Panasonic unveils world's largest plasma television

LAS VEGAS, NEVADA, 8 Jan—Japanese electronics titan Panasonic unveiled the world's largest plasma television on Monday at the opening of the world's biggest consumer electronics trade show.

The Viera brand high-definition television called "Life Screen" measures 150 inches, or some 12.5 feet (381 centimetres) diagonally.

"This stunning display allows you to display the elephant in the room in all its glory," Panasonic AVC Networks Company president Toshihiro Sakamoto quipped while showing it off during an opening speech at the Consumer Electronics Show.

"This gives new meaning to reality television. Can you imagine watching the Olympics on this baby?"

Panasonic crafted the colossal creation for digital theatres and other businesses, but expects it to "make its way into some luxury homes."

Provide health care to servicemen and the people

The Graduation Parade of the 5th Intake of Defence Services Institute of Nursing and Paramedical Science took place at the parade ground of the Defence Services Medical Academy in Yangon the other day.

Deputy Commander-in-Chief of Defence Services Commander-in-Chief (Army) Vice-Senior General Maung Aye in his speech said, “Living up to the motto, ‘Competent and helpful members of the Medical Corps’, you comrades should also provide health care to the people while playing a role in fulfilling the national defence duty through your professional knowledge and expertise. Wherever you are assigned duties, you should care for the local population as if they were your own parents”.

The Defence Services Institute of Nursing and Paramedical Science conducts courses of Bachelor of Science in Nursing, Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy, diagnosis, radiology and physiotherapy. Furthermore, it prescribes military training and training in military leadership at the platoon commander level.

The graduates have studied advanced nursing and paramedical science and undergone military training. So, they will soon take charge of military duties and paramedical science duties in the Defence Services Medical Corps.

Nursing is indispensable in the health sector. It is such a demanding duty that only those who possess a noble heart, strong compassion and sympathy, keen goodwill, resilience in the face of hardship and selflessness can carry out.

The cadets possess physical and mental prowess and are competent and helpful members of the Medical Corps. So, they will be able to preserve the fine traditions of the Tatmadaw, while devoting themselves to health care service for servicemen and the people.

Egypt reiterates rejecting US aid with conditions

CAIRO, 7 Jan — Egyptian Foreign Minister Ahmed Abul Gheit on Saturday reiterated Egypt's stance rejecting any preconditions being attached to extending assistance to Egypt, the Egyptian Foreign Ministry said.

Abul Gheit made the remarks during his meeting with visiting US Democrat Congressman Steve Israel, which tackled on efforts for maintaining stability in the Middle East and assisting all parties concerned to achieve peace and development, as well as the issue of US assistance to Egypt, Egyptian Foreign Ministry spokesman Hossam Zaki said in a statement.

The Egyptian top

diplomat noted that Egypt refuses any foreign dictations that would affect its decisions, visions or its way of dealing with external and internal developments, Zaki added.

The US Congress recently approved to hold back 100 million US dollars in aid to Egypt, the second largest recipient of US aid in the Middle East, behind Israel.

Abul Gheit said earlier that Israel and some pro-Israel US Congressmen are behind the aid issue, warning that Egypt could use its diplomatic influence against those who seek to harm its interests and relations with the United States.

Iran says US failing in Middle East

TEHERAN, 7 Jan — Iran accused the United States on Sunday of interfering in the Middle East after President George W Bush said he would press allies to help keep Iran's "aggressive ambitions" in check during a regional trip this week.

"The aim of these repeated trips is to compensate for the failed policies of America in the region," Iranian Foreign Ministry spokesman Mohammad Ali Hosseini told a news conference.

He said Washington, which is leading efforts to isolate the Islamic Republic over its disputed nuclear ambitions, was "interfering in the relations of countries in the region" but that Iran had nevertheless boosted ties with its neighbours.

"America has not been successful in isolating Iran," he said. "We are witnessing the expansion of Iran's relations with different countries."

Bush will travel to Israel and the Palestinian West Bank as he tries to help the two sides reach a peace agreement. But he will focus on Iran when he visits five regional allies — Kuwait, Egypt, Saudi Arabia, United Arab Emirates and Bahrain.

Iranian President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad last month became the first president from non-Arab Shiite Iran to attend a summit of Gulf Arab states, which worry that Teheran might one day use nuclear arms to dominate the region.

Israeli strike on central Gaza kills two women

GAZA, 7 Jan—Two Palestinian women were killed and eight civilians wounded in an Israeli shelling on a house east of al-Bureij refugee camp in central Gaza Strip on Sunday afternoon, medics and witnesses said.

The witnesses said it was hard to determine what hit the house, adding that an Israeli helicopter fired a missile while a tank fired a shell. Medics at al-Aqsa Hospital said that two women were killed and eight others wounded as they were in the house, adding that Palestinian ambulances had hardly managed to take the casualties out. Witnesses said that intensive gun-battle erupted since early morning between Israeli soldiers and Palestinian militants, noting that several Israeli Army tanks and armoured vehicles rolled to east of the refugee camp. — MNA/Xinhua

Malaysia, India to step up defence cooperation

KUALA LUMPUR, 8 Jan—Malaysia and India agreed on Monday to step up defence cooperation, including training of Air Force pilots and submarine personnel, defence ministers from both sides said. Keeping pace with its new economic powerhouse image, India's military, the world's fourth largest, is fostering closer ties with Southeast Asian allies. "Both sides will enhance defence exchanges at various levels, promote cooperation in training, in strategic and security studies," Indian Defence Minister AK Anthony said after talks with his Malaysian counterpart, Najib Razak.

Najib said they did not discuss the issue of ethnic Indians, who staged an unprecedented protest in November to complain of racial discrimination.

Bhutto bears responsibility for her death

WASHINGTON, 7 Jan—Pakistan President Pervez Musharraf conceded that a gunman may have shot Benazir Bhutto but said the opposition leader exposed herself to danger and bore responsibility for her death, CBS News said on Saturday.

Musharraf was also quoted as telling the CBS “60 Minutes” programme to be broadcast on Sunday that his government did everything it could to provide security for Bhutto, who was killed last week in a gun and suicide-bomb attack after a political rally.

“For standing up outside the car, I think it was she to blame alone. Nobody else. Responsibility is hers,” Musharraf said in the interview taped on Saturday morning.

Pakistan’s Government has said Bhutto died when she struck her head on a handle on her vehicle’s sunroof — a contention widely derided in Pakistan where many people suspect Musharraf’s Government of complicity. The government has also blamed al-Qaeda for the attack.

Musharraf was asked by CBS, which provided excerpts of the interview, whether a gunshot could have caused Bhutto’s head injury. He replied, “Yes, yes”. —MNA/Reuters

Iran confirms expulsion of German diplomat

TEHERAN, 7 Jan — Iran has expelled a German diplomat for “non-diplomatic activities”, the Iranian Foreign Ministry said on Sunday, in what may be retaliation for the expulsion of an Iranian diplomat from Germany in July.

Foreign Ministry spokesman Mohammad Ali Hosseini confirmed a German news agency report that a German diplomat had been ordered to leave Iran.

Berlin said only that a diplomat had left Teheran.

“Those in charge recognized that non-diplomatic activities are being undertaken and announced that this diplomat should leave the soil of the Islamic Republic of Iran,” Hosseini told a news conference.

Hosseini gave no further details and did not make clear if it was the diplomat who was responsible for the “non-diplomatic activities”.

The German Embassy in Teheran referred all queries to the Foreign Ministry in Berlin.

The Hamburg-based weekly Der Spiegel reported in December that an Iranian official was forced to leave Germany last summer after he tried to acquire components for Teheran’s disputed nuclear programme.

German news agency DPA reported on Saturday that a German diplomat had had to leave Teheran and it was thought this was a result of the expulsion of the Iranian official from Germany.

Japan, US, EU eye new energy-saving body

TOKYO, 7 Jan—Japan, the United States and the European Union will jointly propose the creation of a new body to act as an international command centre in efforts to counter global warming, a leading Japanese daily said on Sunday.

The proposal would be formally unveiled at a Group of Eight summit on the Japanese island of Hokkaido in July, the Yomiuri newspaper said without quoting specific sources.

The new organization would make suggestions on energy conservation measures for countries such as the G-8 leading industrialized nations and members of the International Energy Agency, as well as China and India, the newspaper said. The aim was to transfer developed countries' knowledge of energy conservation to other large energy consumers and to study their effectiveness, Yomiuri said.

The body would create indicators for conservation related to the amount of fuel or energy used by cars, home appliances and the industrial sector, and use the data as the basis for its policy suggestions, Yomiuri said.

The idea of joint funding by Japan, the United States and the European Union was being discussed, as well as the possibility of setting up the new body within the International Energy Agency in Paris, Yomiuri said.

The new organization would be discussed at a preparatory meeting of G-8 energy ministers on 22-23 January, and at another ministerial gathering in Japan in June, the report said.

187 nations, organizations to join Shanghai World Expo

KUNMING, 7 Jan—A total of 187 countries and international organizations have confirmed their participation at the Shanghai World Expo in 2010, organizers said here on Sunday.

The number has already set a record in the World Expo history, surpassing the previous record held by Hanover, Germany, in 2000, said Zhu Yonglei, deputy director of the Bureau of Shanghai World Expo Coordination.

"Shanghai will strive to get confirmation from 200 countries or international organizations by the end of 2008," said Zhu.

The city has just started to organize domestic participants. On 2 January, Hong Kong SAR Government submitted its theme statement, an official document to confirm the theme of its pavilion to the Bureau of Shanghai World Expo Coordination.

Currently, four major permanent buildings of the Expo, including the China National Pavilion, have all started construction.

Shanghai unveiled its mascot for the Expo last month. The mascot is named Haibao, literally means "treasure of the world". The blue smiling cartoon figure has curly hair and is in the shape of Chinese character REN, or human beings.

The expo, which runs 1 May to 31 October, 2010, was expected to draw 70 million visitors, an average of 400,000 a day.

Gazprom targets Nigerian gas reserves

LAGOS, 7 Jan—Russia's gas export monopoly Gazprom is in talks with Nigeria to spend up to 2.5 billion US dollars on developing its vast natural gas reserves, a senior Nigerian gas official said on Saturday.

The Russian company is on a global hunt for new reserves and has emerged as one of the leading suitors to Africa's top energy producer as it reforms its gas sector.

"Gazprom has come twice to visit the federal government. They want to invest in Nigeria in gas exploitation, gathering and processing," a senior Nigerian Government official working on gas policy told Reuters.

Gazprom has offered to invest between one billion US dollars and 2.5 billion US dollars to begin with, he added. A Gazprom spokesman was not immediately available to comment.

Nigeria is the world's eighth-biggest exporter of crude oil but even though it has the seventh-largest proven gas reserves in the world it has not developed its gas industry to anywhere near full potential.

Investors say the lack of a stable fiscal framework and market pricing for gas means that most investment ideas in the sector are uneconomic.

PM says Britain faces test in "dangerous" eco times

LONDON, 7 Jan—Britain faces a testing time with the world economy in a "difficult and dangerous situation", Prime Minister Gordon Brown said, promising not to shirk unpopular, long-term decisions to ensure stability. In an interview with Sunday newspaper The Observer, Brown said 2008 was a "decisive" year for his government, with tough choices to be made on infrastructure, transport and nuclear power.

Brown, six months into his premiership after succeeding Tony Blair, is trailing the opposition Conservative Party in polls following a string of setbacks late last year. Brown does not have to call an election until 2010.

"This is the year when we will make and implement all the major long-term decisions that are going to safeguard and equip Britain properly for the future," Brown told The Observer in the interview published late on Saturday.

China constructs railway linking special eco zones

SHENZHEN, 7 Jan — China began building a railway linking China’s two economic zones, the Xiamen Economic Zone in Fujian Province and Shenzhen Economic Zone in Guangdong Province. The railway starts from Xiamen, a port city facing Taiwan, and runs 502.4 kilometres southwest along the coast to Shenzhen, a booming city bordering Hong Kong. Upon its completion in 2011, the railway will allow trains to travel at a speed of 200 kilometres per hour, and a journey between the two cities will take about three hours compared with current 11 hours. The rail link is designed to transport 12 million tons of cargo a year and accommodate 120 pairs of trains per day. The 41.7-billion-yuan (5.6-billion-US-dollar) project will be co-funded by the Ministry of Railways, and the Fujian and Guangdong provincial governments. The new line will be another important section of China’s coastal railway artery. Currently, two railway lines, one links Wenzhou of Zhejiang Province with Fuzhou, capital of Fujian, and the other links Fuzhou and Xiamen, are under construction. MNA/Xinhua

Zambia awards Kuwait’s IPG 1.4 m tons of oil deal

LUSAKA, 7 Jan—Zambia has awarded a 1.2-billion-US-dollar two-year oil supply contract to Kuwait’s International Petroleum Group (IPG), a senior energy official said on Saturday. Energy and water development permanent secretary Peter Mumba said IPG had been selected ahead of four other international firms, including Russia’s Lukoil. “IPG has been awarded (a contract) for supply of 1,440,000 metric tonnes of crude oil over a period of two years and the first batch of 90,000 tonnes will arrive on or before 9 February,” Mumba told Reuters in an interview. Mumba said IPG would supply 16 shipments of 90,000 tons of crude oil to the mineral-rich southern African country, which has recently faced serious fuel shortages. “The cost of this crude oil will tentatively be 1.2 billion US dollars and it may go up or come down depending on the prices on the international market and our hope is that the prices will begin to come down,” Mumba said.—MNA/Reuters

Chavez says PDVSA to create food subsidiary

CARACAS, 7 Jan — Venezuelan state oil company PDVSA is creating a subsidiary to produce and distribute food in the OPEC nation, President Hugo Chavez said on Sunday, following months of shortages of basic food products. After a stinging December poll defeat, Chavez has promised to resolve the nagging shortages of groceries like beef, eggs and milk that have sparked long lines in recent months — a problem business blame on government price controls. During his weekly Sunday broadcast, Chavez said the subsidiary, called PDVAL, will be a “new instrument for nutritional sovereignty”. “They are going to belong to PDVSA, soon the PDVALs will start appearing, to produce and distribute food,” he said. PDVSA is the principal financier of Chavez’s self-styled socialist revolution, dedicating 13 billion US dollars to social projects in 2006 — which critics say has harmed the oil industry of the fourth-largest exporter of oil to the United States. MNA/Reuters

Pakistan says will not let foreign troops on its soil

ISLAMABAD, 8 Jan— Pakistan will not allow any country to conduct military operations on its territory, officials said on Monday, rejecting a report that said the United States was considering authorizing its forces to act in Pakistan.

The New York Times said on Sunday the US Government was considering expanding the authority of the CIA and the military to conduct far more aggressive covert operations in Pakistan.

The US officials considering the move were concerned over intelligence reports that al-Qaeda and the Taliban were more intent on destabilizing Pakistan, the newspaper said.

Pakistani government and military officials dismissed the report and said Pakistan would not permit any such action.

“Pakistan’s position in the war on terror has been very clear — that any action on Pakistani soil will be taken only by Pakistani forces and Pakistani security agencies,” said Foreign Ministry spokesman Mohammad Sadiq.

“No other country will be allowed to carry out operations in Pakistan. This has been conveyed at the highest level,” he said.

Military spokesman Major-General Waheed Arshad rejected the report as baseless, saying no US military operations, overt or covert, were allowed.

Two US “F/A-18s” crash in Gulf

MANAMA, 8 Jan— The US Navy’s Fifth Fleet said two F/A-18 fighter aircraft crashed during operations in the Gulf on Monday, but there were no fatalities.

“Teams from USS Harry S Truman (CVN 75) rescued all three aviators after two F/A-18 Super Hornets crashed during operations in the Arabian Gulf January 7,” it said in a statement. “The cause of the accident is under investigation.”

The Bahrain-based Fifth Fleet said the planes’ crews were back aboard the aircraft carrier, and were reported in good physical condition after ejecting.

The aircraft were providing close air support from Iraq when they crashed, it said. The aircraft were part of the strike group of the nuclear aircraft carrier, which is in the region as part of a routine presence of US warships in the Gulf, it said.

The Pentagon said

earlier on Monday that five Iranian boats made aggressive manoeuvres and showed hostile intent towards three US Navy ships at the weekend in the Strait of Hormuz, a major oil shipping route in the Gulf.

The Pentagon said the incident was serious but the Iranian Foreign Ministry described the incident as ordinary.

Stolen money returned to the owner

YANGON, 8 Jan—The money stolen from Cyber City computer shop on Theinbyu Road in Kan/Taung Ward, Mingala Taungnyunt Township, here, was handed over to the owner at the township police station on 6 January.

On 5 December 2007, the owner of Cyber City computer shop filed a lawsuit at Mingala Taungnyunt Police Station, claiming that the shop was burgled and US$ 36,000, 1000 FEC, and K 8 million were stolen. Police Inspector Myint Thaung and members of the Yangon Division Police Force Office conducted investigation into the case, and seized Aung Kyaw Htet (a) Aung Thu (a) Baw Seit, 14, on 22 December, Taw Thar Lay (a) Naing Min Aung, 15, on 27 December, and Taw Thar Gyi (a) Zaw Htet (a) Gadon, 15, on 28 December.

According to their confession, they met at Paywetseikgon station at about 3 pm on a day (they did not remember) in December 2007. They then went by train to Pazundaung station and observed the shop and surrounding areas. At that time, it was too early to get into the shop, so they slept in the nearby monastery and on the trees. At 3 pm the following day, they burgled the shop. They found the rare wooden door of the shop unlocked, so they could get into it easily. The three pulled open the inner wooden doors. Then, they opened the drawers with the use of a screw driver and stole the money.

Head of East District Police Force Police Lt-Col Kyaw Aye returned the money recovered from the three culprits to Manager of the shop U Aung Thura.

Death toll rises to 40 in S Korea warehouse fire

SEOUL, 8 Jan — The death toll from a fire that ripped through a warehouse under construction outside of Seoul has risen to 40, officials said on Tuesday, with most of the victims overcome by toxic fumes.

The fire in Icheon, about 60 kilometres (40 miles) southeast of the South Korean capital, started on Monday and triggered several explosions.

Fire officials said most of the victims were construction workers trapped inside the basement of the refrigerated goods facility who could not escape a toxic cloud of gas that came from burning insulation material.

The exact cause is not yet known but local media said authorities were investigating whether gas caught fire in a basement engine room at the warehouse, starting the blaze.

Ten workers were taken to hospital and another seven escaped without major injuries, fire officials said. More than 600 fire fighters and police were dispatched to the scene.

The fire is the deadliest in South Korea since a blaze in the subway system of Daegu, 250 kilometres southeast of Seoul, killed nearly 200 people in 2003.

Expressway accident kills 10, injures 50 in Guangdong

GUANGZHOU, 8 Jan — Ten people died instantly and about 50 others were injured when a speeding bus hit a tanker truck, then another bus on an expressway in the southern province of Guangdong early on Monday, the local government said.

The speeding bus, en route from Shenzhen to Nanning in the neighbouring Guangxi Zhuang Autonomous Region, rear-ended the truck at around 1:00 a.m. on an expressway in the coastal city of Zhanjiang, traffic police there said.

The bus then veered across the median of the expressway and crashed into an oncoming bus that was en route from Nanning to Zhuhai.

Police said the injured passengers were being treated at several hospitals.

Authorities have yet to identify the dead.

Nepal to host micro-finance world summit in February

KATHMANDU, 7 Jan—Nepal is set to host a world summit on micro-finance next month as the country continues its long battle to expand and consolidate the service delivery institutions, The Himalayan Times reported on Saturday.

According to the daily, the three-day conference, the first of its kind and themed Reaching the Poorest of the Poor for Sustainable Income, kicks off in Kathmandu on 14 February.

The summit is intended to facilitate a broad dialogue and create a common understanding among the stakeholders, including policymakers and politicians to make micro-finance a priority issue in the national development strategy, according to the organizers.

Some 300 participants—policy makers, practitioners, rural development, micro-finance development and commercial banks, and cooperatives and representatives from non-governmental organizations from around the world are expected to attend the summit, organizers said.

The stakeholders will discuss their experiences and jointly decide on the future of micro-finance in Nepal, they said. — MNA/Xinhua

Floods kill six in central Mozambique

MAPUTO, 7 Jan—Floods in central Mozambique have killed six people, driven thousands from their homes and forced others to seek refuge in trees and on rooftops, a senior official said on Sunday.

The head of Mozambique’s national relief agency INGC, Paulo Zucula, said the flooding caused by torrential rains had cut major transport links to neighbouring countries. “So far six people drowned and 5,000 others have been evacuated from rooftops and trees and a potential 60,000 could be driven away from their homes in the next few days, three towns ... are under water”, he told Reuters in an interview.

“The government met two days ago and declared the red alert.”

The flooding had started on Wednesday, he said. Waters had reached a depth of six metres (18 feet) and were not expected to subside any time soon.

Main roads to Zimbabwe, Malawi and Zambia have been cut in five places. Trucks carrying goods destined for the landlocked countries have formed long queues.

Zucula said flooding was posing dangers to some people who refuse to leave affected areas.

Tourist arrivals to Three Gorges Dam hits record high in '07

YICHANG, 7 Jan—China’s Three Gorges Dam attracted a record high of 1.25 million tourist arrivals last year, a year-on-year increase of 6 per cent, according to tourism developers.

The dam received 310,000 foreign tourists in 2007, up 35 per cent from 2006, said Xu Ting, a marketing clerk with the Yangtze River Three Gorges Tourism Development Co, Ltd. 2007 was also the third consecutive year for the dam to host more than one million tourists, according to Xu.

The dam area will see more tourists this year thanks to the great national events of the basic completion of the Three Gorges Project within the year and the Olympic Games in August, Xu added.

The company launched chartered flight business in May last year in cooperation with travel agencies in Hong Kong and Taiwan to develop the market in these areas.

The Three Gorges Airport was approved in November to open to overseas passengers, making it possible for foreign tourists to fly directly to Yichang, Hubei Province where the dam is located, on international or region lines. The 22.5-billion-US-dollar Three Gorges hydropower project was launched in 1993 in the mid-section of the Yangtze River, China’s longest. Its 26 turbo-generators are designed to eventually produce 84.7 billion kilowatts hour of electricity a year after its scheduled completion in 2008. — MNA/Xinhua

Vitamin D deficiency doubles heart disease risk

BEIJING, 8 Jan— Moderate vitamin D deficiency nearly doubles the risk of myocardial infarction, stroke and heart failure over a mean of 5.4 years in patients with high blood pressure, according to media reports Tuesday quoting Harvard researchers.

Researchers led by Dr Thomas Wang of Harvard Medical School in Boston followed 1,739 people, average age 59, for 5 years.

The people in this study were offspring of original participants in the long-running Framingham Heart Study centred in Massachusetts, and had no prior history of cardiovascular disease.

Wang and colleagues wanted to know whether vitamin D levels in the Framingham offspring from the 1996-2001 exams were correlated with the rate of first cardiovascular events occurring later.

Research indicated that those with low vitamin D levels had about a 60 percent higher risk of a cardiovascular event like heart attack, heart failure or stroke compared to those with higher levels, even with well-known cardiovascular risk factors such as diabetes, high cholesterol and high blood pressure taken into account. The risk for heart attack, heart failure or stroke was double in people with both high blood pressure, also known as hypertension, and vitamin D deficiency, the researchers said.

California on flood watch after powerful storms

LOS ANGELES, 7 Jan — California, where more than 100,000 homes remained without power on Sunday after powerful storms, could still face flooding and mudslides in some areas through Monday, according to weather officials.

The US National Weather Service said flood watches were in effect through early Monday for Southern California and the central coast, particularly in areas hit last year by wildfires.

"The hillsides are so saturated in the burn areas, that even if we don't see as much rain, it could cause mudslides and flooding," said Carol Singleton, a spokeswoman for the California Governor's Office of Emergency Services.

Singleton said more than 100,000 Northern California homes remained without power one day after nearly three million people experienced power disruptions statewide due to powerful storms that battered three Western states. "Certainly the storm has wound down for the Sierra Nevada (Mountains) and the focus has now shifted to Southern California," said US National Weather Service spokeswoman Jane Hollingsworth. —MNA/Reuters

Dokic victory creates Open dilemma

HOBART (Tasmania), 8 Jan — Former world number four Jelena Dokic won her first competitive match on the WTA tour in almost three years when she beat Germany's Martina Mueller 6-4, 0-6, 6-2 in the first round of the Hobart International on Monday.

The victory, however, has created a dilemma for the 24-year-old, who was not given a wildcard for next week's Australian Open by organizers.

The wildcard qualifying tournament for the season-opening grand slam begins in Melbourne on Thursday and if Dokic continues her winning form in Hobart, the Australian must decide whether or not to abandon the Tasmanian event or head to Melbourne Park.

Dokic, who beat two players in the world's top-100 in qualifying for the Hobart tournament and was impressive in her victory against the 54th-ranked Mueller, said she would not make a decision on the rest of the week until after her second round match against Italy's Flavia Penetta.

Tired Nadal routed by Youzhny in Chennai final

CHENNAI (India), 8 Jan — Exhausted world number two Rafael Nadal suffered a setback before this month's Australian Open after he was thrashed 6-0, 6-1 by Mikhail Youzhny in the Chennai Open final on Sunday.

The Spaniard looked stiff from the start against fourth seed Youzhny, clearly showing the effect of his marathon four-hour semifinal win over compatriot Carlos Moya the previous day.

Nadal called for medical attention trailing 4-1 in the second set and then went through the motions as Youzhny completed his fourth career title win with ease, disappointing a large holiday crowd cheering the Spaniard.

Defoe wants to stay at Spurs

LONDON, 8 Jan — England striker Jermain Defoe wants to remain at Tottenham Hotspur despite being told by manager Juande Ramos he can quit the English Premier League club.

"The manager has said I can leave if I want but I want to prove him wrong," Defoe told the Sun newspaper on Tuesday. "I want to stay here. "He (Ramos) just said, 'You can leave if you want to'. Yet I have no intentions of leaving this club because I love it here."

The 25-year-old Defoe, one of four top strikers at Spurs including Robbie Keane, Dimitar Berbatov and Darren Bent, has been unable to claim a regular place in the starting lineup in the last year and a half.

The former West Ham United forward said he could not sign a new, long-term contract with the club unless Ramos started playing him regularly. — MNA/Reuters

Swede Chopra seals playoff victory at Kapalua

KAPALUA (Hawaii), 8 Jan — Swede Daniel Chopra held his nerve in fading light to beat American Steve Stricker in a playoff for the PGA Tour's season-opening Mercedes-Benz Championship on Sunday.

The Stockholm native birdied the fourth extra hole at Kapalua Resort's Plantation Course to earn the winner's cheque for 1.1 million US dollars and his second Tour title.

Both players missed birdie opportunities from around six feet at the first playoff hole before Chopra sealed victory with a two-putt birdie at the par-five ninth, his eagle attempt having come to rest on the edge of the cup.

It was the seventh playoff in the last 14 years at the event which brings together the title-holders from the previous Tour season.

The pair had completed the 72 regulation holes in 18-under-par 274 on a sun-kissed day on the Hawaiian island of Maui, Chopra carding a 66 and Stricker finishing birdie-birdie-par-birdie for a 64.

"It was unbelievable," a beaming Chopra told reporters after delivering a master class with his putter to book his place at the Masters for the first time. —MNA/Reuters

Everton admit defeat in Pienaar affair

LONDON, 8 Jan — Everton have criticized the South African Football Association (SAFA) and world governing body FIFA after being told midfielder Steven Pienaar must report for international duty immediately.

The Premier League club had hoped that Pienaar would be allowed to play in their League Cup semi-final first leg against Chelsea on Tuesday before joining up with South Africa for the African Nations Cup in Ghana. Everton had argued that they did not need to release the player until after Tuesday's match as his country's first game in the tournament against Angola was not until 23 January.

However, FIFA confirmed on Monday that the SAFA were within their rights to demand Pienaar's release as the 14-day rule for international players related to the tournament's opening game on January 20 between hosts Ghana and Guinea.

Thai policeman charged with killing Canadian

BANGKOK, 8 Jan — A Thai police sergeant was charged on Monday with killing a Canadian and attempting to kill the man’s pregnant ex-wife during an argument between the tourists in the northern tourist town of Pai, the local police chief said.

Sergeant Uthai Dechawiwat was allowed to walk free during the investigation because he turned himself in after what he said was an accident and promised not to tamper with witnesses, Pai police chief Wanchai Suwanrikasaid.

Wanchai quoted witnesses as saying Uthai, who had just finished his shift, was asked to stop a fight between John Leo Del Pinto, 25, and his ex-wife Carly Reisig, 24, on Saturday night.

But the man, 1.8 metres (5 feet 11 inches) tall, and his ex-wife turned on the 5 feet 3 inches policeman, who pulled out his pistol when they started beating him, they were quoted as saying.

“The policeman, who is about 1.6 metres, was beaten to the ground by the man, a bodybuilder 1.8-metre tall, and the hippy woman,” Wanchai said.

Del Pinto tried to snatch the pistol, shots were fired and the couple fell, according to witnesses, Wanchai added.

Del Pinto, a frequent visitor to Pai, died at the scene. Reisig was being treated in a hospital in nearby province of Chiang Mai and her wounds were not life threatening, Wanchai said.

Police and Canadian consular officials would interview Reisig, who was pregnant by a Thai man, Wanchai said.

McDonalds bomber escapes from Indonesian prison

JAKARTA, 8 Jan — An Islamic militant serving 19 years for his role in the bombing of a McDonald’s restaurant has escaped from a prison on Indonesia’s Sulawesi Island, a prison official said on Monday.

Wirahadi, 25, fled the Gunung Sari prison in Makassar, South Sulawesi Province, with a fellow inmate during busy visiting hours on Sunday morning by climbing over a barbed wired wall, prison chief Bambang Yudotomo told Reuters.

The Indonesian was sentenced to 19 years in prison for his role in a 2002 blast at a McDonald’s fast food outlet in Makassar in which three people were killed.

Fellow escaper Marcus Valyhuwae was serving a 15-year sentence for murder.

“It was crowded that day, many visitors came to see the prisoners,” said Yudotomo, “We didn’t have enough guards. There were only 13 people on duty, whereas there are 511 inmates. This incident is (a result of) our carelessness.

Minister looks into forest reserves in states and divisions

YANGON, 8 Jan — Minister for Forestry Brig-Gen Thein Aung looked into thriving 300 acres of teak plantations established in 2004, 800 acres of teak plantations established in 2005 and 50 acres of hard wood (Yinma) plantations grown in 2007 at Bago Yoma Greening Project in Kinmontaung forest reserve on 5 January.

At the briefing hall, officers of the Township Forest Department and Deputy Director U Kyi Soe briefed the minister on conservation of forest reserves and thriving plantations. After hearing the reports, the minister gave necessary instructions. The following day the minister and officials concerned inspected 500 acres of teak plantation started in 2004 in Thuyetan forest reserve of Padaung Township. Next, the minister and party oversaw 33 acres of teak plantation established in 1974 in Yankhaw forest reserve in Taungup.

At the office of Taungup Forest Department, Staff Officer U Soe Than and Director U Than Myint briefed the minister and party on conservation of forest reserves and the establishment of forest plantations.

Upon arrival at No 99 Saw Mill in Taungup, the minister inspected sawn timber, running of the saw mill and Moat timber jetty. The next day the minister and party held a meeting with service personnel of Myanma Timber Enterprise and Forest Department at the office of the Deputy General Manager in Thandwe and discussed matters relating to the realization of the aims of the departments concerned.

Next, they looked into No 68 Saw Mill, 50 acres of teak plantation established in 1969, 50 acres in 1970 and 45 acres in 1971 in Thandwe model forest reserve. Afterwards, they inspected No 85 Saw Mill, Daungchaug Station on Yekyi-Ngathaingchaung-Gwa road, the forest plantation station in Gwa and made cash donations to Thittaw Village Basic Education Primary School.

After that, the minister and party oversaw 10 acres of different kinds of wood (mahogany) established in 2007 and Malarkwin timber jetty in Yekyi Township.—MNA
