US launches criminal probe into CIA tapes destruction

WASHINGTON, 3 Jan—The US Justice Department said on Wednesday it had launched a criminal investigation into the CIA's destruction of videotapes showing the harsh interrogation of terrorism suspects.

"There is a basis for initiating a criminal investigation of this matter, and I have taken steps to begin that investigation," said Attorney-General Michael Mukasey.

The Central Intelligence Agency last month disclosed that in 2005 it destroyed hundreds of hours of tapes from the interrogations of two al-Qaeda suspects, prompting an outcry from Democrats, human rights activists and some legal experts. The interrogations, which took place in 2002, were believed to have included a form of simulated drowning known as waterboarding, condemned internationally as torture.

President George W. Bush has said the United States does not torture but has declined to be specific about interrogation methods. The Justice Department and the CIA's inspector general last month launched an initial inquiry into the destruction of the tapes.

The CIA says it acted lawfully in destroying the tapes, but critics say the agency flouted court orders and investigators' requests that it hand over evidence in various terrorism cases. A Justice Department official declined to specify what laws may have been violated.

Top London cancer hospital evacuated after fire

LONDON, 3 Jan—A fire tore through a leading cancer hospital in London on Wednesday, forcing a complete evacuation including some patients undergoing operations.

The top floor of the Royal Marsden Hospital in southwest London was gutted, and 79 inpatients and dozens more outpatients were taken to neighbouring hospitals and churches.

More than 800 staff, some still dressed in surgical scrubs, were also evacuated.

Streets surrounding the hospital were shut to allow firefighters to tackle the blaze which sent clouds of dark smoke billowing over southwest London.

Two firefighters and one patient were taken to another hospital suffering from smoke inhalation. No other patients were injured.

The hospital was founded in 1851 and was the first in the world dedicated to cancer treatment and research into the causes of cancer.—MNA/Reuters

Wind gust strands 18 on upside-down roller coaster in China

HIEFEI, 3 Jan— Strong winds brought a roller coaster to a halt at the top of its loop in east China’s Anhui Province, stranding 18 passengers upside down for about half an hour, an official said on Wednesday.

Zhang Shengying, the deputy director of the Wuhu municipal bureau of quality and technical supervision, said an investigation revealed that the accident had been caused by extreme weather at the Wuhu Fangte Amusement Park, Anhui Province.

The equipment was in good condition and the weather was suitable when the coaster began its journey shortly before 2pm Monday, Zhang said.

But a sudden gust halted the coaster, which was then locked to the loop by safety devices, with the passengers hanging upside down.

Vice general manager of the park Wang Qicheng said the facility would suspend operations for a month for a complete overhaul before reopening to the public.

Six of the 18 passengers felt ill after the accident and were sent to the hospital, but all had been discharged by that evening.

Wang said some passengers were demanding compensation and the park management was negotiating with them.

Somali kidnappers free Argentine, Spanish aid staff

BOSASSO (Somalia), 3 Jan — Kidnappers in Somalia’s northern Puntland region on Wednesday freed two female aid workers from the Spanish branch of Medecins sans Frontieres (MSF), Puntland’s Trade Minister said.

“The two MSF workers have been released by their abductors and they are now in a hotel in Bosasso,” Trade Minister Abdisamad Yusuf Abwan told Reuters.

Spanish doctor Mercedes Garcia and Argentine nurse Pilar Bauza Moreno were seized by gunmen on 26 December in Bosasso, a northern Somali port, while driving to a hospital in the semi-autonomous region.

Speaking on a Spanish radio station, Spain’s Foreign Minister Miguel Angel Moratinos denied a ransom had been paid.

“No, no. There have been a lot of negotiations, a lot of persuasion,” he said. “The Somali authorities have helped us a lot, both the Prime Minister and the President of Puntland.” Moratinos said Garcia wanted to return to her aid work.

Another 11 people, park personnel and their family members, were also evacuated,” Chile’s National Emergency Office (Onemi) said in a statement.

Maryland prisoner shoots, carjacks way out of hospital

WASHINGTON, 3 Jan— An inmate who said he had chest pains overpowered two guards at a Maryland hospital on Wednesday, shot a man outside the hospital and commandeered his vehicle as a getaway car, state police said.

It was the second time a prisoner had escaped from Laurel Regional Hospital since November.

State police identified the prisoner as Kelvin Polk, who was convicted of kidnapping and carjacking.

He seized the weapons from his guards, apparently shot off his leg shackles, outmanoeuvred a third security official and fled outside where he shot a driver in the head, pushed him out of the car, and drove away, setting off a manhunt in Laurel, a suburb between Washington and Baltimore. Police said the man he shot was in good condition. — MNA/Reuters

Oil hits record $100 a barrel

NEW YORK, 3 Jan—Oil prices vaulted to a record 100 US dollars a barrel on Wednesday as violence in Nigeria, tight energy stockpiles and a weaker dollar triggered a surge of speculative buying, dealers said.

Oil's climb to the psychologically key triple-digit price helped send stocks tumbling on Wall Street and further darkened an already gloomy economic outlook in the United States, which has been battered by a housing crisis and credit crunch.

"Oil hitting 100 US dollars a barrel has sparked some concerns about the consumer and inflation," said Todd Salamone, vice president of research at Schaeffer's Investment Research. US crude traded once at 100 US dollars a barrel, up 4.02 US dollars before easing back to settle 3.64 US dollars higher at 99.62 US dollars. It remains below the inflation-adjusted high of 101.70 US dollars hit in April 1980, a year after the Iranian revolution.

London Brent crude rose 3.99 US dollars to 97.84 US dollars. "Oil could rise further from here. It's simple supply-and-demand fundamentals," said Kris Voor-Fortis in Brussels.

The White House said it would not open up the nation's emergency crude oil reserve to lower prices. Two members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries said the cartel was powerless to bring the market down from its lofty height.

Crude prices jumped 58 per cent in 2007, the biggest annual gain this decade. Oil prices have nearly tripled since 2000 — driven by rising demand in China and other developing countries, tight stockpiles and geopolitical turmoil.

Vietnam's farm export surges last year

HANOI, 3 Jan—Vietnam earned 12.6 billion US dollars from exporting agricultural products in 2007, up 20 per cent over 2006, according to local newspaper Vietnam Economic Times on Wednesday.

Last year, the country gained nearly 3.8 billion dollars from exporting seafood, over 2.3 billion dollars from woodwork, 1.8 billion dollars from coffee, roughly 1.5 billion dollars from rice, over 1.4 billion dollars from rubber, 300 million dollars from pepper, and 130 million dollars from tea, and nearly 1.4 billion dollars from some other farm produces.

Vietnam has eyed farm export turnovers of 13.5 billion dollars in 2008. To this end, the country will intensify production of rice, cash crops, seafood, woodwork, pork and beef.

This year, Vietnam is expected to produce 36.5 million tons of paddy rice, five million tons of maize, roughly 4.2 million tons of meat, 282,000 tons of fresh milk, and nine million tons of animal feeds, according to the country's Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development. Vietnam, home to 83,000 farms, harvested 35.8 million tons of paddy rice from nearly 7.4 million hectares of paddy fields, and 4.3 million tons of maize from 1.1 million hectares last year. — MNA/Xinhua

Indonesia export up 13% in first 11 months

JAKARTA, 3 Jan—Indonesia's export in the first eleven months this year increased by 13.04 per cent to 103.07 billion US dollars compared to the same period last year, a National Statistic Bureau official said on Wednesday. Ali Rosidi told a Press conference that the rise was mainly contributed by the increase of the export of non-oil-and-gas products, which surged by 16.22 per cent to 83.53 billion US dollars.

The United States, followed by Japan and Singapore, was the most designated country for the export of Indonesia's non-oil-and-gas products in November.

At the same time, the country's import rose by 20.45 per cent to 67.57 billion US dollars, contributed by a 24.93-per cent import increase of non-oil-and-gas products and a 10.64-per cent one of oil-and-gas products, said Rosidi. — MNA/Xinhua

Patriotic blood Inherited from forefathers
Any difficulty or danger
We dare face
Undaunted we go straight
And that's our courage

* Revitalizing patriotism
With so much emotions Morale so strong
And blood so red Independence we regained Victory a result of unity Between people and Tatmadaw

* Independence we restored Through united struggles People and Tatmadaw made Dangers far and near
And lots of plots
Against independence
We warded off in unity Zeal and pride we have What to beware of today are Plots neocolonialists hatching anew
And destructive schemes Be aware of always Maintain dignity of race
With patriotism and resolve
We vow to remain in unity
For nation ever
All for Myanmar to prosper

Afghan police seize 400 kilos of heroin

KABUL, 3 Jan— Afghan police in eastern Nangarhar Province have foiled an attempted smuggling of 400 kilos of heroin, the Interior Ministry said Wednesday.

“In the war on drug, police in Nangarhar Province captured 400 kilos of heroin, 36 kilos of Ammonium Chloride and 24 kilos of opium poppy during routine checking on Tuesday and detained one person in this regard,” the ministry said in a statement issued on Wednesday.

Afghanistan tops poppy growing nations in the world with an estimated output of 8,200 tons of opium poppy in 2007.

New drug found better at suppressing hepatitis B Virus

HONG KONG, 3 Jan—
Two international studies of a new drug, telbivudine, have produced potentially good news for hepatitis B patients, showing that it suppresses the virus that damages the liver faster and better than other treatments. Chronically infected people are at high risk of death from cirrhosis of the liver and liver cancer, diseases that kill about one million people a year, the World Health Organization says.

Reducing the amount of hepatitis B virus in the blood is critical to limiting the adverse effects of chronic hepatitis B, which affects at least 360 million people and is the 10th leading cause of death worldwide.

“(The drug) would actually hopefully help to decrease the number of people who are already suffering from hepatitis B from dying from the disease,” said Professor CL Lai, chair of hepatology at the University of Hong Kong medical school.

Hepatitis B is preventable by vaccination, but 25-40 per cent of people suffering from chronic infection eventually die of liver cancer or cirrhosis, which is scarring of the liver, Lai said.

Symptoms of hepatitis B, such as jaundice, fatigue, abdominal pain, loss of appetite, nausea and joint pain might not surface in 30 per cent of all cases, and they are less common in children.

Teenage smokers risk abnormal brain development

LONDON, 3 Jan—Nicotine may cause the teenage brain to develop abnormally, resulting in changes to the structure of white matter—the neural tissue through which signals are relayed, a study shows. Teenagers who smoke, or whose mothers
smoked during pregnancy, are also more likely to suffer from auditory attention deficits, meaning they find it harder to concentrate on what is being said when other things are happening at the same time, the study by US researchers published Thursday in New Scientist said.

The American researchers reported in the latest issue of the science magazine that they used diffusion tensor imaging, which measures how water diffuses through brain tissue, to study the brains of 33 teenagers whose mothers had

smoked during pregnancy.
Twenty-five of the teens were daily smokers. The researchers also studied 34 teens whose mothers had not smoked, of whom 14 were daily smokers.

The researchers found that both prenatal and adolescent exposure to tobacco smoke were associated with changes in white matter in brain pathways that relay signals to the ear and the changes were greatest in teenagers who smoked, suggesting the brain is particularly vulnerable to the effects of nicotine during adolescence, when many neural pathways are maturing.

Vietnam eyes five mln foreign visitors this year

HANOI, 3 Jan—Vietnam plans to host 4.8-5 million international arrivals this year, rising 14.3-19 per cent against last year, a local tourism body told Xinhua on Wednesday. In 2007, Vietnam welcomed more than 4.2 million foreign visitors, of whom 61.6 per cent came to the country for tourism, over 15.9 per cent for business, 14.2 per cent for visiting relatives, and 8.2 per cent for other purposes, said the Tourism Promotion Department under the Vietnam National Administration of Tourism.

China was Vietnam's biggest tourism market last year with 574 600 Chinese people visiting Vietnam, followed by South Korea with 475,400, Japan with 418,300 and the United States with 408,300.— MNA/Xinhua

How cells digest protein could trigger Parkinson's

BEIJING, 3 Jan—A short circuit in how cells digest and recycle damaged proteins could trigger the symptoms of Parkinson's, US researchers said in a finding that could lead to new treatments for the incurable disease.

The team focused on a process called autophagy in which cells digest and recycle damaged molecules, including proteins, that develop as cells grow older. This system essentially renews cells to keep them functioning properly.

This mechanism is also important for nerve cells in the brain where defective proteins can kill cells and cause the debilitating symptoms of Parkinson's, such as tremors, said Ana Maria Cuervo, a cell biologist who led the study.

“We have found in Parkinson's there are problems in removing abnormal proteins,” said Cuervo of the Albert Einstein College of Medicine of Yeshiva University.

The finding could lead to drugs to treat the symptoms but not cure the disease, which affects more than a million patients in the United States alone and is Newcastle's Barton granted bail with conditions

LONDON, 4 Jan — Newcastle United and England midfielder Joey Barton was granted bail on Thursday but with strict conditions and ordered to reappear in court on January 16.

The decision by Liverpool's Crown Court came hours after a lower court had refused the player bail saying he was likely to "commit offences" if he were released from prison. Television pictures showed Barton leaving prison late on Thursday before being escorted into a car and driven away.

Barton, 25, was arrested along with his 19-year-old brother and a 27-year-old woman in the early hours of December 27 following an incident outside a McDonald's restaurant in the centre of Liverpool.

All three were charged with assault and affray. The other two accused have already been granted bail.

Nigeria's U-20 women team qualify for group stage of '08

LAGOS, 3 Jan — Without kicking the ball, the Nigerian U-20 female team has booked a place in the group stage of the African qualifiers ahead of the Chile 2008 FIFA U-20 Women World Cup, local media reported Wednesday.

The team, which is being handled by coach Daniel Evumena, picked the ticket at the expense of Congo, which has just announced its withdrawal from the race. Nigeria and Congo were scheduled to play the first leg of their preliminary round on January 12 at the Abuja Stadium.

Coach Evumena hinted that the Nigeria Football Association (NFA) was informed of Congo's withdrawal by the Confederation of African Football (CAF) on Monday, and that the message has been communicated to the players. With Congo's withdrawal from the preliminary stage, the Falcons will now wait for the winner of the match between Cameroon and Benin Republic for the group stage, which begins in April.

"We have been told that Congo has withdrawn from the race. So, we have to prepare for the winner of the game between Cameroon and Benin Republic for the group stage in April," Evumena said, adding that the team's focus has shifted to the group stage.— MNA/Reuters

GOLD COAST, 3 Jan — Amelie Mauresmo continued her preparations for this month's Australian Open with a 6-3, 6-4 win over fellow Frenchwoman Nathalie Dechy to reach the last eight of the Australian Hardcourt Championships on Wednesday.

The former world number one, playing in her first tournament since October after suffering a shoulder injury, was too strong for Dechy throughout as the sixth seed set up a quarterfinal clash with Patty Schnyder of Switzerland. Fourth seed Schnyder, the champion in 1999 and 2005, recovered from a slow start to beat Italian Francesca Schiavone 2-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Czech Vaidisova will now play China's Li Na after she ended the run of Australian wildcard Monique Adamczak 6-3, 6-2.

Teargas, water cannon used against Kenya protesters

NAIROBI, 4 Jan — Kenyan police used teargas and water cannon against several hundred anti-government protesters chanting “Peace” as they sat down on a Nairobi highway, blocking a major roundabout, a Reuters witness said.

“We are all Kenyans, there’s no difference between us,” shouted one protester.

About 100 riot police faced the crowd on a day when the opposition has called for a million-strong rally against President Mwai Kibaki’s disputed re-election.

The protesters, who had marched from the vast Kibera slum to about a mile from Nairobi’s city centre, wore white scarves, waved twigs and leaves — symbols of peace — and sang Kenya’s national anthem.

“May we dwell in unity, peace and liberty. Let peace be found within our borders,” they sang, in the anthem’s words.
