We honour Myanmar women's soccer team

It is opportune to write on promoting the standard of sports in the nation when Myanmar women's soccer team wins the trophy of AFF Women's Championship. The government has been providing necessary assistance for raising the sport standard of the country. Due to their strength and sporting spirit, we believe that Myanmar athletes can enter into the competitions of Asian level.

Myanmar hosted the third ASEAN Football Federation Women's Championship for the first time. Myanmar women's team beat Thai women's team in the final and won the AFF Women's Championship trophy for the second time. The trophy was won due to team spirit, hard training and maximum performance in the final.

Women's teams from Myanmar, Thailand, Laos, Singapore, Vietnam, Malaysia, Indonesia and the Philippines participated in the championship and Myanmar was unbeaten in the all five matches including the final. Gaining victory in sport promotes the prestige of the State and the people. Thousands of sport fans watched the final of AFF Women's Championship held the other day.

TV viewers in Myanmar are very much pleased with the team spirit and victory of Myanmar team. Winning of the match indicates united spirit and patriotism.

Myanmar women's soccer team sets an example of fine performance with high spirit to other athletes. Therefore, athletes of volleyball, track and field, archery, tennis, weightlifting, taekwondo, sepak takraw and swimming should harmoniously strive with national spirit to win victory in every competition.

Germany denies US report on UN sanctions against Iran

BERLIN, 15 Sept — Germany on Friday denied a recent US report saying that it tried to hold off drafting any further UN sanctions against Iran over the country's nuclear programme.

"Germany is prepared to take the necessary steps against Iran, if necessary," Foreign Ministry spokesman Martin Jaeger told a regular news conference.

The comments came as a response to the TV channel FOX's report saying that Germany wanted to delay any sanctions to allow a deal struck between Iran and the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) on 21 August to take effect.

Jaeger described the report as "nonsense", adding that the German Government is working closely with European partners on the Iran issue.

He said Germany was also open to "give Iran a chance to recover the international community's lost confidence in its nuclear programme."

The IAEA, the UN watchdog, reached a deal with Teheran last month to bring transparency to Iran's nuclear programme.

"If Iran is ready to do this ... then I think we can spare ourselves future sanctions debates," the spokesman said.

Iran has repeatedly claimed its nuclear programme is for peaceful purposes such as generating electricity.

Washington, however, suspects that Iran is seeking nuclear weapons and insists to expand sanctions against the so-called "rogue state".

Cholera infects 16,000 in northern Iraq

GENEVA, 15 Sept — The cholera outbreak in three provinces of northern Iraq has now infected 16,000 people, including 10 deaths, the World Health Organization (WHO) said on Friday.

Between 23 August and 10 September, at least 6,000 people had been reported with diarrhoeal diseases in Sulaymaniyah Province, almost 7,000 in Kirkuk Province, and at least 3,000 cases in Erbil Province, WHO spokeswoman Fadela Chaib told reporters in Geneva.

The good news is that, although the disease has spread, the number of deaths has remained the same, Chaib said, adding that measures taken to deal with the outbreak are having an effect.

Chaib said the WHO's representative for Iraq, who is normally based in Amman, Jordan, had made a number of trips to the north of Iraq, as well as to Baghdad to talk to the authorities and coordinate

Zimbabwe tops literacy rankings in southern Africa

HARARE, 15 Sept — Zimbabwe has the highest overall literacy rate of 90 per cent in southern Africa followed by South Africa with 86 per cent, according to the latest United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization statistics on literacy in Africa, The Herald reported on Friday.

The statistics, released during celebrations to mark

International Literacy Day that falls any day between 8 and 12 September showed that close to 98 per cent of youths in Zimbabwe are literate compared to a regional average of 69.4 per cent while the adult literacy rate is 89.4 per cent, way ahead of the regional average of 59.2 per cent.

Botswana, Lesotho and Swaziland are third with 81 per cent while Mozambique recorded the lowest at 46 per cent.

Last year, the Organization of Economic Cooperation and Development ranked the quality of education on offer in Zimbabwe as the third best in Africa, after Tunisia and Kenya, and 39th in the world. The quality of mathematics and science education in Zimbabwe was ranked 70th in the world with Morocco at 49th and Benin at 55th adjudged to be the only other African countries better in this department.

New FDM outbreak confirmed at second British farm

LONDON, 15 Sept — The British Government on Friday officially confirmed that cattle culled at a second Surrey farm have tested positive for foot-and-mouth disease. The government’s chief vet Debby Reynolds said that foot-and-mouth had been present at the farm — taking the total number of farms where the disease has been found in 2007 to four.

The chief vet said she was glad that all the animals on the farm had been culled before the test results were announced. The “precautionary” cull of animals took place at Stroude Farm, in Egham, near the scene of the outbreak of the disease discovered on Wednesday, local media reported. Stroude farm is about 16 kilometres from the Pirbright research complex blamed as the source for the foot-and-mouth outbreaks at two farms in early August. Suicide truck bomb kills 11 in northern Iraq

TIKRIT (Iraq), 15 Sept — A suicide fuel tanker bomb struck a police checkpoint in the town of Beiji in Salahudin Province north of Baghdad, on Friday, killing 11 people including policemen and wounding eight others, a provincial police source said. “A suicide bomber blew up his explosive-laden fuel tanker at a police checkpoint near the Mashallah Restaurant on the southern entrance of the town of Beiji, 200 kilometres north of Baghdad,” the source told Xinhua on condition of anonymity. The powerful explosion killed nine policemen and two civilians, along with wounding eight civilians and damaging parts of the nearby restaurant, the source said. Iraqi security forces cordoned off the scene and ambulances rushed to the area to evacuate the casualties, he added. The incident came a day after a roadside bomb killed Sheikh Abdul Sattar Abu Risha, a key leader of an alliance of Sunni Arab tribes. Singapore tries to spur LNG trading growth

SINGAPORE, 15 Sept — A Singapore senior official on Thursday stressed Singapore's policy of spurring the growth of the liquefied natural gas (LNG) trading sector.

Speaking at an event to award top 250 global energy companies in Asia, Lee Yi Shyan, Minister of State for Trade and Industry, formulated two key pillars of the country's energy policy framework: improving energy efficiency and investing in clean energy.

He was optimistic in Singapore's LNG trading volumes, saying "International Enterprise (IE) Singapore is now in discussion with a number of companies about starting LNG trading in Singapore.

"Given the synergies and the strong interest, we are optimistic that we will be able to leverage on Singapore's expertise in oil trading to grow our LNG trading volumes," he added.

Last week, the Singapore Government announced that PowerGas had been designated to build and operate the LNG terminal which will be operational by 2012.

The government will also appoint an LNG aggregator next year to consolidate gas demand from all end users in Singapore and procure LNG from suppliers on their behalf. He also said that global demand growth has also led to the expansion of Asian-based integrated oil majors and spurred investments into energy infrastructure within Asia.

He added that, at the same time, opportunities have been created, and global oil majors, such as Total, BP and Shell, have been making inroads into the Chinese market, entering into joint ventures for refineries, petrochemical plants and even retail stations.

Indian Ocean tsunami alerts improve, but still flaws

JAKARTA, 15 Sept — Tsunami warning systems in the Indian Ocean have improved since the devastating 2004 Indonesian quake but still have many flaws and produce false alerts or miss potential threats, experts and officials said on Friday.

Authorities in nations ringing the Indian Ocean issued a series of tsunami alerts this week after a powerful quake hit Indonesia’s Sumatra Island on Wednesday, followed by more than 40 aftershocks of between magnitude 4.9 to 7.8.

So far, there only appear to have been a few localized and non-fatal tsunamis in Sumatra, but experts said the region was lucky to have escaped a tsunami similar to the one off Indonesia’s Aceh which killed more than 280,000 people in 2004.

Seismologist Mike Turnbull of Australia’s Central Queensland University said authorities had not over-reacted this week.

“It would have been irresponsible not to issue the warnings because all the scientific evidence (was) available at the time when the warnings were issued,” Turnbull said by telephone.

In Indonesia, any undersea quake measuring more than 6.3 on the Richter Scale and less than 70 kilometres deep automatically triggers a tsunami warning in earthquake centres and then a seismologist reviews the data before deciding whether to issue an alert.

Pariatmono, an official at Indonesia’s Research and Technology Ministry, said a warning, even if it was false, was better than none, but admitted to flaws.

“At the moment the system is not fully reliable, and that is why there are many false warnings,” he said by telephone.

The lack of an effective warning system in the Indian Ocean was brutally exposed in 2004, particularly compared with the Pacific where US and Japanese agencies are highly developed.

Neighbouring Malaysia issued a tsunami warning on Wednesday, including alerting those on the resort island of Penang, which was hit by the 2004 tsunami.

Malaysian Science Minister Jamaludin Jarjis told Reuters he was “very happy” with the coordination between Indonesian and Malaysian authorities that shared real-time data.

Indonesia is setting up a nation-wide tsunami early warning system due to be completed by the end of 2008.

The system includes tsunami buoys and tide gauges on several offshore quake-prone points as well as sirens in populated coastal areas.

Illegal African immigrants die crossing from Somalia to Yemen

GENEVA, 15 Sept — At least 56 illegal African immigrants have lost their lives trying to make the perilous Gulf of Aden crossing from Somalia to Yemen since early September, the UN High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) said on Friday.

Since 3 September, 12 smuggler’s boats carrying 925 Somalis, Ethiopians and others have reached Yemen after crossing the Gulf of Aden, UNHCR spokesman Ron Redmond told reporters in Geneva.

“The most recent arrivals in Yemen told us that they were beaten by smugglers during the trip and that 24 people on their boat had died — three as a result of beatings; 11 after being crammed into the hold of the boat; and 10 from drowning in waters offshore,” Redmond said.

UNHCR questioning of earlier arrivals determined that at least another 32 people on three of the boats had lost their lives during crossings this month, he added. The deaths in the Gulf of Aden are a reminder of the risks taken every year by thousands of people resorting to smugglers in the Gulf of Aden, the Mediterranean and other waters, UNHCR said in a statement.

In recent months, international agencies working in Somalia have joined forces and set up a task force to better address the problem, it said.

So far in 2007, more than 10,000 people have reportedly arrived in Yemen in 103 boats. A total of 282 people died while 159 remain missing and presumed dead, according to UNHCR figures.

Champion Myanmar Women's Team wins victory through high sporting spirit and good teamwork plus the all-out support of the fans Victorious Myanmar women footballers celebrating victory by lifting up their individual championship trophies.

The 3rd AFF Women's Championship 2007, hosted by the Union of Myanmar for the first time, that started at Youth Training Centre in Thuwunna of Yangon on 6 September, successfully concluded on 15 September. Myanmar Women's Team deservedly secured the championship by winning over Thai Women's Team 5-2 in the final match.

In the 1st AFF Women's Championship held in Vietnam in 2005, Myanmar Women's Team clinched the title after beating the host Vietnamese Women's Team on the penalty shoots. In 2006 when the 2nd AFF Women's Championship was also organized in Vietnam, the host women's team emerged champion.

The victory of Myanmar Women's Team in the 3rd championship was its second success. In its first success on the soil of Vietnam, Myanmar won over the host team on the penalty decision. Likewise, Myanmar emerged champion for the second time at home by beating Thai Team on the penalty kicks. It is obvious that Myanmar did not easily clinch the titles in its competitions.

In the 3rd AFF Women's Championship 2007, the Group (A) comprised defending champion Vietnam, Indonesia, Malaysia and the Philippines, while host Myanmar, Thailand, Singapore and Laos were second with six points, and both teams entered the semifinal. In the Group (B), Myanmar that secured the first position with nine points on the standing table together with runner-up Thailand with six points cruised into the semifinal.

On 13 September, Thailand edged out Vietnam 3-0 in the first semifinal, and Myanmar routed Malaysia with a 5-0 win. On 15 September, the third place and the final matches were organized. Vietnamese Women's the final whistle. As both teams scored one goal each in the extra times, the result had to be decided through the penalty shoot-outs. While Myanmar could kick four balls into the net, Thai team was able to score only one goal. Therefore, Myanmar emerged champion with a 5-2 score due to the fact that the fifth penalty shot was not required.

At this juncture, it can be seen that the dynamism of patriotic spirit and the high included in the Group (B). The group matches were held from 6 to 11 September. Final matches of both groups took place at YTC (Thuwunna) and Aung San Stadium at 3.30 pm simultaneously.

match. In other words, the victory of the Myanmar women's team came through the united strength between the spectators and the players. As a result, Myanmar Women's Team deservedly won the championship trophy in the Third AFF Women's Championship due to strengthening of their dynamism of patriotic spirit, diligence, perseverance and unity.

Thein and Moe Moe Wah could strongly block attacks and penetrations of the opponent players, while skillful midfielders Aye Nanda Hlaing and Than Than Htwe played up and down linkages in attacks and defensive moves.

In five matches from the group to the final, Myanmar scored 17 goals and conceded only one. For the Myanmar team, Aye Nanda Hlaing and Zin Mar Wan shot four goals each, Khin Marlar victory and for its wonderful defensive plays.

The victorious Myanmar Women's

Team was headed by Team Leader U Soe Myint Lwin (Technical Director of MFF) together with Manager Daw Myat Myat Oo, Chief Coach U Aye Kyu Gyi (Defence), Assistant Coach U Chit Naing (SPED), Goalkeeping Coach U Kyaw Tint (SPED) and Medical Officer Dr Molly Chit (SPED). The team was formed with Goalkeepers May Khin Yamin (Home Affairs) and Thin Thin Soe (Transport); Defenders Myint Myint Aye, Moe Moe Wah (Transport), Shwe Sin Aung (Industry-1), San San Thein, San San Maw, Sein Cho Aung (Home Affairs); Midfielders Su Su Wai, Khi Moe Wai (Home Affairs), San Yu Naing, Than Than Htwe, Aye Nanda Hlaing (Transport), Nyein Nyein Ei (Yangon Division); Forwards Mai Nilar Htwe (Home Affairs), Khin Marlar Tun (SPEI-Mandalay), Zin Mar Wan and Margaret Mary (Transport).

Indeed, the victory of Myanmar Women's Team proved that not only the individual football skills and application of excellent techniques but also the high sporting spirit and harmonious teamwork are important for gaining success in the international football tournament. Moreover, the tumultuous applause and cheers of officials concerned and packed spectators with patriotic spirit encouraged the Myanmar Women's Team to be able to march to the championship. In fact, the victory of Myanmar Women's Team in the 3rd AFF Women's Championship is a milestone in the history of Myanmar football.

Myanmar Women's Team showed its brilliant football skills in the championship. Although Thai players have football skills and techniques individually and team-wise, Myanmar team put the rival under its thumb with the harmonious teamwork and high sporting spirit. Especially, Myanmar woman goalkeeper May Khin Yamin made fantastic saves throughout the match. Superb defenders San San Maw, San San Tun, Margaret Mary and Khin Moe Wai two goals each, and Moe Moe Wah and Su Su Wai, one each.

Myanmar should be proud of being able to host the AFF Women's Championship to keep abreast of other tournaments held in ASEAN member countries. Australian scientist to lead California’s stem research institute

LOS ANGELES, 16 Sept — Australian biologist Alan Trounson will lead California’s three-billion-dollar effort to find cures for diseases through human embryonic research, it was reported on Saturday.

Alan Trounson, 61, director of the Monash Immunology and Stem Cell Laboratories in Melbourne and a founder of the Australian Stem Cell Centre, would be the new president of the California Institute for Regenerative Medicine, according to The Los Angeles Times.

The institute had been without a president since the April resignation of neuroscientist Zach W

Hall, who left two months earlier than his announced retirement date.

Trounson had deep roots in the field and rich experience in taking discoveries from the laboratory to the clinic with “global vision,” said Robert Klein II, board chairman and driving force behind Proposition 71, which authorized creation of the institute.

Under the terms of his contract, Trounson can work part time at a prorated salary for up to six months as he closes down his laboratory, Klein said in remarks published by The Times.

Trounson’s appointment comes just as the almost 3-year-old institute is set to shift into warp speed with an infusion of money and talent. Until now, it was running on borrowed money and a skeletal staff.

Missing British girl’s parents say hunt must go on LONDON, 16 Sept — The parents of missing British girl Madeleine McCann are to launch an advertising campaign across Europe to try to shift attention back to the search for their daughter, a family member said on Saturday.

Gerry and Kate McCann, who are formal suspects in the police investigation into her disappearance, believe she is still alive and have asked police to keep looking for the four-year-old.

They will pay for the campaign using a million pound fund donated by well-wishers since their daughter was reported missing while on holiday in Portugal on 3 May.

“The fund will finance a broad range of initiatives in advertising to remind everyone that Madeleine is still missing,” Gerry McCann’s brother John said in a statement. “I hope that the general public will continue to support us in this.” — MNA/Reuters

Iraqis vow to fight al-Qaeda after Sheikh death

RAMADI (Iraq), 16 Sept — Sunni Arab Iraqis and US forces in Anbar Province vowed on Friday to keep fighting al-Qaeda after the assassination of a tribal leader who worked with Americans to create one of Iraq’s few security success stories.

Abdul Sattar Abu Risha was killed in a bomb attack on Thursday near his home in Ramadi, provincial capital of what was once one of Iraq’s most dangerous areas.

“All the tribes agreed to fight al-Qaeda until the last child in Anbar,” his brother, Ahmed Abu Risha, told Reuters.

An al-Qaeda-led group said on Friday it was responsible for the killing of Abu Risha, according to an Internet posting. The self-styled Islamic State in Iraq called the killing of Abu Risha a “heroic operation” and vowed to assassinate more tribal leaders who cooperate with US and government forces.

Its statement could not be authenticated, but it was posted on a main Islamist Web site.

“This ... is a new setback for the crusaders’ plans and Bush’s new strategy,” the Islamic State in Iraq said, adding the operation took more than a month to prepare.

Abu Risha, who met US President George W Bush less than two weeks ago, led the Anbar Salvation Council, an alliance of Sunni Arab tribes that worked with US troops to push Sunni Islamist al-Qaeda out of much of the vast desert area.

Germany warns of terrorist, even nuclear, attack

BERLIN, 16 Sept — The risk of a terrorist attack in Germany, possibly even a nuclear strike, is high despite last week’s arrest of suspected Islamist militants, Interior Minister Wolfgang Schaeuble told a newspaper on Saturday.

“The terrorist threat has not diminished,” Schaeuble told the Frankfurter Allgemeine Sonntagszeitung, according to extracts published in advance.

“I am no less worried since the arrests. We know more precisely that we are in the crosshairs of Islamist terrorism ... the terrorists want to carry out more attacks,” he said.

Schaeuble even warned of the danger of a nuclear attack, although it was not clear if he was referring to Germany specifically.

“Many experts are convinced this kind of attack is a question of when, not if,” he told the paper. — MNA/Reuters

Innovation, technology expo opens in HK

HONG KONG, 16 Sept — A five-day exhibition showcasing advancements in innovation, technology and design in the Chinese Mainland, Hong Kong and Macao opened here on Friday.

Innovation Expo 07, held at the Convention and Exhibition Centre, attracted about 100 participants from Chinese Mainland, Hong Kong and Macao, including universities, research and development organizations, industry support groups, technology and design enterprises, and technology education institutes. Twenty seminars and 50 DesignTech Workshops will also be held during the expo.

Addressing the opening ceremony, Hong Kong Financial Secretary John Tsang said the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region government actively promotes innovation and technology through funding programmes and infrastructural support.

“Looking ahead, we will continue to promote innovation and technology, strengthen Hong Kong’s role as a technology servicing hub in the region and contribute to the building an innovative nation,” Tsang said.

Osteoporosis drug Evista approved to cut risk of breast cancer

WASHINGTON, 16 Sept — The US Food and Drug Administration approved Evista on Friday for reducing the risk of invasive breast cancer in postmenopausal women with osteoporosis and in postmenopausal women at high risk for invasive breast cancer.

In 1997, FDA approved Evista, which is manufactured by Eli Lilly and Company, for the prevention of osteoporosis in postmenopausal women and, in 1999, for the treatment of postmenopausal women with osteoporosis.

Previously as a drug for osteoporosis, Evista is now only the second drug approved to reduce the risk of breast cancer. Evista is commonly referred to as a selective estrogen receptor modulator (SERM). In reducing the risk of invasive breast cancer, SERMs may act by blocking estrogen receptors in the breast.

“Today’s action provides an important new option for women at heightened risk of breast cancer,” said Steven Galson, director of FDA’s Centre for Drug Evaluation and Research. “Because Evista can cause serious side effects, the benefits and risks of taking Evista should be carefully evaluated for each individual woman”.

The serious side effects include blood clots in the legs and lungs, and death due to stroke. Women with current or prior blood clots in the legs, lungs, or eyes should not take Evista. Other potential side effects include hot flashes, leg cramps, swelling of the legs and feet, flu-like symptoms, joint pain, and sweating.

“Eastern Promises” tops at Toronto Film Festival

TORONTO, 16 Sept — “Eastern Promises,” a Russian mob thriller directed by Canadian cult legend David Cronenberg, won the Toronto International Film Festival’s top prize on Saturday, positioning itself as an early Oscar favourite.

The festival’s Cadillac People’s Choice Award, voted on by moviegoers, often is an indicator of Academy Award nominations. Past recipients include best picture winners “American Beauty” and “Chariots of Fire.”

“It’s great that it’s a Canadian film by one of our monsters, somebody that we’re really closely associated with,” Piers Handling, the film festival’s director said in an interview after the awards presentation. “It couldn’t be a better finish for us.”

Cronenberg did not accept the award in person because he was in New York promoting the film, which opened in select cities this weekend.

It stars “Lord of the Rings” actor Viggo Mortensen as a ruthless Russian gangster in London who crosses paths with an innocent midwife, played by Naomi Watts, holding secrets about the mob family.

It is the second time in three years Cronenberg and Mortensen have teamed up. The two worked together in the 2005 Oscar-nominated “A History of Violence,” another movie about crime and how people respond to it.

Truck bomb kills seven police north of Baghdad

BAGHDAD, 15 Sept — A suicide bomber rammed a truck laden with explosives into two police cars near the northern Iraqi town of Baiji on Friday, killing at least seven policemen, a police source said.

An official at a joint police and Army co-ordination centre put the death toll at 10, and said he believed it could rise further because identification cards had been found at the scene which did not belong to bodies so far recovered.

The police cars were parked outside a restaurant, three kilometres (two miles) south of Baiji, the official said. He said eight civilians were wounded in the attack.

S'pore students urged to be specialists facing globalized world

SINGAPORE, 15 Sept — Singapore's students should be specialists to be well prepared for a fast-changing globalized world, Education Minister Tharman Shanmugaratnam said here.

Speaking at the Forbes Global CEO Conference, Tharman noted two key things for the ingredients of success for individuals and the nation, according to local television Channel NewsAsia report. "The first is innovation where individuals are prepared to work in innovative teams. The second is preparing individuals to work in global teams. This would require a greater degree of intellectual versatility than what we see now coming out of high schools and universities in most systems," he said.

He cautioned against producing too many generalists, saying specialist training was still important, because the training that a specialist undergoes, in being willing to go in-depth in a particular area, will help them adapt and cope with new areas.

But the specialist is not the traditional form of specializing in just one area. It should be a new hybrid that of specialists willing to step out into new areas, Tharman explained.

Cambodia sets up sanctuary for rare crane

PHNOM PENH, 15 Sept —Cambodia has established an 8,000 hectares (20,000 acres) sanctuary in flood plains near the Mekong Delta to protect the rare Eastern Sarus Crane, Environment Minister Mok Mareth said on Friday.

Nearly 300 of the red-headed, 1.3-metre (four-feet) tall birds have been found in two districts of Takeo Province near the border with Vietnam. Conservationists said in 1999 there may be fewer than 1,000 of the birds left in the wild.

“We need to protect these beautiful creatures,” Mok Mareth said, adding that wildlife officials had been dispatched to tell local fishermen and farmers not to hunt the cranes for food.

The cranes have also been found in the northwestern province of Banteay Meanchey Province, 300 kilometres (185 miles) northwest of Phnom Penh, in an old Khmer Rouge reservoir.

Alcohol education should start in elementary school in US

NEW YORK 15 Sept—Efforts to curb underage drinking in the US should start as early as the fourth grade, a University of Pittsburgh Medical Centre researcher reports in the current issue of Prevention Science.

In a review of state and national surveys of alcohol use among children in grades 3 through 6 conducted over the last 15 years, Dr John E. Donovan found that among typical 4th graders, 10 per cent had already had more than a sip of alcohol and 7 per cent had a drink in the past year.

While the numbers are small in the 4th grade, the data show that the per cent of children who have used alcohol increases with age and doubles between the 4th and 6th grades, with the largest jump seen between grades 5 and 6.

“It is clear from this review that attention to children’s alcohol use cannot wait until they are adolescents,” warns Donovan. At each grade level, boys were more likely to have used alcohol than girls, and African American children were nearly twice as likely as White or Hispanic children to have used alcohol.—MNA/Reuters

Shanghai tops out world’s third-tallest building

SHANGHAI, 15 Sept —A topping-out ceremony for the world’s third-tallest building—the 101-storey, 492-metre Shanghai World Financial Centre—was held on Friday morning after the last beam was laid to mark the completion of construction.

The building would cost a total of 125 billion Japanese yen, or 8.17 billion RMB, according to Minoru Mori, president of Mori Building Co Ltd, a major investor in the project. The skyscraper, which usurps the nearby 421-metre Jinmao Tower as the tallest on the Chinese Mainland, will be finished and put into commercial use next spring.

The most distinctive feature in the building’s design is a trapezoidal hole at the top. There will be an observation deck on the 100th floor, 472 metres up, making it the world’s highest public observation platform.

The tower will house 70 floors of office space designed to accommodate 12,000 people, with a hotel, restaurants, conference centres and shopping malls.

The rental has been initially set at three US dollars per square metre a day, the highest rent in the city Japan’s Mizuho Corporate Bank and Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation have signed leases. Other potential tenants include JPMorgan and Lehman Brothers.

Zeta-Jones plans film set in India

MUMBAI, 15 Sept —Hollywood actress Catherine Zeta-Jones is set to visit India with husband Michael Douglas to shoot a new film, a newspaper on Thursday quoted her as saying.

Zeta-Jones told the Times of India newspaper she was currently developing the script with Douglas.

The newspaper did not say when it would be ready or when the couple would visit.

“We will take our kids and all of us will come there, set a camp in India and shoot a film,” Zeta-Jones, who won an Oscar in 2003 for her role in the musical “Chicago”, told the newspaper. “I’m looking forward to going to India.”

India’s media went into

Benzema treble gives Lyon fourth win in row

PARIS, 16 Sept — A Karim Benzema hat-trick earned Olympique Lyon their fourth Ligue 1 win in a row on Saturday, the six-times French champions thrashing Metz 5-1.

The France striker was on target for the visitors in the fifth, 36th and 39th minutes as Lyon moved up to second in the table with 15 points from seven games.

Nesta grabs last gasp point for Milan at Siena

MILAN, 16 Sept — European champions AC Milan snatched a 1-1 Serie A draw at Siena on Saturday thanks to Alessandro Nesta's injury-time strike.

Milan coach Carlo Ancelotti rested Kaka among others with one eye on Tuesday's Champions League opener with Benfica but the policy backfired slightly.

Visitors Milan could have scored in the first couple of minutes but were stung midway though the first half when former Middlesbrough forward Massimo Maccarone capitalized on mistakes by goalkeeper Dida and defender Kakha Kaladze to score.

Ancelotti brought on striker Filippo Inzaghi for midfielder Gennaro Gattuso at halftime to boost his attacking options.

Siena, saved from relegation with only five minutes to go last season, almost held on but were finally undone when defender Nesta forced the ball home.

Hiddink to extend Russia contract through 2010

MOSCOW, 16 Sept — Guus Hiddink has agreed in principle to extend his contract as Russia coach through 2010, ending speculation the Dutchman would coach elsewhere in the near future, he said on Saturday.

Hiddink told Reuters he had met Russian FA chief Vitaly Mutko on the eve of Wednesday's Euro 2008 qualifier against England in London to discuss his future. "I had a talk with Mr Mutko and although we didn't go into the contract details because I wanted to concentrate on the England game, we have decided to continue our relationship for another two years through 2010," Hiddink said in a telephone interview from the Netherlands.

Blackburn's Samba knocked out in Chelsea clash

LONDON, 16 Sept — Blackburn defender Christopher Samba was taken to hospital on Saturday after being knocked unconscious in a goalmouth clash during his side's 0-0 Premier League draw at Chelsea. Blackburn manager Mark Hughes said the Congolese player had been kicked in the back of the head and had twisted his neck in the clash in the 85th minute.

"He's on his way to hospital as we speak. I don't think he had come round in the dressing room so there is a bit of concern," Hughes said. Samba, who had been caught by the boot of Chelsea striker Andriy Shevchenko, was treated on the pitch for six minutes and put in a neck brace before being carried off on a stretcher. — MNA/Reuters

Porto move clear at the top with win over Maritimo

LISBON, 16 Sept — Lucho Gonzalez gave leaders Porto a 1-0 victory over second-placed Maritimo to make it four wins from their first four games as they moved three points clear in the Portuguese Premier League on Saturday.

Argentine striker Gonzalez grabbed the winner for the champions with a far-post header after 56 minutes following a cross from the left by Slovakian defender Marek Cech. Porto are top with 12 points followed by previously unbeaten Maritimo on nine and Benfica, who beat Naval 3-0, with eight.— MNA/Reuters

Schalke get 1-1 draw at Bayern Munich

BERLIN, 16 Sept — Bayern Munich had to settle for a 1-1 draw at home to Schalke 04 on Saturday, a result that cut their lead in the Bundesliga to a single point. Ivan Rakitic beat Oliver Kahn with a low shot in the 36th minute to stun the 66,000 crowd at the Allianz Arena.

Bayern equalized with a Miroslav Klose header nine minutes after the break. After five games Bayern lead with 11 points, one ahead of Arminia Bielefeld and Eintracht Frankfurt.

Borussia Dortmund, 3-0 winners over Werder Bremen on Friday, are in fourth place on nine points, with Bayer Leverkusen fifth on eight points after their 2-0 win at home to VfL Bochum.

With Luca Toni back and fit, Bayern looked capable of winning handsomely.

Toni, however, wasted his first chance in the seventh minute, dragging a shot wide after being put clean through on goal.

Klose then missed two perfect opportunities to play in his strike partner after neat build-up play and Christian Lell fluffed a good opening at the far post.

Protest in Washington demands end to Iraq war

WASHINGTON, 16 Sept — Tens of thousands of protesters staged the first anti-war protest in this US capital since January on Saturday, demanding an end to the Iraq war.

Holding black and yellow signs reading “End the War,” protesters started to gather in the morning near the White House. The protest formally began at noon at Lafayette Park, on the north side of the White House, with speeches from at least two dozen speakers ranging from former US attorney general Ramsey Clark and Ralph Nader to Washington Wizards player Etan Thomas.

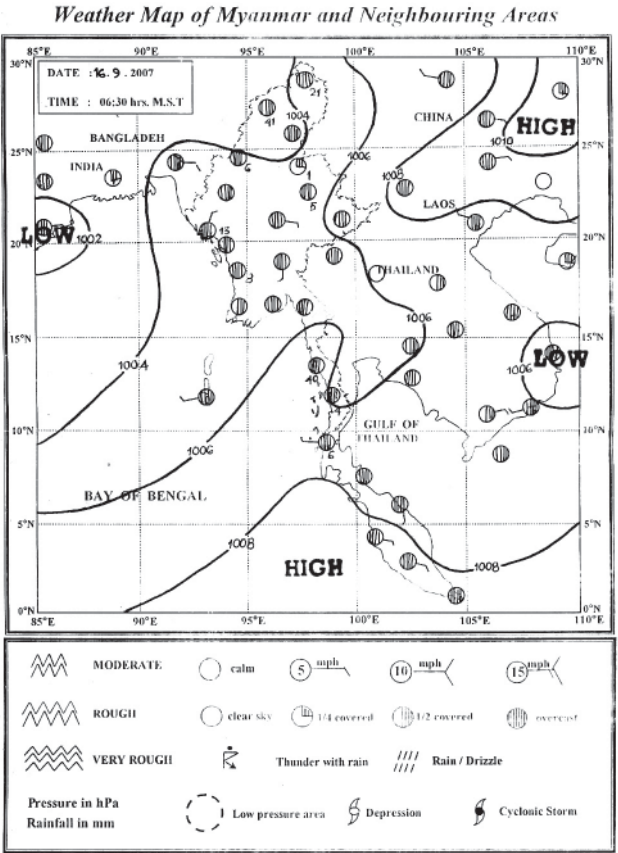

Around 3:00 p.m., protesters began to march to the Capitol, where they staged a “die-in” with a mock 21-gun salute.

Police said dozens of protesters had been arrested without incident after they climbed over a waist-high metal fence erected at the base of the Capitol.

Cheered on by the crowd, more demonstrators were leaping over the fence every few minutes in the late afternoon and were being taken into custody.

Like the last major anti-war march in January, when tens of thousands marched to the National Mall, Saturday's event came at a tense time in the fractious debate over the US mission in Iraq.

INSIDE

In the final match, Myanmar and Thai women's teams could not break the goalless draw deadlock till the final whistle.

As both teams scored one goal each in the extra times, the result had to be decided through the penalty shoot-outs. While Myanmar could kick four balls into the net, Thai team was able to score only one goal. Therefore, Myanmar emerged champion with a 5-2 score due to the fact that the fifth penalty shot was not required.
