooney's poor form of 12 months ago, and Ferguson believes the trigger has been his number one striker's new-found maturity. "When players get to their mid-20s, there is more thought in their game. Their timing is better. Wayne's presence is good and he is looking fantastic," said Ferguson.

United top the table on 12 points, with only superior goals difference keeping them ahead of Manchester City. Ferguson will be hoping Rooney hits the spot against Benfica in their opening Champions League match of the campaign in Lisbon on Wednesday, when United will also aim to extend their 18-month unbeaten away record in the competition.—Internet
